THE ANDERSON INTELLIGENCER FOUNDED AUGUST 1, 1869. 126 North Main Street ANDERSON, S. C.

W. W. SMOAK, Editor and Bus. Mgr. T. B. GODFREY,....Circulation Mgr. E. ADAMS, Telegraph Editor and

Entered according to Act of Congress as Second Class Mail Matter at the Postoffice at Anderson, S. C.

Member of Associated Press and Receiving Complete Daily Telegraphic Bervice.

TELEPHONES

SUBSCRIPTION BATES Semi-Weekly. One Year$1.50 other.

Dally.

Have you paid the piper yet?

Have you started preparation those New Year resolutions?

Now is a pretty good time to begin your 1915 Christmas shopping.

abideth indigestion, headaches dark-brown tastes in the mouth. he latest addition to the class of s-beens"-good old Saint Nicho-

The joy of Christmas giving will h be overshadowed by the advent of the bill collector.

new standard for reckoning the time "since Greenwood had ng more trouble, it is are again dropsy stoutly claim it nas in Anderson, any who will testify

v far Santa Claus may the rear now, there's he is not in the class

e have General er General Green, have General Drought, but win-Mud has got them

John Bunyan saw in streets of Anderson onicies in his Pilgrim's passage through the of to be neutral, but we it to a Dutch friend who girls, rather than go the compulsory eduir respective beaux ompulsory educa-ere shouldn't be them among the

SHOULD BE INVESTIGATED

If the story told in the Greenville Piedmont under date line from Walhalla and over the signature of "J. S. S.," be ture the recent killings and county, Ga., are outrageous and those be brought to justice, and given the full penalty of the law. There has been entirely too many homicides in this section of the State recently, and it is time for a halt to be called. Never a week passes but there is some horrible murder committed, or some other crime committed almost as bad.

According to this story of the killing of these two negroes, there seems to have been absolutely no justifica-Editorial and Business Office.....321 tion for the deed. Whiskey and the passions aroused by the drinking and carousing of some white men, seem to have caused the killing of two negroes and the serious w .. pping of an-

Let the authorities ferret out the its attendant shooting should be fixed, The Intelligencer is delivered by and those who have taken the law interest in the city. If you fall to their own hands taught that there is some respect for law and order interest. us. Opposite your name on the label of your paper is printed date to which our paper is paid. All checks and drafts should be drawn to The Anderson Intelligencer.

Is some respect for law and order of far into the night with his inimitable taken with impunity. If the white men stories. Some of these he committed to print, though they lost much of not guilty as this article states, they the charm of his dialect. His "Wolfshould demand an investigation and ville" stories are among the Western clear their community of the sta'n sketches that will probably live. that has been placed upon it by the reports going out about this affair. At any rate an investigation should be

THE STATE'S REFORMATION

The following editorial appearing in The State Christmas morning argues a complete change of front in the matter of prohibition, or, rather this coupled with the entire absence of attack on the prohibitionists during several moons. How a newspaper with the standing The State has in South Carolina can afford to line up with this liquor gang, composed as it is of so many men like it speaks of in the editorial reproduced, is hard to comprehend, and we believe that both The State and The News and Courier. the two notable, and only examples Cheer up, gentle reader, the worst of daily newspapers in the State, who the Legislature meets oppose the referendum of the liquor question to the voters of the State at in floundering in a it, and come out with the South Carolina congressmen who presented such a solid front in Washington when the matter was voted upon recently.

The following editorial is commended for the perusal of our readers.

in defending the manufacturer and sale of intoxicants flows from the methods and character of the sellers and manufacturers.

That the whiskey business is a most That the whiskey pusiness is a most iniquitous and corrupting influence in American politics is indisputable. When Mr. Bryan brings forward that indictment, no one can answer it.

Were wine, whiskey and beer mer-chants and makers no more than merchants and manufacturers, were their behavior towards the govern-ment of a kind similar to that of cloth sellers and makers legislative. person who had an as is the one who ward the relief of the poor of Ander-are "sports" and in politics as in business. They are "sports" and "heeless" to that of cloth sellers and makers, legislative assault upon them would muster armies of voters and newspapers in their defense, but they are, as a rule, as active in politics as in business. They are "sports" and "heelers," their shops are the headquarters and commissair-at for the worst and most depraved political movements.

In European countries the case is different. The wine merchant in Paris is no more a politician than is the glove merchant He is a me-chant and nothing else. In New York he is a Tammany Congressman's lieutenant or in Philadelphia his grog-shop is an outpost for Boles Penrose's far spreading and carefully organized cles in his Pilgrim's assage through the ad.

Should national prohibition prevail in Congress within the next few years, the victory will be due to the enforced neutrality of the voters who question its wisdom and expediency; who are disgusted with the whist year are disgusted with the whist year.

To be sure, there are numbers of wine and whiskey merchants in the distribution of the whist year are disgusted with the next few years, the victory will be due to the enorced neutrality of the voters who are disgusted with the whist. Ye traffic not so much that it is a traffic in whiskey as that whiskey is sold by an are disgusted with the whist. Ye traffic not so much that the whist year are disgusted with the whist. Ye traffic not so much that the left of the whist year are disgusted with the voters who are disg seller unfortunately does not define and fix the character of the whiskey

ALFRED HENRY LEWIS

The untimely death of Alfred Henry Lewis, in the midst of a very busy career, removes one of the most pic- who discussed the matter of employturesque of the newspaper writers of ers holding on to their employeez race riot near Fair Play, and in Hart the day. Mr. Lewis was only fifty-five during ethe time of this temporary and had reason to hope and expect at dull times. It is obviously right and guilty of the crimes committed should least twenty years more of active life. proper that hose who have been every liklihood that he would have ad- man build up his fortunes, should be complishments that were his during winds of adversity begin to blow, and the comparatively brief period of his literary life.

At one time Mr. Lewis was a doortives at Washington, though he was the new and changed conditions. Aldoing some newspaper work on the ready there are many signs of returnside. He was also gaining some experience and acquaintance with public that very soon we shall wonder why men that served him in good stead later on. He was noted for his plain question the ability of our conditions language at all times, and it was not to adjust themselves and conserve the unheard of for him to play the role of best interests of the country. the Irish servant girl, by informing truth of this matter, and bring the House that the members said, "Tell live subject: 'em I say I'm not in."

Mr. Lewis's ability as a writer is well known, and as a story teller he was famous. It is said that on occasion he had the honor of keeping Sir Arthur Conan Doyle entertained not guilty as this article states, they the charm of his dialect. His "Wolf-

Unfortunately, Mr. Lewis allowed himself to be dragged into the mire and mud of partisan journalism. He was for some time at the head of the Washington bureau of The New York Evening Journal. Some of the matter that he produced at this time perhaps did some good, but no doubt his admirers, now he is dead, would be glad if they could pass over some of the partisan writing that he turned out. But it will be forgotten, as practically all daily journalism is forgotten. Mr. Lewis's fame will rest upon his stories, eighteen volumes of which he produced in fifteen years, nearly all of them good.

ROAD BONDS AND UNEMPLOY-MENt

Considerable comment has been made favorable to the plan proposed recently by The Intelligencer to vote a bond issue for Anderson county for a special election to be hald some the purpose of building roads. prominnext Christmas will time next year, will finally line up for ent surburban resident said a few days ago: "I trust you will push your bond issue proposition, and that we shall soon have a chance to vote for a good sized issue for Anderson county for the purpose of building some perman-Whatever may be one's opinion of the prohibition amendmaterial proposed in Congress and its present fate, one is embarrassed in the prohibition amendmodel gray dawn of discussing it. The extreme difficulty in defending the manufacturer and bond issue and some permanent work. ent roads." Another said: "I am un-year to year in ordinary times, but which may be drawn on in an emer-gency. Thus, in the war crisis gold that may have lain unmoved for period passed out of the Bank of Endi-

We believe it would be possible for a country to create an industrial re-serve. Every important nation's labor statistics show a pretty constant re-currence of unemployment. For three or four years labor may be quite fully or four years labor may be quite fully employed. Then business slackens and the number of men out of fork rises until times improve. These recurring seasons of large unemployment take a heavy toll of labor. Savings disappear; debes accumulate; families formerly self-supporting become dependent.

As a matter of fact we know the duil seasons are going to recur, because they always have. In every country there is a vast deal of public work done by the cities, states and central governments. In every country the public employs labor most freely exactly when private employers do—that is, when times are good and credit is easy. When times are poor and bonds not easily salable the public cuts down employment. It ought to be the other way. By intelligent forethought it might be made as orr to findustrial reserve to fall back on when private work slackened. As a matter of fact we know the dull seller unfortunately does not define and fix the character of the whiskey business; it is the salooskeeper and the brewer who owns the saloon who defile the business and, pursuing a golloy conceived in stupidity and sure. It carrying them to disaster, underside it subsidiary to whiskey interests.

In Bouth Carolint a lew years ago a number of excellent citisens, intensely rescritful against prohibition, helped to tot in a State government distinctly friendly to the liquor traffic. It would be illuminating to know if they were pleased with the kind of government they got.

The liquor interests pretend that they wish to obey the law. Undoubtedly they preferred a liquor traffic proficiced by law to one that is outlaw-as and but when and where have the liquor sellers (barring the exceptional men of the better class) silowed the law to interfere with liquor sales, if they could prevent it?

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

Evidently there are others thinking as do The Intelligencer and the lady Had he been spared so long, there is faithful and have helped a business ded materially to the very large ac- given some consideration when the not be cast aside as so many pieces of machinery. Then, this depression is sure to prove only temporary, keeper in the House of Representa- while business is adjusting itself to ing prosperity, and our prediction is we were ever so pessimistic as to

The Charleston News and Courier visitors who asked for members of the has the following to say on this very

> The story is being told in the streets that is worth putting into print. The head of a large concern in Charleston recently called his employes together." Men, he said, "I've been making money for eight years and now I'm ready to stand a bad year. I'll keep all of you on for a year longer. keep all of you on for a year longer. If the war isn't over by that time and > if business hasn't improved, we'll have to consider what wa'll do.

>
> That is pluck; that is fair dealing. If there were more employers like this one, there would be in initely less of the war. There are many, of course, who have done what this one has done, but there are also many who have done the reverse and let number of the state of the war. the war has injured business. Most of the big men can stand the strain, but many of the little men cannot stand it unless the big men help. Most of the big men can afford to carry their emploces for another year. To do so may cost them some money, bu it will not ruin them. We hear a lot about the generosity of the American people to stricken Belgium. What about the generosity or lack of gen-erosity of the American business man

> towards his clerk
> In many cases, of course, retrenchment through reduction of the number of employees is absolutely necessary. But it is safe to say that many officient men are being thrown out of employment simply because their employers have not the pluck and the sense of fair play shown by the Char-leston man who felt that his faithful helpers during eight prosperous years ought not to be pitched overboard in the first bad year that comes along.

Does the War Prove Christianity a Fallure?

In the January Woman's Home Companion Charles E. Jefferson, pastor of Broadway Tabernacle, New York City, writes an interesting war article in which he comments as follows on the question as to whether this war proves Christianity a fail-for the first rainy spell to undo what has been done. What we need is a bond issue and some permanent work to be done."

These gentlemen discussed this proposed bond issue in the light of what could be done for building a permanent and lasting system of roads in Anderson county. There is just now another very good reason for voting bonds for immediate work on the roads, and this has been mentioned in an editorial appearing in the last issue of The Saturday Evening Post, which is here reproduced

Every commercial country has a banking reserve— a certain large sum in gold that is set apart and lies untouched from month to month and year to year in ordinary times, but which may he drawn in sold that was a large and the meaning of Christ's figure of the meaning of Christ's figure of the the claims of the Church have all been shattered, the reply is that the Church makes no claim except on conditions that must be met. It promises no victories except to hearts that surrender. It predicts no paradises until men have in them the mind of Jesus. Christianity is an invitation. If the invitation is not accepted, it can do no mighty works. Christianity is a revelation of the heart of God. If men refuse to become like him, the world remains in darkness. There is no failure then in the Christian feligion. The failure lies with the men who refuse to receive it. If Europe had been Christian this war would never have been. The agony of Europe gives new point to the question: 'How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?' It fillustrates It Illustrat so great salvation? It fliustrates the meaning of Christ's figure of the man who was foolish enough to build upon the sand. It pours a blasing light around the Apostie's great declaration—"There is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved."

How One Factory Keeps Going in Critical Times.

In the December American Magazine appears an article by Ida M. Tarbell entitled "Keeping Men at Work." It is one in her series which she is doing for that publication entitled "The Golden Rule in Business." In "The Golden Rule in Business." In this article Miss Tarbell shows how, by adopting the principles of scientific management, manufacturers can establish an equilibrium between dull and busy seasons and thus prevent the throwing out of employment of hundreds of men. She gives examples of employees who are working successfully on these principles. Following is one of them!

"The Clotheraft Shop of Clevoland, Ohio, for instance, finds that one outside condition which hampers it in its efforts to give regular employment is the practice of many mills of helping up the delivery of orders for cloth is the practice of many mills of hora-ing up the delivery of orders for coth for two and three months. This works for two and three months. This works prevents proper inspection of cloth, the manufacturer being to if he is to catch the market, to up what he would otherwise r and it forces bim to close or wo half time in one month, on over others, Mr. Richard Feiss, the imould have the

Overcoat Reductions

Beginning Monday December 28th, we will offer our entire stocks of Men's and Boys' Overcoats at greatly reduced prices.

MEN'S OVERCOATS

$20.00 Men5s Overcoats reduced to$16.00 18.00 Men's Overcoats reduced to14.40 15.00 Men's Overcoats reduced to 12.00 10.00 Men's Overcoats reduced to 8.00

BOYS' OVERCOATS

$7.50	Boys'	Overcoats	reduced to		$6.00
6.00	Boys'	Overcoats	reduced to		4.80
5.00	Boys'	Overcoats	reduced to		4.00
4.00	Boys'	Overcoats	reduced to		3.20
3.00	Boys'	Overcoats	reduced to)	2.40

Order by Parcels Post; We Prepay All Charges,

IVA NEWS

The Iva high school teachers left Wednesday for their respective homes for the holidays; Miss Maggle Thompson, Seneca; Miss Nellie Wyatt, Easleay; Miss Carrie Howell, Greer's; Miss Carrie Howell, Greer's; Miss

Miss Carrie Howell, Greer's; Miss Sudie L. Wright, Hartsville, and Miss Nancey Pearson, Woodruff.

Mr. Wesley Huckafee and little son, John, of Lowndesville, were here for a few days last week.

Mr. Holcombe Harper of Greeg Shoals was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Misses Mamie Seabright, Clara Cook and Mabel Reid, students of Winthrop College, are spending the holidays here with their parents. Mr. S. E. Anderson left Wednesday

Mr. Clement Hall, civt editor of the

Mr. Clement Hall, clyt editor of the Aiken Recorder, is here for the holidays with his parents.

Rev. J. L. Singleton and Alonzo Herron of Starr spent a few hours in the city Thursday on business.

Miss Eva Price, district nurse of Gastonia, N. C., is visiting her sister, Miss Lulie Price.

Miss Greets Hall, who has a posi-

Miss Greeta Hall, who has a posi-tion in the graded schools at Camp-bell, is here for a week's stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hall.

Miss Gertrude Weldon, teacher of the Moffettsville school, haz gone to Neuman, Ga., to spend the Christmas Mrs. Minnie Brown and children of Due West are spending the week at the home of her father, Mr. S. T. Mc-

A novel sight was seen on the street A novel sight was seen on the street bare Wednesday afternoon when Prof. Cliff D. Coleman with his able corps of teachers and three hundred and twenty pupils marched through the streets of Iva. Prof. Coleman has his pupils well under control and the Iva patrons should be proud of their school.

Mr. S. E. Anderson left Wednesday for Spartanburg where he goes to join his family.

Mr. S. W. McAdams has returned from a business trip to Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid H. Sherard and family of Belton are spending the helidays with the former's mother, Mrs. V. C. Sherard.

On next Tuesday afternoon at 3 octock the Priscillas will be entertained at the home of Miss Georgia Belle Baskin on Church street.

Miss Pearl Beaty, one of the teachers in the Lancaster high school, is at home for the holidays.

Prof. Cliff D. Coleman and wife left Wednesday for Lebanon where they go to spend the holidays.

Mrs. Sudie L. Wright was called to Hartsville a few days ago to the bed-side of her mother who is quite ill.

Mr. T. C. Jackson, Jr., has returned from a business trip to Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosamond Seabright of Anderson are here for the holidays with relatives.

Anover sight was seen on the error. Cliff D. Coleman with his able corps of teachers and three hundred and twenty pupils marched through the streets of Iva. Prof. Coleman has his pupils well under control and the Iva patrons should be proud of their school.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McGee and little daughter, Edna, are spending a few days in Mrs. W. M. Tate and son of Henderson, Texas, is visiting relatives here.

Miss May Yeargain, who teaches in Orangeburg county, is home for the holidays.

Miss Lula Price as a visitor in Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Batson of Greenville are spending a few days here with relatives.

Mr. Ciem McGee of Anderson is here for the holidays with his mother. Mrs.

Jano McGee. Mr. Carter Watt of Anderson is Mr. Carter Watt of Anderson is spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Watt.

Miss Minnie Galley, who teaches near Honea Path, is here for the holidays with her parents.

Master David Smith has gone to Hodges to spend a few days with rela-

Mr. Charlie Townsend of Anderson Mr. Charlie Townsend of Anderson is here for a few days stay with his mother, Mrs. A. C. Townsend.

Messrs. Walter and Lester Sadler of Anderson are on a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Sadler.

Mr. Glenn Baskin of Chester is here for a few days with his parents, Mr. nd Mrs. J. L. Baskin.

Rev. J. H. Brown, who has charge of the textile school in Spartanburg, is here for a short while with relatives.

is here for a short while wint relatives.

Dr. C. D. Evans and wife left today for a short stay with relatives in Abbeville.

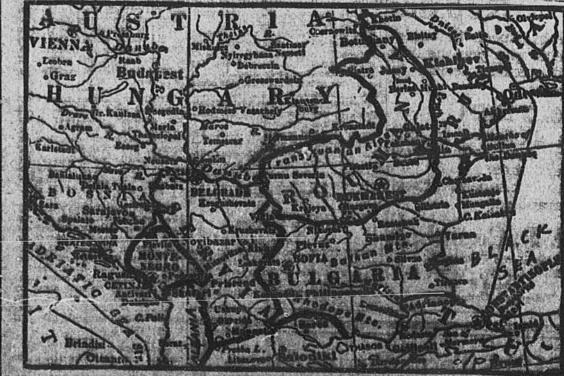

Miss Mary Grace Wilson of Watts and Miss Alice Cooley of Lowndesville are guests this week of Misses Margaret and Annie Wilson.

BEST FOR KIDNEYS-SAYS DOC-

Dr. J. T. R. Neal, Greenville, So. Car., says that in his 30 years of experience he has found no preparation for the kidneys equal to Foley Kidney Fills. Pain in back and hips is an indication of kidney trouble—a warning to build up the weakened kidneys, make them vigorous, riding your blood of acids and poisons. Foley Kidney Pills will help any case of kidney and bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. In 50c and $1.00 sizes. Sold in your town by Evans Pharmacy.

Belgrade, Their Capital, Servians Have Retaken After Bitter Fight.

The Servians have again taken their apital, Belgrade, after a very hard ght in the mountains in the