MAJ. J. A. MEYER DIED SATURDAY

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

Many Friends Attended Funeral of Grand Old Man of Barnwell County Sunday Afternoon.

Major James Anslem Meyer, one of Barnwell County's grand old men, died suddenly at 6:15 o'clock Saturday morning at his home in Meyer's Mill, aged 80 years. Although he had been in failing health for several years, his last illness was only of three days' duration and was not considered alarming by members of his household. In fact, he was dressing when the final summons came and died a few minutes after members of the family reached his bedside.

The funeral services were conducted at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Steel Creek Baptist Church, the Rev. E. H. Clark officiating in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and sympathetic friends from every section of Barnwell County, who gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to this splendid gentleman-nero of the Lost Cause. Interment followed in the family cemetery, and his last resting place, was covered with beautiful floral designs.

Major Meyer was loved by all wh knew him, for he was one of the most lovable men that it has ever been the good fortune of this writer to come in contact with. He was of a kindly, genial disposition, courtly of manner, just and generous in his dealings with his fellow men-in short, the highest type of Southern, Christian gentleman. He entered the Confederate service at an early age, being only about 22 years old at the close of the War Between the State. He was in a number of severe engagements and fought gallantly for the Southern Cause. After the close of that grim struggle, he fought the battles of peace no less gallantly and played a conspicuous part in the restoration of his beloved State.

Major Meyer deemed it a pleasure and a privilege to favor a friend, and he had no enemies to punish. He rendered great assistance to Confederate Veterans and their widows in securing pensions for them and took an active part in the reunions of his comrades, being a charter member of Camp Marrall, U. C. V. He was a devout member of the Steele Creek Baptist Church, which he served for fifty years as deacon. He was a retired, farmer, having Sidewalks of Town spent his entire life at Meyer's Mill, where he was born and which was Williston, Dec. 5.-Mrs. Cary named after him. #### CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN OPENS mportance Shown by Fact That Tuberculosis Claimed 19 in County Last Year.

HOPE TO INCREASE PER CAPITA SALE THIS YEAR.

"If no one asks you to buy Christmas Seals—ask someone to sell you some." This is the appeal made today by Mrs. A. A. Lemon, campaign manager, who said that many people wanting seals-would undoubtedly be missed in the general selling campaign, and that those that were not approached were urged to get in touch with the local committee. Christmas Seals in any quar ity can be procured by telephoning No. 84-W or calling at Mrs. Lamon's residence.

For the convenience of those wishing to procure more seals and those not solicited, the little penny "for health" seals will also be placed on sale in the downtown stores, the manager announced. Seais may be procured at the following places:

Home Bank, Bank of Western Carolina, Best Pharmacy, and Mace and Deason Drug Co.

Many novel uses of the Christmas Seals are reported from other cities. In one city the cheerful little stamps are appearing on party invitations, allies, and place cards, in addition to the ordinary mail. The use of the seals in this way not only gives an attractive Christmas touch, but also shows that the user is personally giving her support to the campaign for

It is hoped to increase the per capita sale of Christmas Seals this years and to win the highest place in the State Seal Sale Honor Roll. If every one in the county will do little in the campaign, it will not only increase the chances for a high stand, but will also make possible far-reaching health work in our own county

"The Christmas Seal Sale does not ask much of any one, but it asks something of every one," said Mrs. Lemon, "for the fight against tuberculosis is everybody's job, and until the disease is completely controlled no home is absolutely safe.

"The larger the sale of Christmas Seals the greater will be the health work we can do in our county next year. Free clinics, health lectures, health movies, health book! its for our schools, services of a demonstration nurse or clinic follow-up worker are among the projects for our county these little penny seals make possi-

In announcing plans for the sale, the local committe calls attention to the fact that the Christmas Seal sale is not to be confused with the Red Cross roll call, which has just been completed. The two organizations are entirely separate, each carrying on a most important and valuable work, but programs which are used for the campaign to wipe out tuberculosis and to make every community in the State a healthier place.

The importance of the campaign and the necessity for using a stamp or seal, on every letter or pack going out between now and is shown by the fact that 19 death occurred in Barnwell County last year from tuberculosis and there are now 190 persons in the county who are suffering from this dread disease.
