AGRICULTURISTS!

Emperor William Cabbage,

THE best, largest, hardiest and mest profitable variety of winter cambides known in Europe, and imported to this country exclusively by the undersigned, where, with little cultivation, it flourishes astonishingly, attaining an enormous size, and solling in the market at prices most gratifying to the producer. In transplanting, great care should be used to give sufficient space for growth. Solid heads the size of the mouth of a flour barrel, is the average run of this choice rariety. One package of the seed sent rariety. Che package of the seed sent post paid on receipt of 50 cents, and one 3 cent postage stamp. Three packages to one address $1.00 and two 3 cent stamps. Twelve packages sent on receipt of $3.00.

Read what a well known Garreti Co. Marylander says of the EMPEROR WIL-LIAM Cabbage:

BLOOMINGTON, GARRET Co., Md., Jan. 22, 1877. Mr. James Campbell, 63 Fulton St. N. Y. Dear Sir:—I bought some seed from you last spring, and it was good. Your Emperor William Cabbage suits this climate well. On a mountain side the seed you sent me produced Cabbages weighing thirty pounds each.

Very truly yours, JAMES BROWN.

THE WAY AT WEST POINT.

CLOSING EXERCISES AT THE NA-TIONAL ACADEMY.

Everything here is now full of ife and gaiety. The hotels are filled with guests, many of them being relations or friends of the cadets, come to witness the annual examinations and bear off with them the happy cadets who shall graduate. Walks, talks, drives, rides, reviews, flirtation and general jellification within the limits of becoming mirth are the order of the day. The weather continues charming, and there is nothing to mar the pleasures of the occasion.

THE COLORED CAPET.

Flipper, the colored cadet from South Carolina, was up this after: noon and acquitted himself remarkably well. Some time since he was recommended for a higher grade than the one he holds, and his performance to-day gained him a still higher standing in the class.

PRACTICE AND PRECEPT.

"I propose," said the Rev. Mr. Richardson at the meeting of the Board this afternoon, "to have appointed an additional committee, whose duty it shall be to investigate the condition of the cadets; to see whether they use tobacco or anything of that kind," and thereverend gentleman knocked the ashes from one end of his cigar, and peered at the other august members through the clouds of smoke which one and all were busily engaged in pulling. A smile illuminated the faces of the two 3 cent stamps. Twelve package sent gentlemen, but no objection was on receipt of $3 00.

My supply is limited. Parties desiring to secure either of the above rare seeds, should not delay their orders. of Pennsylvania.

LIGHT ARTILLERY DELLE.

Hundreds of visitors from adjacent towns were attracted to the Point this evening by the announcement that the light artillery drill would be held. This is considered one of the most beautiful of military exhibitions, and it was conducted by Colonel Alexander Piper in dashiqig style. Six rifled guns of three inch THE undersigned respectfully announces to the citizens of Fairfielo that he has removed his Boot and Magafactory to one door below Mr. upon their pieces, and those who acted as officers leaped to their them off at a lively trot in platoor,s.

RAPID MOVEMENTS. The entire drill was gone through without a single mishap or accident, much to the wonder of the uninitiated, at least, for in the execution of the various movements, wheeling right and left, limbering and unlimbering, and firing, liere, there and everywhere, with the rapidity of lightning the cadets seemed to become reekless in their enthusiasm and leaped off and on the carriages while going at a gallop. The rapidity with which the pieces were discharged excited the admiration of every

THE SWORD FOR THE CROSS.

"And talking of that reminds me of a curious circumstance at that battle. I stood upon a mound between the Confederateartillery, under command of Captain William W. Gen. T. M. Logan, of Richmond will deliver the annual address beguns commanded by Colonel Charles fore the survivors of Hood's Toxas the first person I confirmed was Captain Cairnes, and I ordained Colonel Parsons, who gave up the military life, as a priest of the Episcopal church."

THE COMMISSARIAT.

A Brilliant Scene - The Colored Cadet-Practice and Precept--A Brilliant Drill - Reminiscences-- Cadets in a The committee on Commissariat und Mess reported to-night that they had inspected these departments and found everything deserv ing of high praise. As already stated in the Herald, the quality of the food and supplies has very much improved under the management of Lieutenant Mills, and their cost has been materially reduced.

CHEAP WASHING.

The laundry interested the committee very much. It is filled up with steam apparatus manipulated by hired men and women. The cost of washing a pair of heavy gray cloth trousers is only three cents, and but two cents is charged for washing and ironing a pair of the white linen trousers worn by cadets, while a shirt is laundried for one cent.

FINANCIAL PROSPECTS.

Many of the graduating cadots were troubled about their financial prospects. Congress not having passed the Army Appropriation bill they will get no pay while off on furlough after graduating, and as some of them are not burdened with this world's goods they do not know what they shall do. There probably never will be a time in their lives when they will need money so much as they do at present, because they are for the most part without civilian clothing, without trunks or any of the thousand and one things that a min in ordinary life needs. To supply a graduate with an outfit would require at least $500, and the greatest sum which one can savo from his pay during the four years of his training is less than $200. What is a poor cadet to do?

The Colorado Shepherd.

New Orleans Times. It is too good to be true, that story about Ben Butler's going to Colorado to turn shepherd. It can not be that Ben is about to encase his noble paunch in a berger's vest and checkerboard his bulging calves in ribbons of many colors. Ben has always got his living by hook or by crook, but never by the shepherd's crook; and though he has often piped all hands to quarters, he never did and never can pipe Phyllis to the garden gate beneath the twink-ling stars. The spooning that Ben has done was not of that kind the poet sang who loved to

" - sport with Amaryllis in the And with the tangles of Næra's hair---"

His spoons were of another and a sterner sort.

W5 should like to see Ben in regulation Corydon togs; like to see him saddles as nimbly as circus riders. with pointed hat and silken stomach Another blast, and the guidon, or and variegated legs, shutting his bad standard bearer, rode to the end of eye over a primitive flute and trilling the line at a gallop and took his soft, plaintiff screnades by night. Everybody would like to know that which the battery formed in a Ben was engaged in amorous and twinkling. When half the parade ground was skirted in that way another call upon the bugle sent metamorphosed into the Flabby Fluter of the Vale. How comforting to feel that never again should that strident voice make echo in the halls of state, but that henceforth it was turned to notes of swan-like sweetness at his Phyllis' eaves! And then how like a gentle dew from heaven the thought that, peradven4 ture, in some soft and stilly night; when all the world was wrappped in sleep and only the earwig and gallis nipper roamed, a band of stealthy red men might slip up on Benjamin where he snored of peace and inno-cence and childhood's happy hour, and disembowel Benjamin beneath the silver moon I Alas! this is but a wierd and fleeta rank fantasy. Even while we rave "Ah," he added, "I have seen that and babble of green fields, the stalwart Benjamin is girding 'np his loins and sharpening his battle axe "So have I," replied Bishop and bellowing to squires and henchmen to lead forth the faming barb, "I saw some pretty hot work of a straddle which he will presently bear down upon the quaking 'White

Go to! Our Benjamin will herd no sheep this year. The billy goat may sigh and the stump-tail bull may warble in the grove, but all in vain for Benjamin!
