LEMON BROS., Inc.

Mr. J. B. Goodson returned to his home in Gainesville, Fla., on Monday after visiting friends and relatives in Barnwell and Barnwell County for several days. Mr. Goodson holds a position as bookkeeper and cashier for the University of Florida.

The many friends of Mr. R. S. Dicks will learn with pleasure that he is recovering rapidly after a very serious operation which was performed last week at a Columbia hospital. It is understood, however, that he will not be able to return home for about two weeks.

A Correction
Attention is called to an error in the price of lard in the advertisement of Terry Bros. Cash and Delivery Store, appearing on page seven of this issue. The price as printed is 7 1/2 cents per pound, whereas the correct price is 17 1/2 cents. Readers of this paper will be governed by the corrected price.

The Letter Box

Couldn't Do Without It

Judge R. C. Holman, of Barnwell, in renewing his subscription to The People-Sentinel, writes as follows: "An enclosing check for — Want to say here that you have improved your paper wonderfully and I consider it a very newsy sheet and could not do without it. Just wish you the best of success in the future."

A Real Home Letter.
"Enclosed find check for paper. We look forward to its weekly visits as a real home letter," writes Mrs. W. C. Baxley, of Atlanta, Ga.

Enjoys the Paper.
"We look with pleasure for the weekly arrival of your paper. Barnwell is my home county," writes Mr. S. S. Furse, Jr., of the firm of Furse and Lawton, cotton factors, of Savannah.

The House by the Side of the Road.
"He was a friend to man, and he lived in a house by the side of the road."—Homer.

There are hermit-souls that live withdrawn,
In the place of their self-content;
There are souls, like stars, that live apart
In a fellowless firmament;
There are pioneer souls that blaze their path
Where highway never ran—
But let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I,
I would not sit in the scorner's seat,
Nor hurl the cynic's ban;
Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I,
I would not sit in the scorner's seat,
Nor hurl the cynic's ban;
Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I,
I would not sit in the scorner's seat,
Nor hurl the cynic's ban;
Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—

Pains Very Severe

"I suffered from womanly troubles which grew worse and worse as the months went by," says Mrs. L. H. Cantrell, of R. F. D. 9, Gainesville, Georgia.
"I frequently had very severe pains. These were so bad that I was forced to go to bed and stay there. It seemed to me my back would come in two.

CARDUI

For Female Troubles

"I taught school for a while, but my health was so bad I would have to stay out sometimes. This went on till I got so bad I didn't know what to do.
"One day I read about the merits of Cardui, and as I had some friends who had been helped by it, I thought I would try it. I began to get better after I had taken half a bottle. I decided to keep on and give it a thorough trial and I did. I took in all about 12 bottles and now I am perfectly well. I do not suffer any pain and can do all my housework."
