PARAMOUNT THEATRE TO OPEN SATURDAY

WONDERFUL PICTURE OF SCENES IN EUROPEAN WAR BILLED

FOR CHARITY

Forenoon Proceeds and Half Afternoon and Night Receipts.

Preparations for the formal opening of the Paramount motion picture theatre were going on yesterday at double-quick pace, and today will see another hard day's work in putting the finishing touches on the new amusement place. Fred M. Burnett, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., who is looking after the launching of the Paramount, stated yesterday that all indications were that the theatre would be ready for the formal opening Saturday morning.

Proceeds to Charity. As has been announced, the first picture to be shown at the Paramount will be "On Belgian Battlefields," which is the only genuine motion picture of European war scenes in existence. An admission fee of 10 and 20 cents will be charged in the forenoon and a fee of 25 cents for the afternoon and evening performances. The entire proceeds of the forenoon performance and 50 per cent. of the proceeds of the afternoon and evening performances will be turned over to the local committee which is endeavoring to raise money for the Belgian relief fund.

The War Picture. Never before in the history of the world has there been taken a motion picture of an actual battle. Think what it would mean today to be able to sit in a comfortable theatre and view on the motion picture screen the campaign of the great Napoleon; the battles of the revolution, with that genius Washington in personal command of his ill-equipped troops; the great struggles of the civil war and the more recent battles of Manila bay and the attack on Santiago.

It has remained for the great European struggle, possibly the most devastating war in the world's history, to bring out the possibilities of the moving picture camera on the battlefield. All sorts of pictures have been "faked" by motion picture experts in an attempt to portray some of the principal European happenings. But so far there is a record of only one such picture being absolutely bona fide. And this is contained in the films made in Belgium by Edwin F. Weigle, staff photographer of The Chicago Tribune.

The Tribune made an agreement with the Belgian government whereby Weigle was to have the exclusive right to make such pictures on Belgian soil. Weigle returned only a few weeks ago from his campaign with the armies of the Allies, and he brought with him actual scenes from three of the biggest battles of the war, together with pictures portraying the soldiers of King Albert in the trenches, on marches and lined up for battle. These pictures have been obtained by the Paramount and will be shown here all day Saturday.

Through the arrangement between The Tribune and the Belgian government one-half of the proceeds of the film in this country are to go to the Red Cross society of Belgium, for hospital and relief work among the stricken Belgians. So, aside from the opportunity given Andersonians of viewing the first of the world's battle pictures, they will indirectly be aiding the charitable work under way in devastated Belgium.

Weigle, with Joseph Medill Patterson, noted war correspondent, was with the Belgian army in all of its campaigns up until his return to this country several weeks ago. He lived in the trenches and was on the march day and night, and with him ever was his cinematograph. He was in the top of the great tower of Antwerp when the Germans began bombarding the city, and his camera caught the actual burning of this great port, following the dropping of German shells in its midst.

He marched with the army in Alost and was in the midst of the great battle there. He was present, too, at the battle of Aerchot and Maline, and he witnessed the flooding of Liere and the destruction of Termonde. Always beside him was his camera. And having the official permission of the Belgian government to make pictures wherever he liked, he was, naturally, given every facility to get just the sort of views he wanted. And a trained newspaper man such as Weigle certainly knows what the American public wants.

When the armies were not on the march or in battle, Weigle gave his attention to the great sufferers of the war—the women and children left homeless and destitute by the great struggle. He followed them on their march to escape the onrush of German armies, while behind them was a trail of devastation such as has never been witnessed anywhere in the world's history. He saw and pictured the burning of their homes, their escape over pontoon bridges into lands where they would be momentarily safe, and he turned his camera in the direction of the invading hordes bent upon destruction. All of these scenes, horrible as they are, he faithfully pictured and brought with him to America.

Before the pictures were placed on public view in Chicago under The Tribune's direction, they were taken to Washington, D. C., and demonstrated before officials of the state department, ambassadors and ministers of foreign countries affiliated with the armies of the Allies and before the National League of Press Clubs. By everyone who saw them they were declared to be the greatest war pictures ever made. Illinois censors not only put their official "O. K." on the pictures, but commended them to the public generally as being the greatest aid in the campaign being made for universal peace. The argument has been many times advanced that the best way to promote peace—world-wide peace—is to picture the horrors of war. And surely those who see these pictures in go away more firmly convinced than ever that war and its horrors are entirely unnecessary.

Reliable Remedies

For every ache and pain is a reliable remedy. You can cure the difficulty if you only act in time and act with wisdom. A lazy, torpid, sluggish liver is, without a doubt, responsible for more aches and pains than any other thing, for to it we trace constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, etc.

knocks all these out by going right to the bottom of the difficulty—the liver—and form there strengthens the entire system. A trial proves it. 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at your druggists.

LOCAL MASONS BACK FROM GRAND LODGE

DELEGATES REACHED CITY YESTERDAY ON THE MID-DAY TRAIN

PLEASANT TRIP

The Elections and Appointment of Officers for the Ensuing Year.

Local delegates and visitors to the one hundred and thirty-eight annual communication of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient Free Masons of the district of South Carolina which was held in Charleston on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, returned to Anderson yesterday on the mid-day train.

The delegates reported a most pleasant and profitable stay in the City by the Sea. The only matter of general interest transpiring at the meeting was the decision of the Grand Lodge to leave off for the present the building of the Masonic Home. For several years, as generally known, the Masons have been accumulating a fund for the erection of a Masonic Home in some county of South Carolina. The fund now amounts to over $10,000.

The officers of the Grand Lodge, all of whom were serving, were re-elected and installed in accordance with the ritual of the order. Grand Master George T. Bryan, of Greenville, announced his appointments of incumbents to the offices which are required to be filled by that method.

Gold Watch for Mr. Mower. Past Grand Master George S. Mower Wednesday received a handsome gold watch as a token from the Grand Lodge of appreciation for his service to the order. The presentation was made by Deputy Grand Master R. A. Cooper of Laurens.

Reports of numerous committees were received Wednesday sessions. It was stated that many of the reports covered matters of much importance to the Grand Lodge.

Probably the public interest connected with the meeting was more concerned with the action taken Wednesday night when the Grand Lodge decided that a Masonic home would not be built for the present, but that all funds above the nucleus of $100,000, which may be received for the home will be devoted to caring for the indigent Masons and the widows of Masons. The interest from the $100,000 will be used in this manner.

The officers of the Grand Lodge installed Wednesday were as follows: Grand Master, George T. Bryan, of Greenville; Deputy Grand Master, R. A. Cooper, of Laurens; Senior Grand Warden, W. W. Wannamaker, of Orangeburg; Junior Grand Warden, W. A. Gyles, of Greenville; Grand Treasurer, W. H. Prioleau, of Charleston; Grand Secretary, O. F. Hart, of Columbia, and Grand Chaplain, the Rev. W. S. Smith, of Spartanburg.

The appointive officers were announced as follows: Senior Grand Deacons, J. P. Duckett, of Anderson; and C. C. Bissell, of Charleston; Grand Marshal, T. W. Dantzer, of St. Matthews; Grand Pursuivant, M. V. Miller, of Charleston; Grand Tyler, M. A. Winkler, of Charleston; Junior Grand Deacons, C. K. Chritzberg, of Rock Hill, and A. J. Thackston of Orangeburg; Grand Stewards, N. L. Bennett, of Spartanburg, and R. B. Fickling, of Blackville.

The district Deputy Grand Masters of each of the twenty districts were: W. G. Maxcy, of Charleston, first; W. M. Steinmeyer, of Beaufort; A. W. Lemon, of Barnwell; W. W. Edgerton, of Aiken; B. E. Nicholson, of Edgefield; W. K. Baker, of Greenville; T. Frank Watkins, of Anderson; E. Earle, of Townville; A. S. Rowell, of Cross Anchor; V. Smith, of Whitmire; M. H. Sandifer, of Rock Hill; J. Lindsey, of Chester; J. B. Wallace, of Camden; E. C. Hazelden, of Georgetown; T. E. Wannamaker, of Cheraw; J. C. Sellers, of Sellers; William L. Glaze, of Orangeburg; E. H. Anderson, of Tucupau; B. B. Bishop, of Inman. Wednesday night Blast Chapter No. 1, one Croix, exemplified the fifteenth degree of the Scottish Rite at the Masonic Temple. Grand Master Bryan and other Grand Lodge officers were present.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Weych's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

Mrs. B. Graves Boyd

AS TO NEW RATES ON TELEPHONE STATIONS

MANAGER BEATY ADDRESSES LETTER TO PATRONS ON SUBJECT

MAYOR WRITES

New Rates Not Effective Until Expiration of Old Contracts.

The impression which has gone abroad that on January 1 rentals on all telephone stations will be increased is erroneous, according to a letter which Resident Manager W. S. Bailey has addressed to subscribers. The increase in rentals on stations will not become effective, he states, until the annual contract for the rental of each station has expired. For example, if a station was contracted for in June of this year the increase in rates cannot be applied to that station until the end of next year. Mr. Beaty states that inasmuch as some telephones were installed as late as November of this year, it will be November of next year before the increase in rates has become effective throughout the city.

Letter to Subscribers.

The following letter has been addressed to Bell Telephone subscribers by Mr. Beaty: "The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company has completed the construction of its new telephone system in Anderson, and has in all respects complied with its agreement with the city and with the order of the railroad commission of South Carolina. A new building has been erected, a modern multiple station battery switchboard installed and wires placed underground within the central business district, giving to Anderson a telephone plant modern and efficient in every respect.

"As a condition of the company's improvement in its Anderson service, it has changed the railroad commission approved new schedule of rates to become effective when the contemplated improvements had been made. This new schedule of rates was recommended to the railroad commission by the city council of Anderson, and was agreed to in writing by a majority of the telephone subscribers in Anderson.

"On January 1st, 1915, the new schedule of rates as approved by the commission, will become effective, and this is to respectfully notify you that in accordance with the terms of the contract under which this company is furnishing you service from telephone No.—, said contract is modified as regards the rates specified therein only and that the rate per month, your bill for telephone service will in the future be rendered at the new and approved rate.

"We take this opportunity of thanking you for your patronage in the past and trust that our service will in the future prove even more valuable to you."

Letter from Mayor.

Following the inspection by city council of the new telephone plant, Manager Beaty requested a statement from the mayor as to the improvement. The following letter from the mayor is in response to that request: "It gives me pleasure to state for your information and for the information of any person concerned that the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company has exceeded our expectations in improving its plant and equipment in this city. I am informed that your handsome office building is constructed according to the very latest fireproof plans and specifications and that your inside equipment, especially your switchboard, is of the latest and best model in existence.

"I note with pleasure that the company extended its original plans in putting beneath the ground the cables in the business district, going in every direction at least one block more than was originally announced. "Your company, according to an agreement made by the former city council, was to be allowed to make all increase of 50 cents per month in the rental for each station in the city when certain proposed improvements were carried out. I am of the opinion that all plans, upon which the increase were conditions, have been carried out, and more so."

A New List of Publications.

A list of the publications of the department issued since July 1, 1913, and revised to October 1, 1914, has just been published for distribution to the public. There are two parts to the list; there being 20 pages devoted to an alphabetical list of subjects, and 8 pages listing the department bulletins by number. Those desiring this list, which will be sent without charge, should write to the editor and chief, division of publication, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.
