BOOK CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. JONES.

The members of the Barnwell Book Club were entertained by Mrs. W. M. Jones at her home on Saturday afternoon. After the regular exchange of books had been held the members had a short business session. During the social hour, which followed, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

TOPSCORE BRIDGE CLUB MEETS.

Mrs. George R. Evans was hostess to the members of the Top Score Bridge Club at her home on Washington Street on Tuesday afternoon. After several rounds of cards had been played it was found that the high score prize, a make-up set, had been won by Mrs. Solomon V. Brown, and the consolation prize, a box of stationery, was cut by Mrs. G. Bates Hagood. Mrs. H. M. Killingsworth was also remembered by the hostess with a powder and perfume set. The hostess served delicious shrimp creole with coffee for refreshments. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Evans' hospitality, other than club members, included Mrs. Solomon V. Brown, Mrs. Lessie B. Easterling and Mrs. H. M. Killingsworth.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON CONTRACT CLUB.

The members of the Wednesday Afternoon Contract Club were entertained by Mrs. T. Ralph Brown at her home on Upper Main Street. After several rounds of cards had been enjoyed it was found that the high score prize for club members a box of stationery, had been won by Mrs. B. P. Davies, Sr., and the consolation prize for club members, also stationery, had been cut by Mrs. Charlie Brown, Sr. The guest prize, a box of powder, was awarded Mrs. George R. Evans. The hostess served a delightful quail plate with cranberry tarts and coffee for refreshments. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Brown's hospitality, other than club members, included Mrs. Charlie Brown, Jr., and Mrs. Geo. R. Evans.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT ENJOYED HERE.

The members of the junior class sponsored a bridge tournament in the home economics room of the local high school on Friday afternoon, for the purpose of raising money for the junior-senior banquet. There were eight tables set up for bridge. After several rounds of cards had been played it was found that the high score prizes at each table had been won by the following ladies: Mrs. W. J. Lemon, Mrs. E. J. DaCosta, Miss Mildred Manning, Miss Rosalie Spann, Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Solomon V. Brown, Mrs. W. W. Carter, and Mrs. B. P. Davies, Sr. Delicious sandwiches and spiced tea were served for refreshments.

JUNIOR-SMART SET BRIDGE CLUB.

The members of the Junior-Smart Set Bridge Club were entertained by Mrs. T. Ralph Brown at her home on Upper Main Street on Thursday afternoon. The high score prize for club members, a powder dish, was won by Mrs. Mordecai Mazursky, while the consolation prize for club members, a deck of cards, was cut by Mrs. W. L. Molair. The high score prize for guests, a deck of cards, was awarded Mrs. W. H. Lacey and the consolation prize, a set of measuring cups, was cut by Mrs. J. P. King, Jr. After cards had been laid aside for the afternoon the hostess served a delicious salaq course with coffee for refreshments. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Brown's hospitality, other than club members, included Mrs. J. P. King, Jr., Mrs. W. H. Lacey, Mrs. Marvin Holland, Mrs. Perry B. Bush, Mrs. R. E. Brown, Mrs. J. E. Harley, Jr., and Mrs. Terie Richardson.

NIGHT HAWKS BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. B. W. Sexton was hostess to the members of the Night Hawks Bridge Club at her home on Upper Main Street on Friday evening. A delicious supper, consisting of quail on toast with all the trimmings, was served the guests before bridge was enjoyed. After several rounds of cards had been played it was found that Mrs. Solomon Blatt had won the high score prize and that Mrs. Perry A. Price had won the floating prize. Mrs. Sexton had decorated a Christmas tree, attached gifts to it, the gifts being attached to a string and each guest was allowed to pull a string and receive a gift in the order in which her score came. Mrs. Blatt being allowed the first pull. Those who enjoyed the affair, other than members, included Miss Rosalie Spann.

BRIDGE PLAYERS ENJOY BANQUET.

The first annual banquet of the members of the Ace of Clubs was held in the private dining room of the Barnwell Hotel on Friday evening. A delicious full course turkey supper was served the guests in the dining room, following which bridge was enjoyed on the mezzanine floor. After several rounds of cards had been enjoyed it was found that the high score prize for ladies, a box of candy, had been won by Mrs. Charlie Brown, Jr., and the consolation prize for men, also candy, had been won by Charlie Brown, Jr. Each guest was presented with a favor, which, when popped, rewarded the owner by giving his or her fortune and also provided a cap. Mr. and Mrs. George R. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Solomon V. Brown acted as members of the host committee for the affair.

LOCAL GARDEN CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS.

The members of the Barnwell Garden Club were entertained by Mrs. L. C. Vickery and Mrs. L. A. Plexico at the home of the latter on Thursday afternoon. During the business session the following officers were reelected to serve during the coming year: Mrs. J. J. Bell, president; Mrs. J. E. Mahaffey, vice-president, and Mrs. E. D. Peacock, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Bell then appointed the following committee chairmen: Mrs. G. M. Greene, program committee; Mrs. B. L. Easterling, attendance committee; Mrs. P. W. Stevens, publicity committee and Mrs. Quincy Martin, birthday treasurer.

After the business session was completed a most interesting program was given. Mrs. Charlie Brown, Sr., led a discussion on "the Cultivation of Chrysanthemums" and Mrs. B. L. Easterling gave an excellent reading.

During the social hour an unusual and entertaining contest was held with Mrs. J. J. Bell being the winner. After the contest the guests were invited into the dining room, which was tastefully decorated in true Christmas decorations, and delicious refreshments were served. The dining room table was centered with a "Christmas pie," which was a large container covered with red tissue paper. Placecards were at each 'guests' plate with a ribbon attached to it and leading to the "pie." Each guest was told to pull the ribbon and they were rewarded with a gift, which was attached to the other end of the ribbon.
