NO LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Central Committee Met Last Night and Adopted Set of Resolutions.

Following a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night of the committee composed of representatives from the various Baraca and Bible classes of the city appointed to investigate the question of organizing a law and order league, the following self-explanatory statement, which is in the nature of resolutions adopted by the committee, was given out for publication.

Whereas, at a meeting of a general committee of the various men's Bible classes of the city which was held at St. John's church on Nov. 16, 1914, and

Whereas, as a result of an open and free discussion at such meeting the chairman presiding at that meeting appointed a special committee for the purpose of duly deliberating, reporting and making recommendations to the various Sunday school classes, and

Whereas, this committee after careful and free discussion and deliberation has decided upon the following course, therefore,

Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that the time and conditions in this city do not seem to demand the organization of a law and order league.

Second: That this committee desires to commend to the various classes and organizations which have shown active interest in the recent crusade against all forms of evil in our city that they will individually hold themselves in readiness to give prompt and faithful attention to any matters which any of the aforesaid officials or organizations may from time to time wish to bring before them, and to support and cooperate with them in every way possible.

A Beautiful Wedding at Lowndesville.

A wedding of unusual interest to a large number of relatives and friends was that of Miss Ida Allen and Mr. Russel S. Garner, both of Lowndesville. The ceremony took place at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday, November 25, at the Baptist church. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being green and white. The entire pulpit and choir loft were covered with white, on which ivy was tastefully arranged. Graceful ferns on improvised white stands added to the beauty of the decorations. The lights, suspended from the ceiling and tastefully decorated with green crepe paper shades, cast a subdued light upon the scene, rendering it more effective.

Mrs. O. L. Martin of Anderson, becomingly dressed in green, draped with black silk marquisette, played the wedding march. Promptly at 3:30 o'clock the ushers, Messrs. Rembert G. and B. Ernest Allen of Lowndesville, Messrs. J. Bruce Harper of Anderson, and R. C. Smith of Greenville, entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. Then came the bridesmaids, Miss Fay Masters of Anderson and Miss Annie Brown of Kingsburg. Next came the groom, Mr. Russel S. Garner, and the bride, Miss Ida Allen, both of Lowndesville. The bridesmaids and groom wore cream French serge Redingotes with plaited mesaline skirts, and black picture hats. Each carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums and asparagus ferns. The next to enter were little Miss Martha Cook, the flower girl, who carried a basket of pink chrysanthemums and ferns, and Master Walter Huckabee, who carried the ring on a small silver tray, both of them dressed becomingly in white. The bride, wearing a handsome blue broadcloth suit and black hat, carried a lovely bouquet of white chrysanthemums and asparagus ferns, entered with the maid of honor, Miss Mary Bates of Greenville. Miss Bates was gowned in exquisite salmon pink satin chryseum draped with cream lace, with a becoming picture hat and carried pink chrysanthemums and ferns. The bride was met at the altar by the groom, Mr. T. B. Holcombe of Lydia. The entire party formed a pleasing picture. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Bishop, pastor of the Lydia and groom. The ring ceremony was used while Schubert's Serenade was softly played.

The bride and groom left immediately for a short trip to southern cities, after which they will be at home to their friends in Lowndesville. The bride, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Boline Allen, is a young lady of lovely disposition and numbers her friends by the score. Miss Allen was a member of the class of 1913 at G. F. C. and all of her attendants were her college mates. The groom is a young business man of sterling worth. The many elegant presents of china, silver and cut glass attest the popularity of the young couple. Among the present was a handsome bed room suite, the gift of the bride's parents.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. D. S. Watson, Miss Ida Watson, Miss Etelle Watson, Miss Lois Watson, Mr. and Mrs. B. Berry Allen, Mrs. W. G. Watson, Mrs. Minnie Milford, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fulwar Watson, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Vandiver, Mrs. R. E. Burris, Mr. Kyle Shirley, Mrs. J. C. Lomax, Mrs. O. L. Martin, Miss Fay Masters, and Mr. Edward Lee Hutchins and Mr. Bruce Harper, all of Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Aull, Mrs. R. B. Day, Pendleton; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. McCalla, Mr. and Mrs. Feaster Jones, of Starr; Mrs. Clarence Linden, of Hartwell, Ga.; Miss Mary Betts and Mr. R. C. Smith, of Greenville; Miss Annie Brown, of Kingsburg, and Mr. T. B. Holcombe, of Lydia.

Bridal Party Entertained. The bride entertained the bridal party at a five course turkey dinner at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. The reception hall was tastefully decorated with red chrysanthemums and ferns. The color scheme carried out in the parlor was yellow, chrysanthemums and pot plants being used in profusion. The dining room was lovely in pink and white. In the center of the table was a large mirror upon which rested a candelabra filled with candles shaded with pink. Pink candles in tall brass candlesticks were placed at the corner of the table diagonally opposite from each other. Covers were laid for twelve upon pretty crocheted mats, and the dainty place cards were pink and white. Ferns and blooming plants were used in profusion. Noticeable among the decorations were some gilded candle moulds, an heirloom more than one hundred years old.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Vandiver entertained Mrs. J. W. Crymes and Dr. Alexander of Williamston and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Horton of Abbeville at an elegant dining on Thanksgiving day.

Despondency Due to Indigestion. It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried every thing that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine." For sale by all dealers.

Area of War Around the Black Sea and in Asia.

The war has moved near the Orient with the advent of Turkey, and battles between Russia and Turkey have been fought on the border of Persia, which is not a long distance from India. The Russians crossed the Caucasus mountains shortly after the Turkish began the bombardment of Russian cities on the Black sea coast, and within a few days had invaded Armenia. A Russian force attacked the Turks near Ardost and the Turks fled, according to the Russian foreign office. Once in Armenia the Russians dislodged the Turk at the village of Id, sixty miles west of Kars. After a hard fight they took Khosrasan and Karadont. Later they took Diyadin with many prisoners and some munitions of war. After that they entered Baid, the capital of one of the provinces. At this time the cruisers Goeben and Breslau, said to have been sold to the Turks by the German government, are in the Black sea. Already Mossa and Theodosia have been attacked. The strength of the Russian Black sea fleet is not known. Should it drive out the Turks it will begin the bombardment of fortifications at Constantinople. In fact, so confident have the Russians become that they have renamed their navy the Black sea fleet. At the Dardanelles a British French fleet is bombarding the fortifications. It is not known how strong they are and how long they will hold out. The Turks have given it out that these forces were able to withstand any naval attack, but the statement is doubted.
