

Thursday, April 5, 1877.

R. MEANS DAVIS, Editor,
JNO. S. REYNOLDS, Associate Editor.

Mr. Oaky Hall has turned up (h)all O K in England under an assumed name.

The New York Journal of Commerce of the 29th of March says:

"The appointment of ex-Governor Aiken, of South Carolina, as Collector of Customs at Charleston, and ex-Governor Porter, of South Carolina, as United States District Attorney for that State, will probably be made as soon as the gubernatorial contest is settled."

Upon what authority the Journal of Commerce speaks, is not given; but President Hayes could not perform a more graceful act of recognition towards the intelligence and propriety of South Carolina than by making these appointments.

The National Republican, of Washington, pays a high tribute to Judge Mackey in the following:

Governor Hampton and the gentlemen associated with him will leave Washington for South Carolina to-night. Among those who have most prominently represented Governor Hampton and his cause at the National Capital, Judge T. J. Mackey stands pre-eminent. A Republican, unalterably, in his political faith, and holding his alliance sacred with the National Republican party, as represented by President Hayes, as the necessary agent to lift his people up to a higher plane of civilization, he advocates Hampton and home rule with a zeal and sagacity which have made the cause of Governor Hampton a household word throughout the country.

At Last!

The welcome tidings have been received that Mr. Hayes will at last take a decided step in the course mapped out in his inaugural. The troops are to be removed from the State House, and the management of local affairs in South Carolina will be relegated to the people. No longer will the tread of the sentry be heard in the corridors of the State Capitol, nor the statue of Washington look down upon the destroyers of the constitutional liberty he fought to establish. And it may be stated also, with some degree of confidence, that no longer will the sable visages of the Chamberlain constabulary be seen in bas-relief against the granite walls. Chamberlain acknowledges that this move establishes Hampton, and it is possible that he will yield to the force of circumstances, and bow himself down and out.

It may be confidently expected that at last the devil is dead, that political and social anarchy is no more, and that a new era of prosperity is at hand. South Carolina has passed through the deep waters, and now stands upon higher and firmer ground than ever before.

Now that, with success assured, we can reason calmly, it seems, perhaps, not unfortunate that the complete fruition of our hopes was delayed until the heat of the campaign had subsided, and both the victors and the vanquished had been prepared to accept it. There will be much more of forbearance on the one hand and acquiescence on the other now than there would have been earlier. The material progress will be surer, because more gradual. The flush of political victory would have engendered reckless financial speculation, by which a collapse would have been inevitable. Now, prudence will be commingled with confidence, and business ventures will be all of a legitimate nature.

Another thought presents itself. The people should wear gracefully the laurels they have won. Clemency was the crowning virtue of Caesar, and peace has her victories more renowned than war. Governor Hampton has counseled moderation and guaranteed justice to all. He will perform his pledges to the letter. And all who respect him and desire the welfare of South Carolina will co-operate in the endeavor to make our victory not the triumph of a fiction but of the people, not of expediency but of right, not of partisanship but of liberality.

At the same time the Democratic party, which was the instrumentality of achieving reform, must be the vehicle of its perpetuation. Let it continue in solid phalanx, opening only to receive fresh recruits. The day is not far distant when all, black as well as white, except only the thieves and scoundrels, will bless the day that made Wade Hampton the Governor of the whole people of South Carolina.

The Order for the Removal of the Troops.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 3.
General W. T. Sherman, Commanding United States Army.

GENERAL: I enclose herewith a copy of a communication from the President of the United States, in which he directs that the detachment of troops now stationed in the State House at Columbia, S. C., be withdrawn, and returned to their previous barracks or camping ground. You are hereby charged with the execution of this order, and will cause the withdrawal of the troops on Tuesday next, the 10th of April, at 12 o'clock, m.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

Geo. W. McChary,

Secretary of War.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Our Town Police.

Messrs. Editors:

Presuming that the newly elected town council is open to suggestions touching matters affecting the public welfare, I beg through your columns to direct attention to the importance of having a more efficient police force. It is a notorious fact that the community generally is not satisfied with the present members of the police, inasmuch as their fitness and qualifications are seriously questioned. That there are good grounds for dissatisfaction there can be no possible doubt, and it is to be hoped that the fact of its existence has already become so apparent to our "city fathers" that they will not hesitate to act at the proper time in accordance with the generally expressed wishes of the citizens, namely, that the town should have better policemen than those now employed.

TUTT'S PILLS

A distinguished physician of New York says: "It is astonishing how universally Dr. Tutt's Pills are used. In my daily rounds, I hear of them not only among the poor, but their virtues are heralded from the mansions of the wealthy and refined. Knowing the inventor from his long connection with the medical profession, I have great confidence in their merits, and of late have often prescribed them with the happiest results in cases where I desired to make a decided impression on the liver."

Dr. Tutt has been engaged in the practice of medicine thirty years, and for a long time was demonstrator of anatomy in the Medical College of Georgia, hence, persons using his Pills have the guarantee that they are prepared on scientific principles, and are free from all quackery.

He has succeeded in combining in them the heretofore antagonistic qualities of a strengthening, purgative, and a purifying tonic.

Their first apparent effect is to increase the appetite by causing the food to properly assimilate. Thus the system is nourished, and by their tonic action on the digestive organs, regular and healthy evacuations are produced. The rapidity with which persons take on flesh, while under the influence of these Pills, of itself indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, and hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, melancholy, dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, and chronic constipation.

WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Aug. 3, 1875.

Dr. Tutt:—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to dyspepsia, constipation, and piles, and had well nigh exhausted the materia medica for relief from this living death, when, by accident, your Pills were brought to my notice. I began their use, and the first dose gave me such relief that I continued to take them. I am now a well man, have a good appetite, can digest well, the piles have disappeared, and I have gained forty pounds in solid flesh. I would not be without them for their weight in gold.

"THE ANSON HARDY CUTTING MACHINES are the best, and cheapest low priced machine made, and have a national reputation for utility and durability."—The Electrotypist, Chicago.

THE ANSON HARDY PAPER CUTTER is by far the best machine which can be obtained for a less price than one hundred dollars. It is of great strength. These machines have always taken the highest stand. It is the only machine to which is applied the Patent Movable Cutting Board. This device has a reputation of itself; by it, the cutting board can be instantly and accurately moved, so that a perfect cut is insured. This is a very important point in the machine, and one that is possessed by no other. It greatly reduces the labor of preparation in working the paper backward and forward. We cannot too strongly recommend the advantages of this patent movable board. It is worth the price of this machine, and purchasers should fully understand how highly it is to be valued."—Geo. P. Rowell & Co.'s Newspaper Reporter and Printer's Gazette.

THE LATEST IMPROVED HARDY CARD CUTTER is pronounced the most desirable Card Cutter in the market, for the general uses of a printing office.

The well known RUGGLES CARD CUTTER, with my latest improvements, is still preferred by many printers, and holds its favoritism over other machines.

None genuine but those having my full address lettered in the casting.

Newspapers in want of advertising from first parties should send for my circular.
