"All's well that ends well."

Have you bought a bale yet?

The fortunes of war are nothing to its misfortunes.

Talk may be cheap but lot of extravagant remarks are made.

Many a girl's ideal is shattered when she finds that he is broke.

No doubt the average poet wears his hair long on the theory that there is no short cut to fame.

Of all sad words of tongue or pen the saddest are: "The watermelon season is just about over."

We will never have peace until Germany is crushed—England.

Love is blind, which may account for the fact that considerable courtship is conducted in the dark.

Wouldn't it be fine to be able to join the "buy a bale" movement. Think of having fifty dollars all at one time.

President Wilson has joined the "buy a bale" movement, and has sent his check for $50 to buy a bale of the fleecy staple.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation calling on the people of the United States to pray for peace in Europe, and sets aside Sunday, October 4, as a day of prayer.

The Bible speaks of "the time when kings go forth to battle." Modern kings have improved upon that method. They stay safely out of range and in yoke Divine blessing upon the peasants and mechanics they send forth to battle.

An extra session of the legislature, to convene at noon October 6, is called by a proclamation the governor issued last Thursday night to consider the cotton situation and to pass such laws as in their judgment may be necessary for the relief of the citizens of the State.

Notwithstanding the extraordinary arrangements that are being made to finance the cotton crop, we think it is foolish to count on planting a full crop next year. This European war is going to make something to eat the first consideration, not only in Europe, but also in America. Folks who raise cotton next year regardless of conditions, without first supplying themselves with food, are going to lose money and have a hard time. The thing to do now is to make arrangements to sow every acre that can be sowed to wheat, oats, rye, legumes and the like. Then next spring give attention to corn.

The tragedy of Belgium appeals to the sympathies of the world. Why should she, a peaceful, prosperous, happy little state, be forced to suffer the brunt of a war she had no part in making? The courage and patriotism of the Belgians in resisting the violation of their neutrality and refusing to give way to the invaders without a valiant struggle must be applauded by all lovers of justice. Even Germany does not contradict Belgium's rights in the matter, but excuses the German invasion on the plea of military necessity. Thus it is shown that war knows no rule but the rule of might. The heroism of the Belgian defense is the shining star in the black night of European horrors. wherever home and loved ones are cherished, there must the heroism of the Belgian peasants in the defense of their firesides and families be honored, and the bitter ruin that has overwhelmed their once beautiful country be deplored.

We verily believe the two hundred majority in Cherokee and the forty two majority in York for Mr. Richards were composed of floaters from tarheels. Otherwise how would it be possible for all the State to vote right except those two counties? (Gaffney Ledger)

No Extra Session Georgia Legislature

Governor Slaton's refusal this week to call a special session of the state legislature to consider means of meeting the crisis in the cotton situation was based, he explained to reporters later, on the constitution, which would prevent any real remedy being applied, even if a special session were called. The general assembly can be called in special session only for some specific purpose, and it would be hard to specify just what legislation is needed. In addition, it is impossible to amend the state constitution inside of two years. The committee of Macon citizens who called on the governor, suggested a "stay law," and the governor pointed out that the "stay laws" passed in Georgia just after the war had been declared unconstitutional. The suggestion that an excess of cotton over a certain amount be taxed also met with constitutional objections.

When the suggestion was made that the legislature be called to pass resolutions requesting aid from Washington, Governor Slaton pointed out the heavy cost of such a session. He stated that the real source of relief must come from congress and the treasury department. He declared that the government, the sole body with power to issue money, would respond at once, or it will fail to perform its function.

I hope the people of Georgia will not submit themselves to be made battledores and shuttlecocks," he declared. "The government is the source of relief. No evasion or postponement shall be allowed. The people should know that when a representative in congress refers this question to the states he is endeavoring to shirk his responsibility."

Death of Little Child.

The 8-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Alexander, of the Keowee River section of the county, died at their home last Thursday, the 3d instant, at 3 o'clock p. m. after a brief illness of meningitis. Burial services were conducted on the day following, the interment being made at Fall Creek cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. C. R. Abercrombie. The bereaved parents have the sincere sympathy of many friends in their sorrow.—Keowee Courier.

A Tribute from the Colored People

Mr. Editor:—Please allow us space within the columns of your valuable paper to express our sincere regret and deep sorrow to the bereft and grief-stricken father, mother, and family of the sudden and unexpected end of their son and brother, Mr. Furman Morris.

We, the colored constituency of the city and entire county of Pickens was shocked and pained to learn of the sad death of Mr. Furman Morris. We truly sympathize and extend to Mr. Aaron Morris, Mrs. Inez Morris and family our heart-felt condolence in this, their hour of affliction and cruel but just trial. We lament with you and deplore our loss, for your deceased son and brother was a staunch and loyal friend of ours. We esteemed and loved him for his affable spirit, and unlimited heart of cheerfulness and a noble life. If providence has made your heart to ache and break under the severe stroke, the same providence has surely wounded and pained ours, for Mr. Furman Morris was a man, the young, with unusual gifts for his vocation, and a man to be regarded with sincere interest and respect. We record our appreciation of all that we have personally seen and known of the earthly disposition and fine character of Mr. Furman Morris. It is our faith that such as he are taken from the arduous responsibilities and complete relationships of our present experience to dwell in the sunlight of an existence unlimited and sublime. Dear sorrowing ones, it is our prayer that you possess the confidence and unshaken hope that when your spirits are called forth upon their supreme quest you may somewhere find the spirit of your son Furman whom God has taken from temporal labors to eternal rewards in the form of higher opportunities of service.

Very humbly,
A. G. Bowen,

From Brother O'Kelley.

Rev. H. A. O'Kelley of Central in a letter to the Baptist Courier, says:

Dear Dr. Cody: I have held meetings at the following churches: Glade Hope, Fall Creek, Beaver Creek, Bethlehem and Little River; and aided the Home Board evangelist, Rev. J. C. Owens, at Six Mile. These churches were greatly revived with many wonderful experiences of grace. The Lord wrought wonderfully in these meetings. Among those converted were an elderly lady, sixty-five and seventy years of age, also a man who denounced the power of God. He was saved and began active church service, leading in prayer, making talks, etc.

"My next meeting will be at Whiteside, Pleasant Grove and Union. I am trusting to the Lord for great success in these meetings. So I ask that all Christian people remember me in their prayers to God."

"P. S. Six Mile Baptist Academy opened Monday morning, August 31, with a goodly number of students and more coming every day. There is a greater number of boarding students than ever before. The outlook for this session is very flattering indeed. We truly hope and pray for this school to become great educationally in this section of the country, overcoming all oppositions. Boys and girls, go to school. Come to Six Mile. It is the place for you. Prof. G. E. Garner will gladly respond to any inquiring boy or girl who wishes to enter school at this place and give them the very best instructions possible. This Academy is beautifully constructed, and is situated in a healthy locality, sanitary conditions are closely looked after. So send your boys and girls here."

Farmer's Meeting

The farmers and business men of the County met at the court house on the 9th day of September 1914.

The meeting was a grand one, organized by electing James F. Hendricks, Chairman, and C. E. Robinson, Secretary.

The object of the meeting was to discuss and take such action as might be best to relieve the present and threatened continued embarrassing financial condition. After considerable discussion by J. T. Loper, J. H. Miller, L. R. Durham, B. D. Mauldin, Robert Stewart, R. G. Gaines, W. E. Findley and others the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved first, That we urge every farmer who can possibly do so to store and keep off the market every bale of cotton they can and not sell for less than ten cents per pound.

Resolved second, That we hereby endorse the movement for every man who does not produce cotton by his own labor to buy a bale direct from the producer who is obliged to sell at not less than ten cents per pound and store or hold the same for such length of time till the price goes above 10c.

And to carry out this scheme the chairman is hereby requested to appoint a committee of three in each of the towns of this county to canvass the same and take pledges from all who will agree to buy a bale of cotton on the above plan.

Resolved third, That we hereby call upon all our people who have made advances, mortgages, liens, open accounts or other evidence of indebtedness against any tenant or landlord which mature or are expected to be paid this year to arrange with such debtors where possible to repay the same another year, and if this be not practicable then to receive from such debtor cotton at not less than ten cents per pound.

Resolved fourth, That each one present hereby pledges himself to abide by and use his best efforts to induce all our people to abide by and carry into effect the spirit of the foregoing resolutions.

Resolved further, That we hereby pledge ourselves, and urge and ask every farmer to reduce the acreage to be planted in cotton next year at least fifty per cent of the acreage of this year.

Resolved further, That a committee of five be appointed whose duty it shall be to investigate and see what arrangements can be made for storing cotton in this county and the cost and expense thereof, and to report and advise the people at as early a day as possible.

Pursuant to the above resolutions the chairman appointed the following committees: On the "Buy a bale of cotton" plan.

Pickens—W. E. Findley, G. A. Ellis and J. F. Harris. Easley—Dr. R. F. Smith, W. A. Hamilton and J. B. Jameson. Liberty—L. B. O'Dell, W. H. Chapman and W. S. Parsons. Norris—B. P. Kelley, E. C. McWhorter and W. M. Alexander. Central—J. E. Bridges, C. G. Rowland and S. A. McAlister.

These committees are expected to canvass their respective towns and community and secure pledges to purchase cotton from those who are obliged to sell at less than ten cents per pound. The warehouse or storage committee: R. G. Gaines, chairman; M. C. Smith, B. C. Johnson, J. F. Bannister and J. C. Garrett. This committee is expected to find out as early as possible how many bales of cotton can be stored in warehouses and the cost etc. The meeting then adjourned.

President Wilson Buys a Bale

President Wilson today joined the "buy-a-bale" cotton club. At the request of Senator Smith and Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, who called to discuss the cotton situation, the president ordered $50 worth of cotton from the "Buy-a-Bale" of that state. Senator Smith guaranteed the president a profit on his investment. People throughout the south are joining the movement to take up the cotton crop, Senator Smith said. He added that next year the cotton crop would be cut in half and that wheat and other products would be substituted.

A Tribute from the Colored People

Mr. Editor: Please give us space in your paper to express our sorrow and regret of the loss of our friend, Furman Morris, Whom the great and supreme Ruler of the Universe, has, in his infinite wisdom, removed from among us, one of our worthy and esteemed friends, long and intimate was the relation held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties, the wisdom and ability which he exercised in the aid of the community by service contributions and council, will be held in grateful remembrance. The sudden removal of such a life from among us leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all the members and friends of the deceased we express our hope that even so great a loss to us all may be overruled for good by him who doeth all things well. As it has pleased the omnipotent Being to take from our midst this beloved friend, let us say as Job of old, "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away; so blessed be the name of the Lord." Fresh in our memories are the recollection of the lovingness and kindness of the departed, but great is our comfort in the well-grounded assurance that the Good Shepherd has taken the gentle lamb into his fold. He has gone to a happier world, and that which is lost to us is his unspeakable gain. Charles H. Tolbert.

JUST RECEIVED Another car load of Chase City Buggies, and a car of Mitchell Wagons. The Mitchell wagon needs no introduction to the people of Pickens county, as we have sold them for the past twelve years, and they have given universal satisfaction. They run lighter and last longer than any other wagon made today, and they are rarely ever in the shop for repairs. Just ask your blacksmith or the man who owns one. The Chase City buggy for the past six years has been the standard priced buggy sold in Pickens. They are the best painted buggy on the market, for anything like the price, and the quality as to workmanship and riding qualities, is everything you can wish in a buggy. If you are in need of either buggy or wagon just call on us and inspect our stock, and we feel sure you will find what you are looking for. Yours truly, FOLGER, THORNLEY & CO.
