The main thing for a man to do is to correct an injury done one, if unwittingly done, and especially if attention be called to the wrong in question.

Because they talked back to President Wilson, the negro delegation left sadder but wiser men. It is evident that none of these negroes ever picked cotton "befo de wah."

Lander girls wearing cotton dresses at their graduation seems to have been received as good news everywhere. Of course the girls of this State can do as their grandmothers did, and if necessary wear the "homespun dress."

OUR DAILY POEM

Today.

Sure this world is full of trouble; I ain't said it ain't. Lord, I've had enough and double reason for complaint.

What's the use of always weepin', Makin' trouble last? What's the use of always keepin' Thinkin' of the past? Each must have his tribulation—Water with his wine.

It's today that I'm a-livin', Not a month ago. Havin' losin' takin', givin'. As time wills it so.

COLUMBIA'S LIQUOR FIGHT

Columbia is just now in the throes of a campaign to close up the places where liquor is being sold illegally. This is very hopeful, and we trust the good people of our capital city will succeed in making of the city a place as clean as any city in the country.

We have no doubt, from what we hear, that it is a much harder task to make Columbia clean than it was for Anderson. In that city there has been unbridled license for years, and if reports are to be believed the tiger was as open and flagrant in the violation of the liquor laws as it is possible for any violation to be anywhere.

This is true in Anderson as well as in Columbia, and the liquor sold in the so-called gentlemen's clubs is sold just as illegally as if sold in a dive on a back street to which entrance is gained through a back alley.

We do not charge them with it, but the newspapers in the capitol city which has so bitterly and persistently fought the dispensary law, till they have created a prejudice against it and in favor of licensed barrooms, may feel that they have had a hand in creating sentiment which has practically overthrown the legal sale of liquor in the capitol city.

APPRECIATES THE INTELLIGENCER

The Intelligencer is constantly in receipt of communications from persons desiring to keep in touch with conditions in Anderson and the county, feeling that in no other way can they keep properly posted as to what is being done in the best county in South Carolina.

A reminder of an appropriate Thanksgiving remembrance; a year's subscription to the Daily Intelligencer.

BRING MAIL EARLIER.

Mention was made yesterday of the poor mail service given the people of Anderson on account of the schedules on the incoming trains. It occurs to the Intelligencer that if the early morning train from Greenville over the Piedmont and Northern lines were made a mail train, and the Anderson mail transferred there instead of going to Seneca, that the bulk of the mail at least could be advanced materially.

ALSO CITY ATTORNEY

The attention of the editor was called yesterday to what might be taken as an intentional omission in the remarks concerning the questions asked of the present City Attorney, G. Cullen Sullivan, Esq. The Intelligencer desired him to answer these questions because he, perhaps, is in a position to answer them as well, if not better, than anyone else in the city.

CAUSE FOR THANKS

Has it occurred to the readers of The Intelligencer that Anderson has much to be thankful for in the matter of railroad facilities these days. Why, compared with what used to be, the people of the city should feel like patting themselves all the time on the great improvement that has been made. Soon there will be completed one of the most up-to-date passenger stations for the Blue Ridge in this part of the State, and to follow a little later will be one for the Charleston and Western Carolina. Then the Piedmont and Northern will doubtless follow with an improved passenger station, and with the splendid schedules maintained on all these roads, the people of the city and county can travel as never before.

THE FAIR SPIRIT

The great success of the Mountain Creek Community fair held yesterday at the school of this name was to be expected. It shows conclusively that the people of this county have the fair spirit, and that something should be done to catch it while the enthusiasm remains. The resolution adopted by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, endorsing a county fair movement is to be commended. By all means let us have a great big fair next fall. Now is the time to begin to plan for it, and let everyone get busy on it.

EXTERMINATE WHITE GRUBS.

These Pests Are Likely to Cause Untold Losses Next Year. [Prepared by United States department of agriculture.]

The destructive May beetles, or so called June bugs, as was previously predicted by the United States department of agriculture, were extremely abundant the past spring in northeastern Iowa, southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois, parts of Minnesota, the southern part of Michigan and northern Ohio; also in northeastern Pennsylvania, southeastern New York, parts of Connecticut and New Jersey.

The beetles lay their eggs in land covered with vegetation at the time of their flight (May and June); consequently land in small grain, timothy and such crops which cover the ground as well as land overgrown with weeds at that time, are most likely to be infested the following year. It is also noticeable that ground nearest timber will be heaviest infested, other conditions being equal, since the parent beetles feed on tree foliage and do not fly great distances if they can find suitable places to lay their eggs near by.

Fields likely to be infested with grubs should be thoroughly plowed between Sept. 15 and Oct. 10. The date of plowing will depend on latitude, and the weather conditions for the grubs go down as cold weather approaches, and it is desirable to plow the fields just before they go down when possible. If the grubs are abundant, hogs should be allowed to run in the field wherever this can be done. Chickens and turkeys are also valuable aids if allowed the run of newly plowed ground. If it is impracticable to make use of hogs to rid the infested fields of grubs a deep and thorough disking should follow the plowing, and in 1915 only crops least susceptible to injury, such as small grains, buckwheat, clover, vetch, etc., should be planted, and by no means should susceptible crops, such as corn, timothy and potatoes, be planted. While fall plowing should be practiced and is of great value for destroying grubs, nevertheless it cannot be depended upon solely to eradicate grubs. Cornfields which were kept cultivated and free from an undergrowth of weeds in May and June of 1914 may, with reasonable safety, be planted to corn or potatoes in 1915, although it is advisable to inspect the field first for grubs.

Proper precautions and planning of rotations for next year at this time will save many thousands of dollars in crops which otherwise would almost certainly be destroyed by the grubs.

Stranger Works to Him.

The hostess asked the solid man of her guest list to take a talkative young woman in to dinner. The girl did her best to keep up the conversation, ranging from Wall street to the crops and back. Only once did the solid man desert the unflinching affirmative, and that was when she asked, "Do you like Beethoven's works?" "Never visited them," he replied. "What does he manufacture?"—Argonaut.

With the ever increasing "price" (not scarcity of) land it becomes more difficult for a laboring man to buy and own his home and corresponding by he and his are less free, and less valuable to themselves and their State, and they sink lower in civilization, and are worth just as much less to "business" and the community, in proportion to their loss individuality.

CHEDDAR NEWS.

While playing in the blacksmith shop at Cheddar, Lowell, the little four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kelly, came very near having a serious accident when a small piece of iron struck his eye, almost destroying eyesight. He was carried to Anderson where he received medical attention, and is now doing nicely.

Mrs. J. B. Ellison and Mrs. Thomas McGregory have been on the sick list for the last week.

Miss Mary Copeland left Monday for Belton where she has accepted a position at Hodges store.

Miss Lucy Kelly spent Tuesday night in Belton with her mother.

Fobbie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. A. Mahaffey was quite ill for a few days last week.

Mrs. Rose Garrison visited relatives in Piedmont last week.

For several weeks we have been reading of the movement in Anderson to wipe out the evil of the liquor trade, and we have also followed closely the articles in the Intelligencer in which our editor so fearlessly and courageously made the stand for right, regardless of what the consequences might be, or how far public opinion would uphold him. No one can help admiring such a spirit and the people of Anderson county should be proud of the fact that at the head of her leading newspaper stands a man of this type.

When the Germans were seen approaching the Allies' lines the French and British craft ascended to meet them. For some time the airships circled about each other while machine guns ineffectually scattered bullets among them. Then suddenly the four allied aeroplanes made a swift dash toward their own trenches. The Germans, following them, discovered the feat too late. Shrapnel began to burst about them and in a few minutes they crashed to earth.

Elected Chief of Staff Of United States Army

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Brigadier General Hugh L. Scott was selected by President Wilson today to be chief of staff of the United States Army upon the retirement next Monday of Major General Wetherpoon. The vacancy of major general created by General Wetherpoon's retirement will be filled by the nomination of Brigadier General Frederick F. Funston, now in command at Vera Cruz.

Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss will become chief of the mobile army division, and upon the retirement of Major General Murray on April 29, 1915, General Scott will be appointed a major general.

so will become major general.

Mr. Garrison's statement added: "The next three vacancies in the rank of brigadier general are due as follows: First to the infantry; second to the cavalry; third to the coast artillery. Upon the occurrence of these vacancies, the following colonels will be promoted to fill the same: Henry A. Green, infantry; William A. Mann, infantry; Frederick S. Strong, coast artillery."

General Scott, who became assistant chief of staff when General Wetherpoon succeeded General Wood as chief graduated from the military academy in 1875. He has spent most of his military life in the cavalry branch. More closely than any officer of his rank in the army he has been identified with the Indians and semi-civilized wards of the government.

The atmosphere of capable, friendly cheerfulness would inform you that you were in Evans' if you were brought here blindfolded.

Most of us here have been together for quite a while—and no doubt that has something to do with it.

Thrilling Encounter Between Aeroplanes

PARIS, Nov. 13.—(4.40 p. m.)—A thrilling encounter between four German and two French and two British aeroplanes has occurred near Ypres. The German machines finally destroyed by artillery and their eight officers killed.

For some time the airships circled about each other while machine guns ineffectually scattered bullets among them. Then suddenly the four allied aeroplanes made a swift dash toward their own trenches. The Germans, following them, discovered the feat too late. Fine Chance

Several Anderson Boys Will Probably Participate in Examination for Annapolis.

It is probable that several Anderson county boys will go to Columbia on November 27 to stand the examination which will be held there on that date for the vacant scholarship from the State at large to the United States Naval Academy.

The competitive examination for appointment by Senator E. D. Smith to the vacancy at large in the United States Naval academy will be held in Columbia, Friday, November 27, in room 4, Davis college, on the campus of the University of South Carolina. The contest is open to all young men of the State who can qualify under the academy regulations as to age and physical condition. One must be between the ages of 16 and 20 years, and must bring to the examination a physicians certificate of health.

The examination will test such knowledge as may be expected of a student who has completed the course in a good high school. The subjects are: Arithmetic, algebra, through quadratics; plane geometry, three books; English grammar, including parsing and analysis; composition and literature; spelling, geography of the United States and of the world; United States history and world's history to date.

E. D. Easterling and Henry C. Davis of the university faculty will conduct the examination. Candidates will assemble promptly at 3 45 a. m. on the day appointed. Work will begin at 9 o'clock and continue until 5, with an hour's intermission from 1 to 2 o'clock.

Upon request further information will be furnished by Superintendent J. F. Swearingen, of the State department of education.

Best Cough Medicine for Children. "Three years ago when I was living in Pittsburg one of my children had a hard cold and coughed dreadfully. Upon the advice of a druggist I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it benefited him at once. I find it the best cough medicine for children because it is pleasant to take. They do not object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Tuck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. Sold by all dealers.

The sweetest word in all the world just now is peace.

Good News!

Germans Were Jubilant Over Announcement That United States Would Ship Cotton Soon.

Martini Eligman received a post card yesterday from his mother in Berlin, Germany, in which the information was contained that the Germans went wild with delight when announcement was made that President Wilson had succeeded in closing negotiations by which cotton might be sent from the United States to Germany.

The post card said that Germany needs cotton more than it does money or food and that their elation is easily understood. The card received in Anderson yesterday was written in Berlin on October 15.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for Croup.

Croup scares you. The loud hoarse croupy cough, choking and gasping for breath, labored breathing, call for immediate relief. The very first doses of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will master the croup. It cuts the thick mucus, clears away the phlegm and opens up and eases the air passages. Harold Berg, Mass., Mich., writes "We give Foley's Honey and Tar to our children for croup and it always acts quickly." Every user is a friend. Evans Pharmacy.
