Constable Arrested in Raid at Ehrhardt

A warrant has been served on Phil Padgett, of Ehrhardt, constable to Magistrate Anderson, the charge being violation of the prohibition law. The charge comes as the result of a raid on Padgett's home at Ehrhardt last Saturday, conducted by Sheriff S. G. Ray and Officers Sanders and Brodie. The raiders found, they state, a small quantity of liquor in the house and they state there were evidences of more being poured out. —Bamberg Herald.

Magistrate Regrets Raid.

In the same issue of The Bamberg Herald with the above item, was the following letter from the magistrate at Ehrhardt, who is "sorry to say" that there was "a little liquor raid Saturday afternoon" in that town and who also seems to be in a quandary as to what to do about this liquor business anyway:

Editors The Bamberg Herald:—Please allow me a little space in your paper. I am sorry to say we had a little liquor raid Saturday afternoon in our little town of Ehrhardt, and I am sorry to say that some of our esteemed friends down here can't see straight, for after the officers made the raid they came to my office to fix a bond and some of our far-seeing gentlemen said that they had raided my office.

I hope to see the time come when these gentlemen can get the scum from their eyes so they may be able to see who is selling wh'skey and also see who is not selling it, I am also being knocked about the bootleggers, but how in the name of God can I do anything with the liquor business by my lone self? Where the trouble comes is this: Everybody's business is nobody's business. So, therefore, when the people are willing to stand to me and help me in the fight, I am ready to fight the liquor business, but it is impossible for one man to lure a sly fox in the open field to catch it. T. E. ANDERSON.

Ehrhardt.

Sunday was the longest day of the year, and now the pendulum swings back, the days losing one minute in sunshine this week.

It is confirmed testimony, telling of lasting benefit from Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. It's evidence that no man or woman in Barnwell can doubt.

Mrs. R. C. Gignilliat, Barnwell, says: "I had severe backaches caused from kidney disorder. I had dizzy spells, too, when black specks came before me. I used Doan's Pills and felt great relief."

FOUR YEARS LATER, Mrs. Gignilliat added: "It has been some time since I have had any need for Doan's Pills. The cure they gave me has lasted."
