Delay now might make you lose subscriptions. Since no candidate is limited to any particular field in which to work, another person might come right into your vicinity and gather in payments you easily could secure yourself.

Start today. Do not let anyone else come in and take subscription payments away from you. Every subscription means money to you. Every dollar counts. Every vote you have issued in your name makes all the more certain that you will be a prize winner.

The People Sentinel and the campaign manager wishes it strictly understood by all those who may enter as to the commissions. If you have been paid during the campaign $60 in commissions (or any other amount) the sum is to be deducted from the $500, should you be awarded the first prize.

Should it so happen you had been paid $60 in commissions during the campaign and be awarded the second prize of $250, then you would be given a check for $190 to make up the total prize of $250, as advertised. The commission is also deducted from all grand prizes.

So delay no longer. The campaign is just starting. Get busy and secure that first subscription today. Your own payment, if you wish, will give you the 20 per cent commission. This will give you a nice start. Then ask everybody you know for their subscription to The People-Sentinel.

You can win. Do not overlook this fact. You can win. It is right up to you to try.

People who know you will see your name on the list. If your name does not show, there will be many friends of yours who will give a payment to another worker, feeling certain you will not ask them yourself. Make no mistake about this fact. Be sure to have your name show next week.

The first prize of the campaign is $500 in cash, or a 1937 Ford or a Tour of the West for two persons with all expenses paid. The second prize is $250, and the third prize is $100 in cash. The candidates having the three highest totals of votes the closing night, June 5th, will receive these awards, highest standing in votes taking highest prizes.

It is not a well known fact for many people that 20 per cent commission counts up quickly. Just do a little figuring for yourself. Every dollar you hand in on subscriptions in this campaign will pay you 20 per cent, right away. If you secure ten subscriptions today, three dollars of that is yours immediately. You just cannot lose in this campaign.

Remember this also—while you are working hard to gather in that 20 per cent towards the final prizes the closing night, you are also qualifying on those big prizes as well.

You who enter this campaign will not be under any expense in traveling since the 20 per cent commission would pay, many times over, for gas and oil you might use. As a matter of fact every advantage is in your favor. You are paid the 20 per cent commission and at the same time are in a position to gather in a big prize at the close of the campaign.

Who, in your section, is interested? You may think of someone you would like to enter and work for a prize. Right now is the time to decide.

Speaker Blatt Host at Columbia Dinner

Presiding Officer of House of Representatives Has Members as Guests at Hotel.

Columbia, April 28.—Solomon Blatt, of Barnwell, speaker of the house of representatives of South Carolina, was host at dinner last night at the Jefferson hotel to members of the house, attaches and newspaper men who cover house proceedings.

The occasion, marked by the fine fellowship and numerous impromptu speeches, was greatly enjoyed by about 150 guests, and proved one of the most enjoyable social features of the present legislative session.

After partaking of an appetizing menu, during which an orchestra played, Rep. Olin Sawyer, of Georgetown, took the gavel as toastmaster, and, after a few appropriate remarks, introduced numerous house members who spoke briefly.

J. E. Harley, president of the senate and a citizen of Barnwell, and Senator Edgar A. Brown, also of Barnwell, were among the guests outside of the house membership.

Rep. Sawyer complimented Speaker Blatt on the success of the occasion and introduced Senator Edgar A. Brown, who spoke on "Legislative Comradeship." Senator Brown was followed by other speakers, all of whom expressed their pleasure at being present. Many took occasion to express appreciation of Speaker Blatt's fairness and impartiality, and to wish him continued success in his political fortunes. Humorous references were made to "extra remuneration" and the fine good humor prevailed throughout the evening.

After the speeches, Speaker Blatt was surrounded by guests who thanked him for his hospitality and congratulated him on the success of the occasion.

The invocation was by the chaplain of the house, the Rev. R. I. Corbett.

Music was furnished by Jack Wardlaw and his orchestra.

Entertains Senate.

Lieut.-Gov. J. E. Harley, of Barnwell, was host on Wednesday evening of last week to the members of the Senate and a number of other invited guests at the Jefferson Hotel. This was one of the most delightful affairs of the legislative session and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Lieut.-Gov. Harley was complimented by various senators upon his ability as a presiding officer, and all agreed that his rulings have been fair and impartial.

Barnwell CCC Camp Nearly 3 Years Old

Local Unit Has Aided in Preventing Serious Timber Fires Since Its Establishment.

The Barnwell civilian conservation corps camp, located about two and a half miles west of Barnwell, will pass its third birthday the latter part of June. Since the opening of this camp, several hundred boys who were unable to get jobs have lived and worked here for periods of from a few days to 18 months.

Experienced leaders are at the camp to teach the boys different trades, so that when their time is up they are fitted to go out and make a living for themselves. Illiterates are taught in night classes the fundamentals of education, such as reading, writing and arithmetic. Others, who had education from grammar grades to high school graduates are taught typing, carpentry, engineering, and many other trades.

The enrollee constructs simple roads, builds bridges, constructs fire towers, plants trees and fights woods fires. There now are three fire towers in Barnwell County, under the supervision of Fire Ranger M. F. Usery. At each one of these towers a house and outbuildings have been constructed with CCC labor. A ranger is stationed at each tower. In event of a fire the enrollees, if needed, are called to duty.

Telephone lines have been constructed from the camp to the county ranger's office in Barnwell and to each fire tower so that the alarm may be spread rapidly. This system of woods protection has meant much to the woodlands of Barnwell County and the enrollees have done much to prevent larger areas from being burned.

Besides food and shelter, the CCC enrollees are given expert medical attention. The religious work is carried on by chaplains and by ministers from the Barnwell Churches who hold services at the camp.

The Barnwell camp is a beauty spot. Tennis courts, a basketball court and a volley ball court have been constructed so that there is plenty of recreational advantages for the members.

The camp is at present under the command of Captain Crawford and "Bull" King, former all State football player while a student at The Citadel, is in charge of the educational and recreational side of camp life. The forestry division is under the supervision of F. H. Cuthbert.
