A Reporter's Vengeance.

A difficulty arose between a Chi cago reporter and a native of sunny Italy who kept a peanut stand in that city of big fires and keen enterprise. One day the reporter, with the daughter of a millionaire hang ing on his arm, passed the stand of the marchese, when the latter exclaimed : "Hi-a, cully, when-a youa pay me zose vife cents, hom ?" What happened after that the Chicago Tribune relates as follows : The reporter went to the office and took an oath on the assignment book to be avenged-to be fearfully avenged ; then he wrote a little item headed "A City Romance," in which he stated that the marchese was an eccentric Roman prince who had given all his estates to the Church in penitence for murdering his brother who was his rival in the affections of a beautiful countess, and that by economy, poker, dice and speculation in suburban lots he had accumulated a fortune of nearly $300,000 in Chicago. Then he smiled a fiendish smile, and induced the city editor to give it a big display head, and went on his way rejoicing. That poor Italian never knew what mined him. When he got to his accustomed sta tion next morning there were about two hundred men waiting for him, to borrow money from him on ample security at ten per cent. a month ; to get him to become a partner with $650 in a well cestablished business that would pay $26,000 a year if the additional capital could only be secured ; to sell him some Calumet real estate ; to sell him a trotting horse that could show 2:64 every day in the week (price $450), and for various other purposes. His knowledge of English was very imperfect, and he was an excitable man, so when the eleventh speculator came up and asked him to lend him $15,000 to start an oleomargarine quarry he blacked his eye, and in the confusion that arose his portable stove was sacked and the peanuts scattered to the four winds o'heave: The police restored order, and then he was notified that if he persisted in collecting such crowds around him and becoming a public nuisance, his license would be revoked. Then the collectors for various societies began to besiege him, and while he was driving them away with a club his last lot of peanuts burned. Then a delogation from the Gliana Gliana Charles and the system to a healthy condition. The following letter from Rev. G. W. a delegation from the Chicago Com-mune visited him, and, when he refused to divide, according to the principles of liberty, fraternity and couplity fell mon him as a traitor. equality, fell upon him as a traitor, and mashed him as flat as several | blood: paneakes. After the police surgeon had sewed on his car, and stitched his nose together, the marchese started home, wheeling his cart, which had only half a shaft and one wheel left, and surrounded by a bevy of anxious mothers who wanted to secure him and his title $300,000 for their daughters. After a while he placed himself under the protection of the police, and about ten o'clock the coast was sufficiently at different times. clear for him to venture out. When he had nearly reached home he was sand-bagged and gone through by a highwayman, who had tracked him all day, and who, when he only found two nickles and a door key on tho marchese, sand-bagged him till he was black and blue and sore all over. After lying senseless a while he managed to crawl to his lonely hovel, and found that a gang of entorprising burglars had already been there and torn up the floors, and ripped up the bed, and smashed up the furniture and dug out the chimney with pickaxes, looking for his $300,000. The poor Italian had merely strength enough to crawl to the river and pitch himself in, and as the reporter was going home about two a. m., and saw the splintered peanut-car, he knew that his vengeance was complete, and, hurry ing back to the office, put a little item in the "Personals" to say that the Italian marchese and millionaire, whose wealth had been described time to cure chronic diseases, and if they the day before, had purchased a will patiently take Vegetine, it will, in palatial residence at Naples, and left Chicago the evening before to occupy it and spend the remnant of his days in opulonce. Such was the reporter's vengennee. The threatened Mormon uprising is characterized by General Sheridin as "bosh."

His success in converting sinners is said to be something marvelous. Some of the "hardest cases" have been melted by him and plucked like One Year. - - - - $4.00 Six-months. - - - 2.00 Three months. - - - 1.00 only twenty-four years of age and of a frail constitution. His nervous energy is immense. Since his seventeenth year he has been an exhorter. He is a Methodist. Dur-ing the past four months 1,400 persons have been turned to grace from sinfulness, and 1,100 of these resided in the city of Baltimore.

The Methodists and Methodist Protestants, who have been in session in Baltimore for several days patching up a reunion, have succeeded, and the separate committees are in joint session.

VEGETINE has never failed to effect V a cure, giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease. SHE RESTS WELL South Poland, ME., Oct., 11, 1876.

MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir-I have been sick two years with the liver complaint, and during that time have taken a great many different medicines but none of them did me any good. I was restless at nights and had no appetite. Since taking the Vegetine I rest well and relish my food. Can recom-mend the Vegetine for what it has done

Wours respectfully, MRS. ALBERT RICKER, Witness of the above, Mr. Geo. M. Vaughan, Medford, Mass.

VEGETINE.

Thousands will bear testimony (and do it voluntarily) that Vegetine is the best A fine stock of medical compound yet placed before the public for renovating and purifying the blood, eradicating all humors, in:purities or poisonous secretions from the system, invigorating and strengthening the system debilitated by disease; in fact, it is, as many have called it, "The Great Health Restorer."

SAFE AND SURE,

Mr. H. R. STEVENS; In 1872 your Vegetine was recommend-ed to me, and yielding to the persuasions of a friend, I consented to try it. At the time, I was suffering from general debili-ty and personal constraints. ty and nervous prostrations, superin-duced by overwork and irregular lights, Its wonderful strengthening and cuptive properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose, and under its system from the first dose, and third, its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gain-ing more than usual health and good feeling. Since then I have not hesitated to give Vegetine my most unqualified in-dorsement as being a safe, sure and powerful agent in promoting health and res-toring the wasted system to new life and energy. Vegetine is the only medicine I use, and as long as I live I never expect to and a hottor to find a better.

Yours truly, W. H. CLARK, 120 Monterey Street, Alleghany, Pa.

Hyde PARK, Mass , Feb. 15, 1876. MR. II, R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—About ten years ago my health failed through the depleting effects of dyspepsia; nearly a year later I was atnacked by typhoid fever in its worst form, t settled in my back and took the form of a large deep-seated abscess, which was fifteen anoths in gathering. I had two surgical operations, by the best skill in the State but received no permanent cure. I suffered great pain at times and

Matters ran on thus about seven years till May, 1874, when a friend recom-mended me to go to your office and talk with yeu of the virtue of Vegetine. I did so, and by your kindness passed through your manufactory, noting the ingredients, etc., by which your remedy is produced. By what I saw and heard I gained some confidence in Vegetine. I commenced taking it soon after, but felt worse from its effects; still 1 per-severed and soon felt it was benefitting me in other respects. Yet I did not see the results I desired, till I had taken it faithfully for a little more than a year, when the difficulty in the back was cured, and for nine months I have enjoyed the best fhealth.

I have in that time gained twenty-five pounds of flesh, being heavier than ever before in my life, and I was never moae able to perform labor than now.

able to perform labor than now. During the past few weeks I have a scrofulous swelling as large as my fist gather on another part of my body. I took Vegetine faithfully and it re-moved it 'evel with the surface in a month. I think I should have been cured of my main trouble sconer if I had taken larger dpses, after having become accustomed to its effects.
