New York Cotton

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The cotton market was irregular and unsettled today. Lower Liverpool cables and the circulation of December notices estimated at about 3,000 bales, were followed by an opening decline of 8 points on December while other months were unchanged to about 5 points lower. There was considerable Liverpool buying of the near position as well as some scattered covering and a moderate investment demand for October which sent prices some 4 to 7 points net higher. Around 7.37 for December, however, there was renewed liquidation and that position eased off to 7.20, or 10 points net lower, with later deliveries selling some 4 to 7 points under Saturday's close. There was enough demand to check the decline at this level and last prices showed slight rallies on covering with the close steady at a net loss of 1 to 6 points. Three private crop estimates were issued with a New Orleans authority placing the yield at 15,750,000 bales, a Memphis estimate of 14,988,000, and an estimate by members of the Memphis cotton exchange of 15,529,999 bales on the average linters being excluded in all three figures.

Spot cotton quiet; middling upland 7.65; Gulf 7.90; no sales. Cotton futures closed steady.

Table with columns for month and price. Dec (old) 7.24, Jan (old) 7.22, Jan (new) 7.35, March (old) 7.48, March (new) 7.48, May (old) 7.64, May (new) 7.79.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—The cotton market assumed a waiting attitude today. As the government's annual estimate of the yield and the next census report are only a few days away, many traders held off. The net result of the day's trading was a rise of 4 points to a decline of 6 points. At the high of the day the market stood 7 to 10 points over Saturday's close. Last prices were within a point or two of the lowest.

A local crop estimate of 15,750,000 bales, net including linters, was considered bearish but big crop talk had little influence on prices. Offerings were slender in the early trading and a small demand served to put the market higher. In the afternoon selling increased to a limited extent on reports of freer offerings at spots in the interior, although spot markets generally held steady.

Spot cotton quiet; sales on the spot 125 bales; to arrive 3,500. Cotton futures closing: December (old) 7.10; January (old) 7.24; January (new) 7.24; March (old) 7.30; March (new) 7.39; May (old) 7.47; May (new) 7.56; July (old) 7.73.

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 30.—Cotton, spot, quiet; prices easier; American middling 5.38; good middling 4.70; middling 4.41; low middling 3.87; good ordinary 3.18; ordinary 2.78. Sales 6,000 bales, including 5,900 American and 500 for speculation and export. Receipts 25,526 bales, including 24,308 American.

Futures closed quiet. May and June 4.16-1.8; July and August 4.22-1.2; October and November 4.31; January and February 4.37.

Cotton Seed Oil

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—After selling down with the decline in hard the cotton seed oil market became steadier on the pronounced strength in crude, final prices being 5 points lower for December and 2 lower to 3 higher for the balance.

The market closed steady. Spot $5.85@6.10; December $5.85@5.89; January $6.08@6.09; February $6.17@6.21; March $6.29@6.30; April $6.38@6.45; May $6.49@6.50; June $6.59@6.63; July $6.69@6.75. Total sales 17,900.

Cotton Movement

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—The fact that this port got nearly half of total receipts of cotton at all United States ports today caused predictions among traders here of a materially increased export movement here during December. Receipts here were 25,427 bales, while receipts at all ports were 59,286 bales.

Foreign exports from all ports for the day were 28,289 bales, while coastwise shipments were 21,991 bales, making total shipments of 50,280. This was one of the few days of the season thus far that shipments at ports exceeded receipts.

Foreign exports thus far this season now amount to 1,313,825 bales. At the present rate the two million mark will be exceeded by the end of December. At present prices this means that the South will have shipped to foreign countries cotton worth approximately $75,000,000.

Dry Goods

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Cotton goods markets were quiet today. Prices were irregular. Yarns were easy. Raw goods were quiet and steady. Dress goods were quiet with light backings on the finer grades reported for spring.

Stocks and Bonds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The first full session of dealings in bonds on the stock exchange under the limitations fixed by the authorities passed off today without untoward incident. Trading suggested extreme caution at all times but the movement was broader than on Saturday.

About eighty issues changed hands, with a marked preponderance of substantial declines, the losses in some issues extending to as much as 7 points in inactive bonds. A few gains of nominal proportions were registered.

In its chief essentials the trend of the market was accepted as natural. There was no concerted movement to sell. Mercantile Marine bonds, which started off with a slight recovery from last Saturday's spectacular decline, soon fell back on what appeared to be speculative selling.

Regular quotations for call and time loans were resumed on the exchange. The opening rate for call money was 5 per cent, but the abundant supply soon caused a fall to 4-1/4, closing at 4-1/2. Time loans up to six months were negotiated at 4-1/2 per cent, and a number of 5 per cent contracts expiring tomorrow were renewed on the first named basis. Some foreign sales were submitted to the committee in charge of offerings and it was understood that they were approved. Total sales of the session amounted to $1,358,000, par value, which was considerably under the normal.

Issues which sustained the greatest losses included Northern Pacific 3s, Southern Pacific refundings, Westinghouse Electric 6s, Central Pacific 4s, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway 6s, Kansas City Southern 5s, Chicago & Alton 3-1/2s, Oregon Short Line 6s, East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia 5s, Central of New Jersey 5s, Southern Pacific terminal 4s, Georgia Central 5s and Lorillard 7s.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—What took a sudden upward swing today largely because of an unexpected big decrease in the United States visible supply total. Closing prices were strong at 7-8 to 11-8@11-1/4 net advance. Corn finished 1-4 off to 1-3 up, oats unchanged to 1-4 higher, and provisions varying from the same as Saturday night to 20 cents decline.

Laughter Aids Digestion.

Laughter is a most healthful emotion; it is one of the greatest helps to digestion with which I am acquainted; and the custom prevalent among our forefathers, of exciting it at table by jesters and buffoons, was founded on true medical principles.—Hufeland.

Line Shower For Miss Cann. Several pretty entertainments have been given for the bride of this week, Miss Una Cann, and one of the prettiest was a linen shower given by Miss Ella May Tribble. Miss Cann will be married on Thursday, December 3, to Mr. Merrell Lowe.

Miss Tribble invited about 20 young ladies to her pretty home on Greenville street and a very delightful and charming afternoon was spent. An interesting contest was the source of much merriment, the prize being won by Miss Lydia Bewley. The pretty bride-to-be was then invited into another room to inspect her "wash-line" and here was a beautiful collection of dainty linen articles, the gifts of her girl friends. Afterward, the attractive hostess, assisted by Misses Nelle Barton, Eunice Gleason, Willie Cann and Eva Tribble, served a dainty salad course.
