

The design of the 1925 Tuberculosis Christmas Seal as shown above is quite a departure from the Santa Claus and figure designs of recent years. Its holly, mistletoe and candles symbolize the spirit of Christmas and love of humanity. The double-barred cross, the emblem of the fight against tuberculosis, links the idea of health with the idea of the Christmas Spirit in the conventional decorative design. It was produced by Robert G. Eborhard, professor of Sculpture at Yale University and an artist of note, and his associates in the Graphic Arts Studio, New York. A billion and a quarter seals have been printed. South Carolina has been challenged to sell three million five hundred thousand.

Hercules News.

Hercules, Nov. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Mengis and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harley, of Charleston, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harley.

PAUL BEFORE AGRIPPA

LESSON TEXT—Acts 25:1-26:32.
 GOLDEN TEXT—"I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision."—Acts 26:19.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Tells Why He Obeyed Jesus.
 JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Tells a King About Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Obedience to the Heavenly Vision.
 YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul's Defense of His Mission.

More than two years had elapsed since Paul had been tried before Felix, during which time Jewish hatred for him had not abated. As soon as Festus, the new governor, went to Jerusalem he was besieged with accusations against Paul. His accusers desired that he be brought to Jerusalem for trial, intending to lie in wait and kill him on the way. Festus refused their request, but agreed to give them an opportunity to accuse Paul if they would go down to Caesarea. They were unable to prove anything against him. Festus, willing to please the Jews, proposed to send him to Jerusalem for trial. Paul rebuked Festus for this, declaring that he knew very well that he was innocent. Seeing that it was impossible to get justice before Festus, Paul made use of his right as a Roman citizen and appealed to Caesar. This surprised Festus. His failure to release an innocent man placed him in an awkward position for he could give no explanation as to why an innocent man should go to Rome for trial.

1. Paul Before the King (25:13-27).
 The occasion of his appearing before Agrippa was the visit of Agrippa and Bernice to Festus. Upon their arrival they expressed a desire to hear Paul, whereupon Festus told them of his perplexity. So it was arranged that Paul be brought before them for examination. The gospel should be preached to all regardless of wealth or station in life.

2. Paul's Defense Before Agrippa (26:1-27).
 1. The Introduction (vv. 1-3).
 He expressed his delight that he now could speak and tell his case to one who was able to follow his line of argument, for Agrippa was an expert in questions concerning the Jews; but most of all he was now happy in witnessing to him of the Savior, and perhaps leading him into the light of God.

2. His Manner of Life (vv. 4-12).
 This he showed had been in strictest accord with the most rigid sect of Jews. He possessed the same hope, i. e., that of a coming Deliverer, and reminded them of the fact that formerly he was most bitterly opposed to Christ as his zeal would prove.

3. His Supernatural Conversion (vv. 13-17).
 Jesus Christ appeared to him on the way to Damascus and revealed Himself to him.

4. Jesus Christ Commissioned Him for His Work (vv. 16-18).
 He was sent unto the Gentiles:
 (1) To open their eyes so awfully blinded.
 (2) To perform the blessed work of bringing them from darkness to light.
 (3) To turn them from the power of Satan unto God.
 (4) That they might receive forgiveness of sins.
 (6) And that they might obtain an inheritance among the saints.

5. His Consecration (vv. 19-23).
 As soon as he received his commission he obeyed. Every man should

Farm Facts by County Agent H. G. Boylston

For best results seed corn should be properly protected from insects, etc., as well as being stored so as to prevent damage from moisture and so on. The weevil sometimes does damage to seed corn. This can be overcome by storing the seed in a tight box and pouring a small amount of carbon bi-sulphide into a container which is placed on top of the seed before the box is closed. This will prevent any damage that might occur from insects. However, care should be exercised not to expose the gas from the above liquid to fire, as it is inflammable.

Fall plowing is a good practice and preparation of the land can be done now, giving the organic matter which is turned into the soil an opportunity to properly decompose before the time for the growing crop. As a rule a large portion of land can best be planted to spring crops which has been prepared by early fall and winter plowing.

For winter egg production poultry should be properly fed and cared for; a good house, plenty of water with a balanced ration are some of the essentials. Some green feed along with scratch grain and dry mash will go a long way towards having eggs at this season of the year.

You should now begin to prune and spray the home orchard. Scuppernongs should be pruned immediately, as pruning done later will usually cause large amount of sap to be lost and may result in the death of the vines. However, peach trees and other fruits may be pruned until the last of the winter.—H. G. Boylston, County Agent.

Instantly obey the call of God and devote his life to carrying forward the work entrusted to him. The vigorous prosecution of his work brought him into conflict with the Jews, for which they sought to kill him.

6. The Interruption by Festus (v. 24).
 Seeing how thoroughly in earnest Paul was, Festus attempted to account for it by calling him a crank, attributing it to the ravings of an unbalanced mind.

7. Paul's Appeal to Agrippa (vv. 25-27).
 Still maintaining his courage, he appealed to Agrippa's knowledge of the work of Jesus and of the prophets, for they have an intimate connection.

III. Agrippa Almost Persuaded (vv. 28-32).
 Whether Agrippa's answer was a contemptuous sneer or not, it is quite evident that his soul was wrought upon. He saw the claim of Christ upon him but was unwilling to yield. Sad indeed, that a man should be so near to eternal life, and yet lost! Paul took Agrippa seriously. His heart longed that Agrippa and all concerned, might accept Christ and be saved.

For Religious Peace

It would make greatly for religious peace in this country if we all learned to rejoice when we hear of others finding God in any way, and ceased to insist that our own way is the best.—A. Herbert Gray.

Dignity of Manners

A certain dignity of manners is absolutely necessary to make even the most valuable character either respectable or respected in the world.—Lord Chesterfield.
