Coloridge as a Talker.

The life of Bryan Waller Procter (Barry Cornwall), which is to be published shortly, contains some very interesting reminiscences of literary great men that have never before been given to the public.

Coloridge as a Talker. The life of Bryan Waller Procter (Barry Cornwall), which is to be published shortly, contains some very interesting reminiscences of literary great men that have never before been given to the public.

Several anecdotes of Coleridge's doings follow, of which we make room for two:

"One day, when dining with some lawyers, he had been more than usually eloquent and full of talk. His perpetual interruptions were resented by one of the guests, who said to his neighbor, 'I'll stop this fellow; and thereupon addressed the master of the house with, 'G—, I've not forgotten my promise to give you the extract from The Pandeets. It was the ninth chapter that you were alluding to. It begins: 'Ac veteres quidam philosophi.' 'Pardon me, sir,' interposed Coleridge, 'there I think you are in error. The ninth chapter begins this way: 'Incident sope cause,' etc. It was in vain to refer to anything on the supposition that the poet was ignorant, for he really had acquaintance with every subject. I imagine that no man had ever read so many books and at the same time had digested so much."

The second anecdote is given in illustration of Coleridge's propensity to talk perpetually upon whatever subject any one might suggest:

"He had come from Highgate to London for the sole purpose of consulting a friend about his son Hartley ('our dear Hartley'), toward whom he expressed, and I have no doubt felt, much anxiety. He arrived about one or two o'clock, in the midst of a conversation, which immediately began to interest him. He struck into the middle of the talk very soon, and held the 'ear of the house' until dinner made its appearance about four o'clock. He then talked all through the dinner, all the afternoon, all the evening, with scarcely a single interruption. He expatiated on this subject and on that; he drew fine distinctions; he made subtle criticisms. He descended to anecdotes, historical, logical, rhetorical; he dealt with law, medicine and divinity, until at last, five minutes before eight o'clock, the servant came in and announced that the Highgate stage was at the corner of the street and was waiting to convey Mr. Coleridge home. Coleridge immediately started up, oblivious of all time, and said in a hurried voice: 'My dear Z—, I will come to you some other day and talk to you about our dear Hartley.' He had quite forgotten his son and everybody else in the delight of such an enraptured audience."

An engineer, writing, to the Baltimore Gazette upon the project of M. de Lesseps to flood the Great Desert of Sahara by letting in the water of the sea, goes into a calculation to show the effect of this step upon the harbors of the world. The waters of all the seas on the globe cover 144,000,000 square miles in round numbers, and the Desert of Sahara covers about 4,000,000 square miles. The average depth of the proposed new sea is 80 feet, from which it is calculated the decrease in the level of the present sea would be 2 2/9 feet.

The children of Gen. Stoneman, the extensive California planter, have at least four kinds of fruit every day in the year. The General mentioned this fact to a correspondent one day when he dropped into a drug store to order a puncheon of paregoric.

VEGETINE

VEGETINE has never failed to effect a cure, giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

SHE RESTS WELL

SOUTH PLAINS, ME., Oct. 11, 1876. Mr. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—I have been sick two years with the liver complaint, and during that time have taken a great many different medicines but none of them did me any good. I was restless nights and had no appetite. Since taking the Vegetine I rest well and relish my food. Can recommend the Vegetine for what it has done for me.

Yours respectfully, Mrs. ALBERT RICKER. Witness of the above, Mr. Geo. M. Vaughan, Medford, Mass.

VEGETINE

Thousands will bear testimony (and do it voluntarily) that Vegetine is the best medical compound yet placed before the public for renovating and purifying the blood, eradicating all humors, impurities or poisonous secretions from the system, invigorating and strengthening the system debilitated by disease; in fact, it is, as many have called it, "The Great Health Restorer."

SAFE AND SURE.

Mr. H. R. STEVENS: In 1872 your Vegetine was recommended to me, and yielding to the persistent of a friend, I consented to try it. At the time, I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostrations, superinduced by overwork and irregular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose, and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling. Since then I have not hesitated to give Vegetine my most unqualified endorsement as being a safe, sure and powerful agent in promoting health and restoring the wasted system to new life and energy. Vegetine is the only medicine I use, and as long as I live I never expect to find a better.

Yours truly, W. H. CLARK, 120 Monterey Street, Allegheny, Pa.

VEGETINE.

Vegetine thoroughly eradicates every kind of humor, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition.

The following letter from Rev. G. W. Mansfield, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Hyde Park, and at present settled in Lowell, most convincingly every one who reads this letter of the wonderful curative qualities of Vegetine as a thorough cleanser and purifier of the blood:

HYDE PARK, MASS., Feb. 15, 1876. Mr. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—About ten years ago my health failed through the depleting effects of dyspepsia; nearly a year later I was attacked by typhoid fever in its worst form, it settled in my back and took the form of a large deep-seated abscess, which was fifteen months in gathering. I had two surgical operations, by the best skill in the State but received no permanent cure. I suffered great pain at times and was constantly weakened by a profuse discharge. I also lost small pieces of bone at different times.

Matters ran on thus about seven years, till May, 1874, when a friend recommended me to go to your office and talk with you of the virtues of Vegetine. I did so, and by your kindness passed through your manufactory, noting the ingredients, etc., by which your remedy is produced.

By what I saw and heard I gained some confidence in Vegetine.

I commenced taking it soon after, but felt worse from its effects; still I persevered and soon felt it was benefiting me in other respects. Yet I did not see the results I desired, till I had taken it faithfully for a little more than a year, when the difficulty, in the back was cured, and for nine months I have enjoyed the best of health.

I have in that time gained twenty-five pounds of flesh, being heavier than ever before in my life, and I was never more able to perform labor than now.

During the past few weeks I have a scrofulous swelling as large as my fist gather on another part of my body.

I took Vegetine naturally and it removed it level with the surface in a month. I think I should have been cured of my main trouble sooner if I had taken larger doses, after having become accustomed to its effects.

Let your patrons troubled with scrofula or kidney disease understand that it takes time to cure chronic diseases, and if they will patiently take Vegetine, it will, in my judgment, cure them.

With great obligations I am, Yours very truly, G. W. MANSFIELD, Pastor of the Methodist E. Church.
