improvement there during the past year. The two Tamassee bonds, which had been purchased by the chapter for $50 each were handed and were given into the care of Mrs. J. L. Shuler, custodian of the scrap book. The various packages composing the shower were then opened and found to contain yards of cloth of various kinds, pillow slips, towels, etc.

The hostess had invited about 15 guests who came in for the social hour. After their arrival, Mrs. G. C. Matthews proposed that all present go on a nutting party. A merry hunt through the hall and parlor resulted in the finding of quite a number of nuts. When opened some were found to contain "nutshell news of interest," others conundrums which occasioned much guessing before being answered and still others jokes.

All guests contrived to the fun of the "nutting party" after which the hostess, assisted by her charming little daughter, Laura and a few friends served delightful refreshments.
