FOUND

FOUND—A watch... Owner apply to Southern Public Utilities Shop, describe the watch, pay for it and it will be returned. 12-6-1tp.

MISCELLANEOUS

FOUND—The fire of Mr. Geisberg's house, Franklin St., we were deeply grieved by many of the best citizens in the city who burn shingles. The fire was out of control and the shingles kept the fire in check until the firemen arrived. If the roof had been wood, it would have burned completely up and most likely Mr. Geisberg's house. Don't put it out any longer, let us recover your house and save insurance. Insurance Companies have increased insurance on wood shingles 20 per cent and decreased on our metal shingles 20 per cent. There is a reason for this. John T. Burris & Son—12-3-12.

It's a pretty safe bet that the young fellow won't take on to the Bryan his very fast.

Strange, but we never hear anything from the Rev. Sam Crook since the "Baptist" struck him.

Wonder if Brother DePoe is on that committee appointed to investigate Columbia square meals.

COMMON PLEAS COURT CONVENES TOMORROW

JUDGE R. W. MEMMINGER OF CHARLESTON WILL BE ON THE BENCH

With Judge R. Withers Memminger of Charleston presiding, the regular winter term of the Court of Common Pleas for Anderson county will be convened tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Jurors for the two weeks term of court have been drawn by the commissioners, and the bar association has arranged a roster of cases for trial. Improvements which are underway in the court house have progressed to the point where the court room has been cleared and there will be no interruptions of the work.

It is probable that the first week and a half of the term will be taken up with jury trials, the balance of the session being devoted to the hearing of matters in equity.

Score Cards in School Contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Vandiver's Child Seriously Ill.

The score cards of the six Anderson county schools which are competing in the State School Improvement Association contest have been filled out by Miss Maggie M. Garlington, county supervisor of rural schools, and forwarded to the proper authorities in Columbia. Those schools in this county which are taking part in the contest are: Williford, Barkers Creek, High Point, Lebanon, Ridgeway and Hammond. December 10 is the last day on which score cards can be sent in, so it is presumed that the result of the contest will be announced soon after that date. Last year several schools in this county captured prizes, and it is not improbable that a few will be captured this year.

Doll Sale Was

A Great Success.

The doll sale conducted by the young ladies of the Junior Philathea class of the First Baptist church on Friday and Saturday was a decided success, according to an announcement made yesterday by one of the young ladies interested in the matter. The "bride," the handsome doll in the collection and which was the prize for the one getting the most trading stamps, was awarded to Mrs. Walter Dobbins. The young ladies sold some 50 or more dolls. The proceeds of the sale will be used for charitable purposes.

Weather Has Been

Band on Business.

Merchants generally over the city were complaining yesterday of serious effect which the inclement weather had on business throughout the week. The merchants bore their losses without grumbling, hoping that it would clear off by Saturday and business would be brisk enough on that day to make up for the losses of the preceding days. However, when Saturday dawned raw and colder than any of the other days of the week they could not help giving vent to their feelings. There were comparatively few people in the city yesterday from the country and merchants generally reported poor business.

This Association Is Doing Something.

There is one school improvement association in the county which is wide and accomplishing something worth while. This is the association at the Starr school. Principal M. C. Camak, who was in the city yesterday, stated that the association had on hand two bales of cotton, the lint having been donated by citizens of the community. One night last week the association gave an oyster supper and realized $16.50 from the venture. The oil mill and ginnyery at Starr has agreed to gin the two bales of cotton for the association and pay them $20 per ton for the seed.

Principal Got

Is Now Under Way.

A dealer in Christmas specialties stated yesterday that Christmas shopping is well under way, and that despite the inclement weather of the week a great many people had done considerable purchasing of gifts for the season. The bad weather of the week came in well, it would appear, for those residents of the city who wished to do their shopping early, as it gave them almost a clear road in all of the stores.
