

Two years ago we thought "Gov. Chamberlain" a necessity. He was then in the front fighting the thieves. As Governor Hampton has since then, however, kindly undertaken the little job of cleaning out the State, we don't consider Mr. Chamberlain a necessity any longer.

The city council of Columbia has brought upon itself the unqualified condemnation of the taxpayers, by first raising the salary of the mayor, city attorney and other officials, and then refusing to rescind this action.

The Charleston Journal of Commerce falls into the error of calling Mayor Agnew a result of a compromise policy. Mr. Agnew was the regular nominee of the Republicans; while the taxpayers generally, and many colored men, rallied to the support of Capt. Stanley, and the fight over the mayoralty was bitter.

And now a new wonder has come to light, or rather in light. Gen. Augustus Pleasanton has written a book in which he portrays at length the medical properties of blue glass, and the effect it has in promoting the growth of plants, and alleviating nervous disorders in man.

In the South, colored glass is not needed to make the sun's rays and everything look blue. We have lived in a cerulean atmosphere for some time. This accounts for the health of the country, if Gen. Pleasanton is correct in his theory.

Returning Board Rascals.

It seems that the fate of the nation is to depend upon the acts of three returning boards, composed of notorious corruptionists, and notorious falsifiers. No unprejudiced mind can fail to believe that Tilden carried both Florida and Louisiana. It was left for the Electoral Commission to judge whether the returning boards had properly or improperly rejected Tilden's votes.

This is the horrible machinery by which the Radical party is to be perpetuated. These are the men who, year after year, are expected to reverse the verdict of the people. These are the men upon whom the swiftest and most condign punishment should fall.

Why is South Carolina to-day trembling with hope, fear and apprehension? Solely because of the revolutionary and outrageous conduct of the Canvassing Board—sleek, oily thieves and traitors. Not content with former plunder, they crowned their villainy with an effort to steal a State.

denunciation of Radicalism, these villains have have escaped scot-free, while Chamberlain, Patterson, E. W. M. Mackey, Corbin and the Radical Senators have been compelled to bear the brunt. Chamberlain, Patterson, Mackey and Grant himself would have been powerless for evil but for the flagrant crime of this rascally returning board.

THE REVENUE PERSECUTION.—Van Buren Hendricks was killed on Monday night last, fifteen miles above Greenville, S. C., on the Asheville road, whilst attempting to arrest Hubbard Garmany, an escaped convict from the Greenville jail, for illicit distillery.

On the same day, Jackson Ward, living in Glassy Mountain Township, whilst walking in the highway, with one of his children in his arms, was shot at by a revenue officer named Johnson, and the child killed. Johnson is now in jail.

COL. HASKELL'S EVIDENCE.—Before the select committee considering the President's message regarding the use of troops in the South, A. C. Haskell, of South Carolina, testified that he had threatened disturbance in South Carolina, before or after the late election, calling for the interposition of troops.

"Which is the largest gland?" asked a Chicago medical professor of the newest arrival in his class the other day. The student buried himself in deep and attentive thought for a moment, and then brightening up suddenly exclaimed: "The largest gland, sir, is England."

Dr. John H. Davis, a prominent citizen of Laurens county, died on the 8th inst., at the age of eighty-six years. He had been successful both as a physician and an agriculturist, and in his long life had so borne himself as to gain the love and esteem of all who knew him.

LOGICAL.—Lady (to shopman, after making him turn over all his stock) —"There, that's exactly the quality I want, but its green, and I want plum color." Insinuating shopman —"You can't do better than take this. Besides, ma'am, it is plum color." Lady—"What! Plum color?" Shopman—"Certainly. Only the plums are not ripe."

If Hayes goes in, the Radicals can justly claim that they have dined on the fragments of the Republic—that is to say they 8 it up.

There will be no races at the Charlotte, N. C., fair grounds this spring.

To the School Trustees of Fairfield County.

THERE are no funds at present available for School purposes in Fairfield County. Nor can it be ascertained when there will be. As the deficiencies which have yearly accrued in unpaid certificates have materially affected the welfare of the educational system, we have decided after mature deliberation not to add to this embarrassment. It therefore becomes our duty reluctantly to notify you to close all public schools which have been opened, until you receive further notice from us.
