Courts Too Easy on Liquor Law Breakers

R. B. Fickling, of Blackville, Cites Sentences Imposed at Recent Barnwell Term.

The Hon. R. B. Fickling, of Blackville, a former member of the house of representatives from Barnwell County, is protesting against the "extremely light" sentences imposed by circuit judges upon violators of the prohibition laws and cites ten sentences imposed by Judge Featherstone at Barnwell last month as verifying his contention that the courts are too easy on these law-breakers. Mr. Fickling writes as follows to The State: To the Editor of The State:

I surely appreciate your editorial of October 2nd. I have watched for quite a while the light sentences given those convicted of crime.

I am mailing you a clipping from the Barnwell People-Sentinel of September 24th showing the extremely light sentences given numbers of violators of the prohibition law and this session presided over by a judge who ran for governor on the prohibition ticket.

We have a sheriff who is trying hard to stop crime in this county and is running down prohibition violators and this is the result after his efforts.

If the judges would make heavier fines and longer time on the chain-gangs this crime would be greatly decreased. R. B. FICKLING. Blackville.

Sentences at Barnwell.

The clipping inclosed by Mr. Fickling reports prohibition law cases tried in full term of general sessions for Barnwell County before Judge Featherstone with sentences as follows:

Solomon Dunbar and Cal Smith pleaded guilty to the charge of violating the prohibition law and each was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or serve 30 days, fine paid.

John L. Bowers, violation of the prohibition law, pleaded guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or serve 30 days.

Barnwell High Wins From Elloree, 7 to 0

Heavier Visiting Team Is Completely Outplayed and Takes Short End of Score.

The Barnwell high school football team defeated Elloree high, 7 to 0, here Friday afternoon in a hard fought game.

Barnwell completely outplayed the visitors from the opening kickoff to the closing whistle. The majority of the game was played in Elloree territory with the visitors playing a defensive game throughout.

Barnwell's hard charging line was led by Black, who played an excellent game on both offensive and defensive. The backfield play was featured by C. Sanders on offense and defense and by Milhous on offense. Both of these boys played excellent ball and Sanders' defensive work was in a large part responsible for Elloree's failure to gain.

Late in the third period Sanders carried the ball over for the only touchdown of the game and Lemon added the extra point by making a beautiful catch of a pass.

To date Barnwell has played two games, defeating Elloree Friday afternoon and holding the strong North high team to a scoreless tie here the previous Friday afternoon.

Crippled Children's Clinic.

Those of Barnwell County who have been interested in the little cripples of the county, 61 below the age of 21 years, will be interested to learn that Dr. F. A. Hoshall, surgeon for Charleston district, of which this county is a part, will continue to hold clinics every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon between the hours of 2:00 and 4:00 o'clock at Roper Hospital in Charleston. This makes it possible for the Children's Committee of Barnwell County and all others interested in this humanitarian work to render personal service to all of our crippled children up to 21 years of age, who are indigent.

After examination by Dr. Hoshall the necessary treatment will be prescribed by Dr. Hoshall and this treatment will be paid for out of State-Federal funds and out of the Crippled Children's Seal Funds.

The county chairman is calling for volunteers to carry these little cripples to the clinics. In every section of the county there are crippled children and those who will volunteer to take a car of children will please get in touch with the county chairman, Mrs. G. M. Greene, and all arrangements will be made for the children. Expenses, such as gasoline, oil and dinner for the driver will be furnished volunteers in this work.

Dr. David J. Dixon, who has been much interested in this work and who has done excellent work among the colored folks of the county, has volunteered his services for this week, when he will carry four children from in and around Barnwell.

Dr. Hoshall has been conducting these clinics since February and in that length of time he has examined 55; five have been hospitalized at Roper and each child has received 30 treatments; 15 trips have been made by the County Health nurse and an average of two crippled children taken on each trip.

Mrs. Greene was called to Columbia on Tuesday for a meeting of the executive committee, of which she is a member.

Anderson Legislator Cold to Wannamaker

Representative Rufus M. Newton Says He Is Not Pledged to Cherau Man for Speaker.

Columbia, Oct. 2.—Representative Rufus Newton, of Anderson, said today that while he was a supporter of Governor Olin D. Johnston, he did not feel bound to support L. C. Wannamaker, of Chesterfield, State administration nominee for the speakership of the house.

Newton had been mentioned as a possibility for the post prior to a caucus at which Johnston adherents designated Wannamaker, a representative-nominate, as their candidate.

The Anderson representative, a member for the last four years, commented here, "I am definitely of the opinion that the speaker should be an experienced man in the legislature. I believe in recognizing faithful service in the house and seniority."

Dislikes Caucus Idea.

The candidates at present are Wannamaker, who served in the house in 1920-'22 and Speaker Proteus Solomon Blatt. Newton, who did not attend the caucus nominating Wannamaker, said:

"Asked as to my attitude toward the race for the speakership of the house, in view of the fact that I had been mentioned as a possible candidate some weeks ago. I wish to say, in order that there be no misunderstanding now or later, that I do not feel bound to support the nominee of a caucus on the speakership held here last month and attended by a large number of representatives.

"In saying this, I wish to make it plain that I do not deviate one whit from my support of Governor Olin D. Johnston, but I cannot agree with the procedure of caucusing followed in this instance. I do not believe it originated with the governor.

"Not Pledged to Him."

"I attended a conference of six old members of the house, all of them mentioned as possibilities for the speakership, including myself. I said at that time that while I would serve speaker if elected, I was not a self-seeker after the position.

"When informed that a general caucus was being called, I telegraphed Governor Johnston that I could not conscientiously attend it, but would lend my support to the person chosen. There was no mention of the present nominee at that time; the conference earlier left me definitely of the belief that the nominee was to come from that group of members who had served in recent years, and I telegraphed the governor on that basis.

"The caucus then selected as a candidate a gentleman whom I do not know, and one who has not served in the house for fourteen years and who presumably could not be as familiar with its current problems and present rules as one of the six members previously considered. I may support the nominee upon coming to know him, but simply feel that I am not pledged to him."

Representative-nominate Thomas Pope, of Newberry, said earlier that he and several others who attended the caucus had not committed themselves at it, since they were elected as independents.
