SOUTH'S BEST BABY

Baby Charles M. Lamm, Jr., southern prize winner and 100 per cent perfect, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lamm of Wilson, N. C., and Richmond, Va. The baby, although but nine months of age, has been declared by physicians to be better developed than the average child of a year old. He has nine teeth, walks, and speaks one-syllable words distinctly.

REGRETS KILLING OF SNAKES

Editor, The People-Sentinel:

I read the article published in a recent issue of The People-Sentinel by Mr. T. J. Ready, relative to king snakes climbing trees, and it is somewhat interesting to think of how they could climb a tree largely devoid of limbs.

Incidentally, however, Mr. Ready was really guilty of killing two of his best friends, as the king snake, while the deadly enemy of the formidable rattlesnake, which he hunts and kills for food, to man is utterly harmless. I regretted, therefore, to read of the death of these harmless and beneficial creatures.

Barnwell County Man Joins Tailors' Guild

B. F. Anderson, of Dunbarton, has been elected to membership in the Born Tailors' Guild, a national association of master tailors, according to word from headquarters of the organization in Chicago. The Guild, with the slogan, "Tailors are born and not made," aims at lifting the tailoring profession to a higher plane of perfection in the art of making clothes and to establish in the minds of men any young men in definite appreciation of style, fabric and tailorship in clothes.

The Born Tailors' Guild is attempting to model its organization after the craft organization of the early English times, according to W. A. Churchill, who is its executive secretary. "The members of the old Guilds were bound by oath of brotherliness to uphold the standard of the profession and to pass down from generation to generation the treasured secrets of their craft. Before a man could become a master tailor he had to serve seven years as an apprentice and two years as a journeyman during which time he was taught all the skill and secrets of the trade. The present Guild has much the same spirit. Our purpose is to bind together the master tailors of America in an effort to raise the standard of the trade to the end that it may be placed in the class of an art. We further seek to bring back into the tailoring craft some of the old-time romance and idealism of Tooley street. And above all we want our tailors to reassert their pride in perfection of workmanship and to study men's dress as a profession."

The Grand Master of the Guild is M. Born of Chicago, head of the tailoring house of M. Born and Co., which he established fifty years ago and in whose honor the Guild is named.

Former Barnwell Man Is Producing Bananas

The following dispatch, which appeared in Tuesday's issue of The State, will be read with interest by the Barnwell friends of the Rev. W. J. Snyder, who was pastor of the Barnwell Methodist church a number of years ago:

Georgetown, Aug. 17.—The hot weather that has prevailed this summer has contributed in a beneficial way at least to the production of tropical vegetation and its fruiting. When the Rev. W. J. Snyder and Mrs. Snyder came to Georgetown a little over a year ago, the former to become pastor of the Duncan Methodist church, he brought with them two banana trees, which they set out in front of the parsonage. These trees have grown rapidly and are bearing fruit which is fast developing. Already there are more than 20 little bananas in sight and every two or three days more are becoming visible. The trees and their product are objects of much interest and curiosity on the part of the inhabitants.
