

"The seal ought to sell," says a Barnwell man, "merely because of its decorative value entirely aside from the great work for which it stands." It is pronounced by advertising experts the equal of any commercial seal in artistic merit and is lithographed on better material than ever before.

Mr. Eberhard teaches sculpture at Yale University and is an artist of note. The design is quite a departure from the Santa Claus and figure designed in recent years. Its holly, mistletoe and candles symbolize the spirit of Christmas and love of humanity. The double barred cross, the emblem of the campaign against tuberculosis, links the idea of health with the idea of the Christmas spirit in the conventionalized decorative design.

Sheriff Dyches Finds Note At Still Raided Tuesday

"Bonnie Dyches, dear sir, please don't take up this still if you find it. Yours truly and friends, he, ha."

The above is a copy of a note, written on a piece of cardboard, that Sheriff Boncil H. Dyches found tacked on a box at a still which he captured on Simon Branch Tuesday morning. The appeal was in vain, however, and the plant, which was a complete steamer of 40 gallons capacity, together with 2,250 gallons of mash, was destroyed by the Sheriff and his deputy, Mr. P. O. Beasley. Two young white men, who were at the still at the time of the raid, made their escape but Sheriff Dyches states that he recognized them both and has issued warrants for the arrest of William and Reuben Wood. One of the men left his cap, which the Sheriff is carrying around as a trophy of the chase.

This is the second outfit that Sheriff Dyches has found on Simon Branch in the past week. In a raid Saturday morning, less than a mile from where the above still was found, he walked up on Maletus Harley, white, and William Reed, colored, busily engaged in laying brick at a plant which consisted of a complete steamer of 100 gallons capacity and 4,000 gallons of mash. After assisting the officers to destroy the still, Harley made a dash for liberty and succeeded in making his escape, but it is understood that he later gave bond for his appearance at Court.

Gifts for Library.

The Barnwell High School library has already received three Christmas gifts. Mrs. P. M. Buckingham presented a beautiful set of Morris' Historical Tales. This set helps to fill a need for interesting books for parallel reading for the pupils who especially enjoy History.

Mrs. C. C. Simms presented Wells' History of the World, and several novels and other books suitable for

High School boys and girls.

The third gift was a box of books from Mrs. Maude Holmes. Most of these are books of the sugar-coated history type, which give a great deal of history under the disguise of an interesting story.

All of these gifts help to fill the great need of our library for reference books and for interesting parallel and general reading and are appreciated very much.

It is the hope of the teachers and pupils that these generous gifts will stir others, who have books for which they do not have special need or which they do not wish to keep for sentimental reasons, to present them to the High School library. There is a very keen need for reference works of all kinds that can be used by high school pupils. The library also needs books for little children. Parents who have books that the children have outgrown can get them out of the way and at the same time help the school very much by giving them to the school library.

Young Boy Breaks Arm.

Among the absences for the past week, one especially has aroused the sympathy of his class. J. W. Sanders, of the ninth grade, had the misfortune to break his leg by falling from a haystack. In some way his foot was caught between two pieces of plank and a very severe break resulted, making it necessary for him to go to the hospital. We hope that his recovery will be very rapid and that he can soon be with us again.

Services at Mt. Arnon.

Kline, Dec. 7.—Preaching services will be conducted at Mt. Arnon church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and at Allen's Chapel at 3:30 o'clock p. m. As these will be the last services by the Rev. Guy Martin, he expresses the hope that as many members as possible will attend.

IN MEMORIAM

Major James Anselm Meyer.

A mighty oak in the forest of humanity has fallen. At his home a mile from Meyer's Mill, at 6:15 a. m., on the fifth of December, 1925, our friend fell asleep in the arms of Jesus, as the tiny babe upon its mother's breast. He was a polished Christian gentleman of the old South, a large planter, living in his home of elegance, surrounded by those environments that mark the owner as "lord of the manor." As slave owner, he maintained the home of comfort and abundance, where Southern hospitality was generously extended to every one so fortunate as to enter its precincts.

Mr. Meyer was always ready to lend a helping hand in all good works. He was a charter member of Camp Morrill, U. C. V., and was our first Commandant and our last. He was dearly beloved by his comrades and all who knew him.

"Full many a gem of purest ray serene

The deep unfathomed caves of ocean bear;

And many a flower is born to blush unseen

And waste its fragrance on the desert air."

Three weeks since I spent the day with Brother Meyer and found him cheerful and patient. He said, "I have been here long enough. I thank God for His goodness to me. I am prepared to go when the Master calls me." His were the words of the Christian Soldier. He has been a deacon in the Baptist Church for fifty years and recently gave $3,000 for rebuilding of Steele Creek Church. He also aided the Barnwell Church. He entered the Confederate Army as a young man and was only 22 at the surrender. He was in many engagements and distinguished himself by his bravery. He was a sincere friend, and was active in aiding the ex-soldier and his widow in securing their pensions.

His funeral was preached by the Rev. E. H. Clark, of Augusta, to a large congregation on the 6th inst, and his body was interred in the family cemetery.

"The heroes wrested from us
Have not lived nor died in vain,
For their memory's bow of promise
Spans our years of pain."
Nicholas A. Patterson..

Is Your Work Hard?

Many Barnwell Folks Have Found How to Make Work Easier.

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back? Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn? There is no peace from that dull ache.

No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.

Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Barnwell people recommend Doan's. C. C. Owens, drayman, Barnwell, says: "Jolting while riding on the wagon irritated my kidneys and they acted irregularly. I became lame and my back was stiff and sore. My kidneys acted too freely and I had to get up several times at night. The secretions were highly colored and contained sediment. I went to the Best Pharmacy and got Doan's Pills. Doan's relieved me in a short time."
