THE INTELLIGENCER STOCKHOLDERS MEET

ANNUAL MEETING STOCKHOLDERS OF MORNING PAPER WAS HELD IN FINE SHAPE.

Report of Business Manager Showed Affairs of Paper To Be Prosperous.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of The Anderson Intelligencer was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the chamber of commerce. Subsequently the directors held a meeting and elected officers for the ensuing year. The reports from the president and business manager were most encouraging, and showed the paper to be in splendid shape, and the showing made was fully up to the expectations of the stockholders, who expressed themselves as being pleased with what had been accomplished, and quite optimistic in the outlook for the future.

The business manager went into the history of the paper for the past year in his report. Organized as a corporation a little more than a year ago for the purpose of purchasing The Anderson Intelligencer from the owner at that time, Victor E. Chesire, it was later decided to go into the job printing business, and a job office was opened at Belton, the plant of the Belton News being purchased for this purpose. Later the job printing business of the Roper Printing Company was purchased. Finally it was decided to inaugurate a morning daily, which was done, the first issue being January 13th. All these ventures have proven successful, and today The Anderson Intelligencer is doing as large a business as any concern in similar business above Columbia.

The stockholders reelected the old board of directors, and added two new members, making the total number nine. They are as follows: M. M. Mattison, M. L. Bonham, W. W. Sullivan, Porter A. Whaley, J. S. Fowler, W. K. Hudgens, Pelzer, J. W. Rothrock. The new members are W. W. Smoak, and T. K. Roper.

The directors met after the meeting of the stockholders and reelected the officers who had served the past year, as follows: M. M. Mattison, president; J. S. Fowler, vice president; W. W. Smoak, editor and manager; T. K. Roper will remain in charge of the Anderson job department, and Claude A. Graves, editor and manager of the Belton Journal.

MR. PEARMAN ILL

Clerk of Court was Stricken Yesterday morning. Friends of Mr. James N. Pearman, clerk of court, will regret to learn that he was stricken with illness yesterday morning, shortly after the convening of court and was compelled to retire to his bed.

An Appeal from Superintendent. Dear Presidents of the W. M. S. of Saluda Ass'n: If you have not received your package of envelopes for Christmas offering, write to Mrs. J. R. Frazier, 1306 Hampton street, Columbia, S. C. Let me endeavor to make a splendid offering for though the times seem hard to us, yet we are greatly blessed.

While we are busy gathering presents for our friends and loved ones, don't forget our present to God. What a privilege and opportunity we should deem it, when we think of God's gift to us in "That He gave his only begotten son to die for us," for you and me. Let's have a liberal sacrifice for God will surely bless you.

Don't forget to send for a calendar of prayers too, only fifteen cents, and so full of good things. Who knows the result of our unfiled prayers for objects and persons mentioned on the calendar? Dear women of the societies, when the envelopes are given you, don't forget to put in your offering and return it to your society.

NEW COMEDY CO. MAKE QUITE A HIT

Gardner & Lawson Show Easily the Best Seen at the Palmetto.

A large and appreciative audience witnessed the opening bill of the Gardner and Lawson Musical Comedy Co. at the Palmetto Theatre yesterday evening. Much was expected of this company as their praises were loudly proclaimed in the papers where they have given performances. This troupe, judging from the show last evening, is entitled to all that can be said in praise of them. The performance was clean, refined, and most provoking throughout the entire show. The chorus is exceptionally good, the girls are pretty and George Gardner, with his inimitable "I swar," captivated the entire audience. The bill for today promises to be a dandy, a black face, farce comedy entitled "The Inventor." Another good feature of the show is that there will positively be a complete change of program every day, new songs, new costumes, jokes and a guarantee by Manager Pinkston that they will be enjoyed by the ladies and children, as well as the men.

tions brought about by the European war and the grave responsibilities resting upon the shoulders of the Secretary of State, it seems likely that Mr. Bryan can be secured. But should the European cloud lift before the winter is over it is altogether probable that the Great Commoner can be secured.

SAFE IN JOB PRINTING PLANT ENTERED IN LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

Early Sunday night an unknown burglar broke into the money box in the safe of the Oulla Printing and Binding Company, on North Main street and, obtained a small amount of cash. The safe had been left open as it is used only for storing the owner's books, but on Saturday Mr. Oulla had forgotten to put up his records. The burglar used a large screwdriver to pry the wooden casing from around the metal money box. Instead of getting the box loose he took it out on the floor and there cut into the side of it with an instrument of some description. He obtained something like $2 in small change.

The first Mr. Oulla knew of the affair was when he heard some one calling to him from Main street, just in front of his home. Mr. Oulla lives in the old Seyb house, just across the street from his place of business, and upon going over discovered his porter, Andrew Jones, was the one who had given the alarm.

Mr. Oulla called a policeman and together they made a thorough search of the building, but could find no evidence of anyone having broken into the place. All windows and doors were intact. Andrew Jones had a key to the place and it was he who called the attention of the searcher to the condition of the safe. As Jones was in a drunken condition he was taken in charge by the policeman and carried to the police station. Jones could give no satisfactory explanation for his presence about the building, neither could he explain the presence of a large pair of pliers which were found in his pocket. While no charges have been preferred against the janitor, it is believed that he knows more of the affair than he has told.

NEGRESS 99 YEARS OF AGE BURNED TO DEATH

CONSUMED IN BURNING OF HOUSE AT AUTUN ON SUNDAY NIGHT.

SHE WAS ALONE

Other Inmates of House Had Gone to Wedding at Pendleton—Inquest

In the 99th year of her age, Diana Simpson, colored, was burned to death Sunday night when the house of her grandson, Henry McGee, with whom she lived on the plantation of Mr. Eugene Sitton, at Autun, was destroyed by fire. Coroner J. G. Hardin went to Autun yesterday morning and held an inquest, the jury returning a verdict to the effect that the aged negress came to her death from burns received when the house of Henry McGee was destroyed by fire Sunday night.

Old Woman Alone.

Only four witnesses were examined by the coroner, these being the old woman's grandson, his wife, a neighbor and Dr. H. A. Pruitt. Henry McGee, the grandson, testified that he and four other members of the household were at a wedding at Pendleton when the house was burned. He said that they left home about 6 o'clock, leaving the old woman in the house alone. One of the front doors was locked, he said. Upon his return from the wedding, he testified, he found his house in flames and a large number of onlookers gathered about. He did not know how the fire started and left very few coals in the fire place when he departed from home. There had been no fire in the stove since noon, the witness said. The old woman, he said, did not carry any life insurance; was able to get about fairly well and was blind in one eye.

W. E. Buchanan, a second witness, testified that he was the first person to reach the house as it was burning. The whole structure was ablaze and the roof ready to fall in when he arrived, he said. The witness testified that he did not know anyone was in the house at the time it was burning. Lily McGee, wife of Henry McGee, who was away from home at the time, the third witness to take the stand. Her testimony corroborated that of her husband.

Dr. H. A. Pruitt, who made an examination of the remains of the old woman, testified that the body was so badly charred it was impossible to say what was the actual cause of death.

MRS. NANCY M. BOLT.

Mrs. Nancy M. Bolt died at her home in Centerville Township, six miles west of the city, on Thursday, December 10, and on Friday her remains were laid to rest in New Prospect cemetery, Rev. W. B. Hawkins conducting the services. There was a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives to pay the last respect to a dear one who has just gone on before us. Mrs. Bolt was in her 81st year; had been stout and healthy all her life until a few years ago, when her health began to fail. But not until a few weeks ago did we realize the time was so near.

She was ready and prepared to meet her Savior, was just waiting for the Lord to call her home. She joined the Baptist church in her girlhood days and had lived a devoted life, always true to her church and true to her fellowman, always ready and willing to lend a helping hand to those in need. She leaves five sons, one daughter and one sister; fifty-two grandchildren and forty grandchildren to mourn her death. Her sons are: Lewis Bolt of this city, Martin Bolt of the county, James T. Bolt of Plains, Ga.; C. Frank Bolt of the city, Henry Bolt of Hartwell, Ga., and Mrs. Chas. Gray of Westminister.

The pallbearers were six of her grandsons, Clarence Bolt, Floyd Bolt, Rufus Bolt and Berry Bolt, Robert Moorehead and Wayne Gray.

Gore, Ga. P. A. Morgan had occasion recently to use a liver medicine and says of Foley Cathartic Tablets: "They thoroughly cleaned my system and I felt like a new man—light and free. They are the best medicine I have ever taken for constipation. They keep the stomach sweet, liver active, bowels regular." Foley Cathartic Tablets are stimulating in action, and neither gripe nor sicken. They are wholesome and thoroughly cleansing, and keep the liver active. Stout people like them.

R. W. Lewis of Iva was among the business visitors in the city yesterday. C. G. Sayre of Sayre & Baldwin left yesterday for a business trip through North Carolina and Virginia. Judge and Mrs. George E. Prince leave Tuesday for California to visit their sons, Norman and John. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Owens of Pendleton were in the city yesterday.
