HANDSOME RESIDENCE DESTROYED IN BELTON

Home of Mrs. J. J. Kelley, Together With Contents, Burned Early Yesterday Morning.

Special to The Intelligencer BELTON, Nov. 2. (Special)—This morning at 7 o'clock the whole town was thrown into excitement when the fire alarm was sounded. Citizens ran out of their residences in every section of the town, all eager to locate the fire. The location of the fire was easy. When the alarm was given the handsome residence of Mrs. J. J. Kelly near the trolley depot was almost burned to the ground. Firemen, ladies and children, in droves rushed to the scene only in time to see the residence of the noble widowed lady burned to ashes. The family was at breakfast, and were not aware that the roof from over their heads was rapidly being burned to the ground, when a passer-by saw the flames and gave the alarm. Mrs. Kelly and children did well to get out of the house unharmed. Nothing was saved—only the clothes the family had on. The firemen arrived and put up a brave fight, but could not save the residence. Had it not been for the heroic work of the firemen the two houses near Mrs. Kelly's residence would have been destroyed. These residences were occupied by Mrs. Sutherland and D. K. Hardin. At one time very little hope was held out for the residences and almost everything in each house was removed, but by hard work these residences were saved—though much damage was done by the water.

Mrs. Kelly's loss is very heavy, only partially covered by insurance, $8,200 on the house and contents, about half the loss. Among the articles lost was a fine piano. This is the second or third loss Mrs. Kelly has sustained from fire in the past two years. The fire is supposed to have caught from one of the chimneys.

Despondency Due to Indigestion. It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried every thing that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.

Kiss Your Coal Stove Goodbye!

The gas stove has the coal stove beaten a million ways.

No wood to chop, no coal to carry, no ashes to take up, carry out, and sift, leaving a trail of dirt and dust from the stove all the way out to the ash pit.

No fire to coax and coddle. No excess heat. No waste.

Gas is a guarantee of the right kind of a fire instantly for any purpose whatever; and it's more economical, too.

HON. J. THOS. HEFLIN One of the South's Most Brilliant Orators Who Comes to Anderson Monday, Nov. 9.

Congressman Heflin Speaks Here Monday

Anderson people will be absolutely delighted when they learn that the Hon. J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama, a member of Congress from the fifth district of his State, will come to Anderson next Monday and deliver an address here. There is no better known public speaker in the South than Congressman Heflin and he is well known in Anderson by reputation, although this will be the first opportunity that local people have ever had to hear the distinguished speaker.

"The South When Knighthood was in Flower" will be Mr. Heflin's subject and the address will be delivered in the Frazier Fitting School auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. In his State Mr. Heflin filled out the unexpired term of Charles W. Thompson and since that time has served two full terms in the lower national house. He is famed over the United States for his oratory and his ability is recognized in every part of the Union. He ranks well up with any of the other Southern members of the House.

Dr. Frazer of the Frazier Fitting School and Congressman Heflin were school mates and have always been intimate friends and this alone made it possible for Anderson to secure the distinguished speaker for a night.

The seat sale for the appearance of Mr. Heflin here will go on within the next few days and that the auditorium will be taxed to its capacity is a foregone conclusion.

Society MRS. W. A. HUDGENS, Editor Phone 37.

Mrs. R. E. Ligon has been spending the past week in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Gambrell and Miss Ann Gambrell spent Sunday with relatives in Greenville.

Mrs. Frank Cunningham of Greenville is the guest of Mrs. J. G. Cunningham. Mr. Cunningham came over for Sunday, returning to Greenville yesterday.

Mrs. J. P. Trowbridge has returned from a week's stay with relatives in Piedmont.

Friends here have received the following announcement cards: "Mr. Wright Denly Caughman announces the marriage of his daughter, Stella, to Mr. John Harris Burns, Jr., on Wednesday, October 28, 1914, Lykesland, S. C. At home after November 10th, Pendleton, S. C."

Mrs. T. E. Howard received a telegram yesterday calling her to Kirksey, Greenwood county, on account of the death of her aunt, Mrs. S. Pierce Mathews. The funeral will be held there this morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Baldwin are moving this week into their pretty new home in North Anderson. It is of the Dutch colonial type with every modern convenience, an ideal little home. The house on Greenville street now occupied by the Baldwins, has been taken by Mr. and Mrs. G. T. McGregor.

Another delightful Halloween party for the little folks was the one on Saturday afternoon, given by little Miss Elizabeth Webb, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Webb at her home on West Market street.

It was the little hostess's ninth birthday, and right happily did they all help her celebrate it. In accord with the Halloween idea the house had been beautifully decorated, a color scheme of yellow and black being most effectively used. Witches and black cats adorned the walls and tables with weird looking Jack o' lanterns everywhere. The children entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion and it was a very happy event for the little folks present. A delicious sweet course was served.

The Missionary society of St. John's Methodist church will hold a prayer meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Mrs. Will Broyles on Webb street.

An Announcement Party. A surprise party, that was a surprise party all round, was the one given on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Fred. Bolt and Mrs. Ira Bolt at the home of the former, just west of the city in honor of Miss Beulah McClure. The house had been beautifully decorated in autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. Everywhere were pictures of black cats, witches and Jack o' lanterns, suggestive of the Halloween season. Just after the guests arrived they were given an interesting little flower contest, that was the source of lots of fun and merriment. Mrs. Yeargin of Sandy Spring having the most correct paper, was presented with a lovely hand embroidered pin cushion. Just here a messenger boy, Master Billie Bolt, came in with a telegram for Mrs. George Eagle, who read aloud the announcement of the engagement of Miss Beulah McClure to Mr. John Patrick O'Neal, the wedding to take place December 16. This news was received with sincerest interest and hearty good wishes by the many friends of Miss McClure, who having suspected her secret planned one in return. Little Misses Bonnie Lee McClure and Mil-fred Bolt, dressed as two washwomen, entered carrying their basket of washing between them and presented it to the bride-elect. On investigation it was found to contain a beautiful assortment of dainty pieces of linen, the gifts of her friends. A dainty sweet course was served ending a most delightful and pleasant occasion.
