The Christmas Tree

DEEP in the woods enchanted heart I saw a Christmas tree. An evergreen, with slender trunk Of perfect symmetry. From topmost twig to lowest branch That swept the frozen drifts On all its tasseled boughs were hung The loveliest of gifts.

Long strings of pearls and diamond stars And strips of ermine rare. And soft white feathers light enough For fairy queens to wear. And silver tinsel of the frost. And crystal beads, for joy!

A winter storm on Christmas Eve Had trimmed it up with snow. — Minna Irving, in New York Herald.

CHRISTMAS LETTERS

SOMETIMES a letter means more than all the cards and gifts in the world. Why not send a Christmas message by letter this year? A bright holiday seal stuck at the top will introduce your remarks in a jolly fashion, and then you may continue with whatever you think friendly and suitable. This is a cheap method in the actual expenditure of money, but a rich outlay of thought for those you love. Have you not discovered that something somebody does just for you is more precious than a present bought in a hurry? Christmas letters bring great joy. Try some and see!
