Maddox-Cox Wedding.

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized on Thanksgiving day when Miss Minnie G. Maddox became the bride of Mr. Henry L. Cox. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Lucia Shirley; the bride and groom entered the room and were met at the altar by Rev. Edward L. Kubley, the bride's pastor, who, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, pronounced the words which made the young couple husband and wife. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the guests repaired to the dining room where a bounteous repast was served. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. R. K. Maddox, a prosperous farmer of the Barker's Creek section, while the groom is a progressive merchant residing near Craytonville. The bride was the recipient of a number of valuable and useful presents.—Honea Path Chronicle.

Mrs. James Tribble of Anderson, who was before marriage, Miss Helen Boggs of Pickens, spent several days here last week as guest of her brother, Mr. Julius E. Boggs, Jr., and other relatives.—Easley Progress.

James B. Moore Dies in Barnwell

BARNWELL, Dec. 16.—James B. Moore, aged 44 years, a brother of Adj. Gen. W. W. Moore, of Columbia, died at his home in Barnwell yesterday morning after an illness of only one day. The news of his death came as a great shock to his many friends, very few of whom knew that he was ill. Mr. Moore was on the streets Monday morning, but upon his return home suffered a stroke of paralysis and lapsed into unconsciousness, from which he never rallied.
The body was laid to rest this afternoon in the Baptist churchyard, after touching funeral services at his late residence, conducted by the Rev. W. L. Hayes. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Sarah Cater of Anderson, before her marriage; five daughters and one son; four brothers, Gen. W. W. Moore of Columbia, A. R. Moore of Barnwell, G. H. and J. R. Moore of Hendersonville and four sisters, Mesdames R. C. Kirkland and W. C. Milhouse of Barnwell, W. A. White of Hendersonville and E. B. Norton of Warsaw, N. Y.
Mr. Moore was a devoted husband, a kind and loving father and a true friend and his presence will be sadly missed in the community in which he has lived for many years.
