

HOME SERVICE COTTAGE

and gives the cook easy access to any article which she may need. The front room on the right of the house has been converted into an office. It, like the other rooms in the house, has been made scrupulously clean, papered and stained, and gives a most business like appearance. The desks, filing cabinets, etc., are arranged properly and every possible needed article is in the room for the proper operations of the office workers.

There are curtains at every window in the house, these curtains having been made from old sheets, which were cut to proper size and then dyed. They add considerably to the appearance of the place, both from the inside as well as the outside.

The first outside improvement made on the house was the changing of the steps from the center of the house to one end of the porch so that running vines could start in the front for protection from the sun and to give some privacy. Besides the changing of the porch, lattice work was also put up from the ground to the sills of the house to cover the space underneath the house. This has added quite a bit to the outward appearance also.

In the yard, besides the planting of flowers and shrubs, a bird house, bird bath and small wooden figures have been placed to add to the looks. The circular drive, the shrubbery around the edges of the house and around in the yard have made a completely different looking place out of the cottage and its surroundings.

The project is sponsored by the WPA, under the supervision of Mrs. O. H. Best and her workers, and is probably one of the best projects ever attempted by the department of the government relief in Barnwell County. It offers an answer to the question put forth by many men and women who have no funds but who would like to live in cleanliness and as much comfort as possible. The complete renovation of the cottage, the improvements inside and out, the building of the furniture, the papering of the walls and the staining of the floors, required practically no cash outlay. The work can be done by anyone with the will to work, a few pieces of lumber and a few nails.

The cottage is open to public inspection at any time and the workers are most anxious for the people of this section of the State to come and view what they consider the best such project in the State of South Carolina.

Society.

Women at Tallahassee, Fla. She has been a member of the Brooksville schools for the past five years. She is well known in Barnwell, where she visited friends on several occasions, and she will be cordially welcomed upon her return here to make her home.

Mr. Fuller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fuller, of Barnwell, and is a graduate of the Barnwell high school. He attended Clemson College, the University of South Carolina, where he was a member of the S. A. E. fraternity, and last year was a student in the National School of Art in Washington, D. C. He holds a position with the C. G. Fuller Construction Co., and is at present located in Bamberg.

After a wedding trip to Miami, Fla., and other points of interest in the southern part of Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller will visit the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dean, in Conneaut, Ohio. Upon their return, they will make their home in Barnwell.

Hilda H. D. Club.

The members of the Hilda Home Demonstration Club held their regular meeting in the school house at Hilda on Monday afternoon. After a short business session the lesson for the month was led by Miss Elizabeth McNab, Barnwell County Home Demonstration Agent. Several interesting points were brought out in the lesson discussion by those who were present. A good number of the members attended this meeting.

Who Gets The Cotton Mill Dollar?

The value of any public asset is measured by its service to mankind. How much is it worth to each citizen; or, to put it more bluntly, what does each man, woman and child get out of it?

It is important to revalue our public assets from time to time and determine their true worth.

The Cotton Textile Industry is generally recognized as one of South Carolina's public assets, though in reality it is financed by private capital. What then is it worth to each citizen of the state? Is it really worth while? Who gets each cotton mill dollar? Let us see.

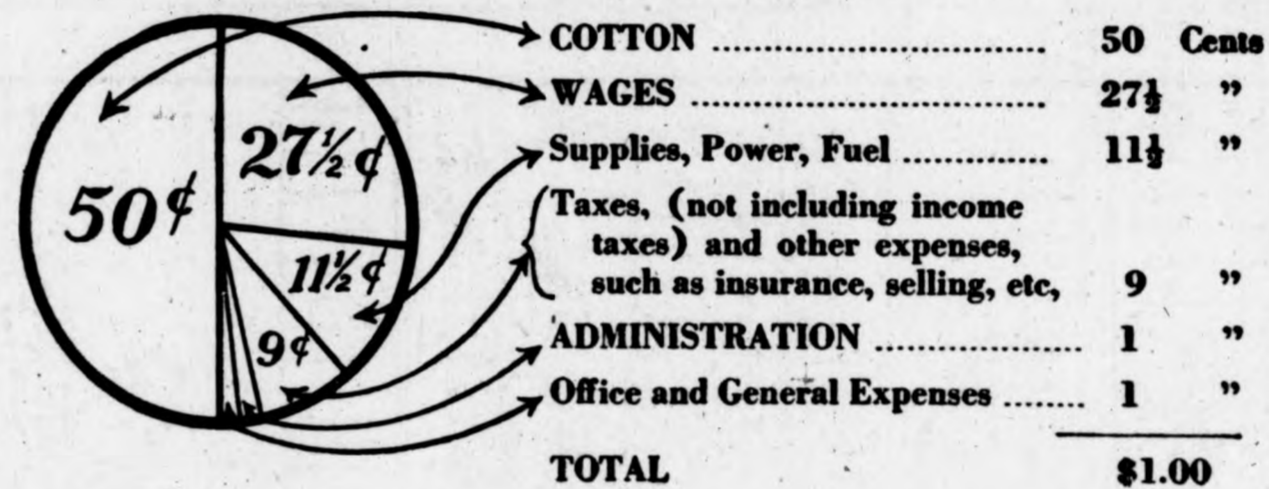

Half of each cotton mill dollar goes to the farmer for cotton, and while the farmers of South Carolina in 1936 only raised 76 per cent. as much cotton as our own mills consumed, practically all of what they do raise is sold in the state. The farmer has a huge stake in our mills.

Then 27½ cents goes to the operatives. Together the farmers and the mill employees got over ¾ of every dollar spent by our cotton mills in their operations the first half of this year.

Of the balance, 22½ cents, fully half the amount is spent in the state for taxes, power, supplies, materials and services of all kinds, repairs and general office and administrative expense.

These interesting and authentic figures are based upon the experiences of a representative group of South Carolina mills for the first six months of this year (1937).

CLUB MARKET PROVIDES NEEDS FOR CHRISTMAS

The Barnwell Club Market, an organization operated under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth McNab, Barnwell County Home Demonstration Agent, for the benefit of the farm women of the County so that they will have a regular place to sell their produce every week, has provided a large amount of the Christmas decorations.

In addition to these they also had full lines of all Christmas delicacies, such as turkeys, chickens, eggs, milk, butter, cream, vegetables, hams, sausage and practically every known article available at this season. The market is operated twice a week, Wednesdays and Saturdays, in the renovated town hall located near the Barnwell Baptist Church and every salesday there are a sufficient number of the members with produce to enable the housewives of Barnwell and the surrounding communities to fill their tables.

Boy Scouts Enjoy Hunt.

The first meeting of the newly formed Barnwell Boy Scout troop was held on Thursday night and after the meeting a possum hunt was enjoyed by those present.

The troop is making considerable headway, according to the scoutmaster, J. P. Scoville, for the short length of time since its organization and he stated that he believed it would grow in popularity not only with the boys but with their parents as well, as further meetings and activities are held. The members are most enthusiastic over the work and the scoutmaster, his assistant, G. R. Evans, and the local advisory committee have pledged their efforts to make it a success.

The possum hunt, which resulted in the capture of two possums and one rabbit, was under the supervision of Scoutmaster Scoville and Dr. L. T. Clayton, local sports enthusiast, and the following boys also enjoyed the hunt: Buddy Sexton, Wingard Carter, Joe Halford, Bubber Stevens, Burton Halford, Barrett Boulware, Larry Brown and Harry Lee O'Bannon.

Parked Car Wrecked.

The automobile of Col. Solomon Blatt, speaker of the house of representatives, was badly damaged on Christmas Day while parked in front of the home of his sister, Mrs. Mirmow, in Orangeburg, being hit head-on by another machine driven by a negro, who was allegedly drunk. The Blatt car was so badly wrecked that Colonel Blatt had to borrow a car from his brother-in-law in which to bring his family back to Barnwell, leaving his in Orangeburg to be repaired.

Julian Sanders.

Olar, Dec. 27.—Julian Sanders, the 8-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frampton Sanders, died of double pneumonia on Dec. 1st. His body was laid to rest the following day in the Mt. Lebanon Churchyard in Barnwell County, the funeral services being conducted by the Rev. W. J. Swyndale.

Julian was a bright boy and was well liked by his teachers, school mates and all others who knew him. The family received many expressions of sympathy in their bereavement.
