Fighting for Millions.

NEW YORK, March 10.—All attempts at compromise having failed, the objections to the probate of the will of Commodore Vanderbilt were filed in the Surrogate's office this afternoon. The objections embraced the following points: The objectors aver that the writings offered for probate are not the last will and testament or codicil of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, nor did the testator sign the papers either in the presence of the attesting witnesses or at all, or declare them to be his last will or codicil thereto.

WHAT SIMON SAYS.—Simon Cameron don't say much, but what he does say is acid. A friend asked him if he did not think it an extraordinary thing to refer the Cabinet slate to committees. The wiry politician bit his lip, and, with a twist of the head, said: "Yes, sir; yes, sir. A very extraordinary thing. But this promises to be quite an extraordinary administration."
