Next stop: Thanksgiving.

Goodbye, Mr. Barleycorn; howdy, Mr. Prohibition?

And it rained that very night! Didn't sit till next day.

And just think, they say it's hotter here than in Columbia and H—!

We hope the chauffeur who turned over a new Paige the other day will do better now.

There are only two things to do now; keep away from the snakes or move here where the antidote is plentiful.

From present indications there will be no "buy-a-bale" movement this fall, or which we should be thankful.

The Allies say the rains will put a stop to the German advance, but it is likely to stop the Russian retreat.

"We have been calling for years," says an advertisement in the "phone directory. So have we, but the dingy old thing's been "busy" most of the time.

Virginia went dry—but not Richmond, its chief city. South Carolina went dry—but Charleston, its chief city, will not be dry. Paste this in your hat for future reference.

If you want to hear the editor chirp with cheer, pay up your subscription or another year. Or if you just want to see him glow with glee, say "Here's a dollar, send your paper to me."

Columbia State wants this country, in case of war, to mobilize the baseball players, especially the pitchers, and make bomb-throwers of them. We suggest that the umpires of the several leagues be used by the bomb-throwers in practice on before they go into active service.

A maiden fair with sun-kissed hair came tripping down the street, with her serene (her age sixteen); gee whiz, but she was sweet! On a banana peel she came down quick, 'twas a jolt that shook her curls; but the words she used must be excused, for she's one of our nicest girls.

Along with the many "bumper" crops the South has produced this year is that of an enormous snake crop. This is said to be due to the fact that many of the southern states have a "fence law," and the snake's natural enemy, the hog, has been confined in pens, with the consequent increase of reptiles. Turn the azorbacks loose!

Colonel Bryan advised while he was in charge of the state department that Americans quit traveling on the liners, and at once a howl went up that it was a surrender of American rights and privileges. Mr. Lansing has just advised that all Americans leave Mexico at once; but no scream is heard about a surrender of American rights and privileges. It all depends on who gives the advice, it seems, for in either instance it was good.

Great Britain's expenditures since the outbreak of the war is over six billion dollars. The daily war expenditure is now nearly sixteen million dollars. As soon as the conflict is ended all loyal Englishmen will have to dig down and pay this immense bill, and most of it will come out of the toil of the laboring men who are at the front, if they should be so fortunate as to get back home with their lives.

Advertisement: Make money writing poetry! Many poets now making from 7 to 35 cents a week! Learn to do it at home without cost and during spare time! The greatest discovery of the age (much better than Dr. King's). Full particulars sent absolutely free on receipt of regular price. Just to see if you have any talent in this line, fill in the following blank lines. We have already supplied the last words of each line, which rhyme beautifully, and it should be no trouble for you to finish the poem:

..... remember,
..... prohi,
..... September,
..... dry.

Interest in the Fant-Durham meeting seems to increase each day. Mr. Fant is preaching with great power and the singing is good. The meeting will close Sunday night.

According to a news story in the Charlotte Observer, two men entered the office of the Free Press at Forest City, N. C., Saturday night and relieved Editor Croker, who was setting type, of $23. This not only shows the danger of an editor having $23, but also shows the danger of setting type at night.

A Sad Death

Mrs. Essie Smith, wife of T. D. Smith, died at her home in Coatesville, September 11, after a three week's illness from typhoid fever. On September 8 her little infant died and was buried the following day at Camp Creek. There are two more children in this home who are afflicted with the same malady.

The deceased was a good Christian woman and attended her church and Sunday school every Sunday. She leaves mother, four sisters and seven brothers to mourn her death, besides husband and eight children.

Funeral and burial services were conducted by the Rev. Eddie Myers, assisted by the Rev. Robert Nelson on Sunday, September 13, at Reform church, near Pendleton.

The Real Fight

Now that prohibition has won out by such a large majority, the thing for all the good people to do is to see to it that the law shall now be enforced. With good officers and a strong sentiment behind them the law can be made effective and prohibition will prohibit. Our leaders ought to see to it that at the next meeting of the legislature strong laws shall be passed to protect the good people in helping them to enforce the law. As the law now stands all kinds of technicalities are resorted to by sharp lawyers to shield the violators of law.

Let a law be passed where a man makes or sells liquor that he shall serve so long in the chaingang without the privilege of paying out; say for the first offense, three months or more, according to the nature of the offense; for the second offense, not less than twelve months. Make them feel the law and they will be slow to violate it. Let our lawabiding citizens make it so hot for the lawless that they will be afraid to violate the law. The way to make people obey law is to enforce law.

G. W. Cox Hurt

Mr. George W. Cox of Mt. Carmel section was partially hurt last Friday evening as he was returning from Greenville driving two miles to a wagon. He had nearly reached his home when one of the front wheels ran off the axle. In attempting to replace the wheel it fell against one of the axles and they started, knocking Mr. Cox down. The rear wheel ran over him, making a wound above the eye in which three stitches were taken, and there were several severe bruises on his body.

Dr. Lake-Jameson was called and dressed the wounds. Considering his advanced age Mr. Cox is getting along well.

GOOD things to EAT

I have just overhauled and improved my restaurant and you must be sure to visit me during Court Week. Everything up to date and I will treat you right. Can fix you up a good meal in a few minutes.

GROCERIES

My line of plain and fancy Groceries is fresh and complete. Prices right and full weight.

Make My Place Your Headquarters When in Pickens
J. C. ALEXANDER, Pickens, S. C.

Just at this time of year most of us feel like sitting under the shade and letting some of the things that need attention go undone, but pretty soon if we were to give way to our feelings we would regret having been so "lazy." There is much fruit and vegetables that need saving and it means now or never, hot or cold, rain or shine.

We have on hand a good supply of fruit jars, fruit jar rings for Mason jars, White Crown jar tops, rubbers, Economy jar tops, preserving powder, pure apple vinegar and white wine pickling vinegar; fly traps to catch the flies; kraut or meat jars; churns; pitchers for butter, milk, etc.; covered jars, jugs, etc.

But Don't Work All the Time

You need some rest. If your chairs need a new bottom call on us for most any size. If you think of taking a vacation you will probably need trot lines, fish lines, fish hooks, etc. Maybe a cheap watch or drinking cup. We have them.

Cots, cot pads, single iron beds, mattresses and springs for same. School baskets for the children.

Tone up your horse, after a hard summer's work, with one of our Medicated Salt Bricks. Harness oil for the old dry harness. Buggy and wagon paint. Furniture paint, paint brushes, etc.

Come to see us.

If Every Farmer and Workingman in Pickens County

Would once wear a Carhartt Overall, no storekeeper could ever sell him another brand. There is more cloth in it; the cloth is woven in the Carhartt Mills in South Carolina; the dyes used are right; the fit and feel of the Overall is a good deal better; it will outwear two pairs of the ordinary kind. Cost a little more, but goes a lot further. If you stood every man in overalls in this country up in a long row, likely every third or fourth man would have on a pair of Carhartt's or be sorry he didn't. "Nuff Sed!"

ONLY $1.00!

Relieving Muscular Strain

Of the eyes that rob the vigor of the rest of the body is our profession. Glasses are intended for more than the aiding of vision. Some of the most distressing diseases have been relieved by glasses after doctors and surgeons had doctored and cut to their heart's content. Do not procrastinate in the matter of having your eyes examined by us.
