FEATHERY SONGSTERS TO BE SHOWN AT FAIR

Canaries Will Form a Musical Department.

Savannah, Ga.—Human musicians will not be the only songsters entertaining visitors to the 1925 Georgia State Fair, which opens at Savannah on October 26 and runs through October 31. There will be feathery musicians as well, especially canary birds, which will be on exhibition in the annual canary show as a feature of the pet stock division of the poultry and pigeon department.

In the opinion of the management, canary birds can be produced and marketed profitably; in fact, there is quite an industry now in which canaries are bred and sold as a money-making business in Savannah and other places in this territory. The industry, it is felt, is entitled to expansion, and, therefore, a canary bird department has been made a part of the State Fair program.

There will be a special space for the display of the canaries, and the premiums will be awarded, both for winners in the Savannah contests and in the general contests.
