SUNDAY EVENING MEETING.—The meeting last Sunday evening was well attended, the remarks made were appropriate and solemn, the prayers earnest, and the singing spirited. The subject for the meeting to-morrow evening will be, "How shall we escape?" The public, and especially the young people in the community, are cordially invited to attend. Services commence at six o'clock.

Township Meeting.

The Democratic Club of township no. 4, met in the Town Hall in Winnsboro on Tuesday evening, the 3rd of July, President Gerig in the chair. A motion was made to go into an election for five delegates to the County Club, which has been called to meet on the 14th instant. The President decided that the motion was out of order, but on an appeal this decision was overruled by a vote of the Club, and the motion finally adopted. Nominations were then called for and the following names submitted: J. H. Rion, G. H. McMaster, Dr. T. T. Robertson, J. H. Cummings and R. M. Huey. It was moved to vote by ballot, and an amendment offered to take the vote by acclamation. The amendment prevailed, and subsequently the President called for the vote by rising. The result was as follows: In favor of the delegates nominated—40; opposed, 12.

On motion, the Club adjourned.

Secretary.

The Glorious Fourth.

The hundred and first birthday of the United States was variously observed. The excursion train which passed over the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad on its way to Augusta, on the evening of the third, was patronized to a considerable extent. The larger portion of the excursionists got on below Columbia, and quite a crowd poured into the streets of Augusta in the still air of the morning of the Fourth. The weather was intensely warm, but the visitors managed to put through the day successfully in seeing the sights. Summerville and the cemetery were favorite resorts. During the day a match game of base ball was played between the "Carolinas" of Charleston, and the "Georgians" of Savannah, the former winning by a score of 13 to 6. A fire engine was brought out for practice, and the nozzlemen amused themselves by turning the two streams against each other. The watery combat lasted several minutes, two or three contestants being knocked down by the stream and one being partially denuded of his shirt. In such amusements was the day spent. All hands were piped on board at eight o'clock that evening, and the excursionists returned home safely. No accidents are reported.

An excursion train for colored people passed Winnsboro on its way to Columbia on the morning of the Fourth. It was jammed, and a number of pleasure-seekers were unable to secure places on the cars. This train returned on Thursday morning. The colored band from Winnsboro boarded the train on Tuesday and went up to Charlotte, then down to Columbia and back again, furnishing music for the occasion.

The day was quietly observed in Winnsboro, only one or two places of business were open, and the chief desire of all appeared to be to keep cool. One man was heard to say "Hang the Fourth," while another was apparently inclined to felicitate himself on the fact that his ancestors were Tories. As a general thing, however, the people were patriotic, to the extent at least of making a holiday of the day.

Thus passed the Fourth.

Too-la-loo.

All day long in Charleston on the Fourth the Battery and White Point Garden were thronged by colored celebrants, the number reaching several thousand. The chief amusement of the day was Too-la-loo, a new song and dance of Ethiopian origin. The reporter of the Journal of Commerce found time in the intervals between munching peanuts and chewing taffey to give the following description of this terpsichorean display. He says:

This performance is a somewhat peculiar one, consisting of singing, dancing, walks around, and kissing. A dozen dusky damsels and their swains form a circle; a leader is chosen, who sings the song, while the rest join in the refrain, keeping time by clapping their hands. A miss then gets into the centre of the circle, and waltzes around while the others sing as follows:

Lady in de garden,
Too la loo;
Lady in de garden,
Too la loo;
Lady in de garden,
Too la loo;
Oh! I love, too la loo.

Then the damsel performs a "pas de scul" while the others keep time singing.

Berry nice motion,
Too la loo;
Nice little lady motion,
Too la loo;
Oh! dat's a nice little motion
Too la loo;
Oh! I love, too la loo.

There is now a pause to give the miss a breathing spell. This ended, the song is resumed, the circle singing:

Go choose you a lover,
Too la loo;
Nice littlelover,
Too la loo;
Handsome lover,
Too la loo;
Oh! I love, too la loo.

Obeying this hint the lady waltzes around the circle, selects her swain, and the twain resume the dance, the circle singing:

Kiss your lover,
Too la loo;
Dat berry sweet lover,
Too la loo;
Kiss your lover,
Too la loo;
Oh! I love, too la loo.

At this point the osculatory performance takes place, the lady kisses her lover, blushes, and retires to the outer circle, while the "berry sweet lover" goes through the same dance to this refrain:

Gentleman motion,
Too la loo;
Berry nice motion,
Too la loo;
But he's a bull-frog motion,
Too la loo;
Oh! I love, too la loo.

Then the gentleman goes through the process described above, chooses his lover, waltzes with her, kisses her and retires to leave the lady to repeat the programme. This was occasionally varied by the following verse by way of interlude and in order to give a breathing spell to the performers:

Aunt Betsy dead?
Yes ma'm.
How long been dead?
So long,
Been to de funeral?
Yes ma'm.
Aunt Betsy dead and gone!

To say that the day was thoroughly enjoyed by the colored people, would be to give a very faint idea of the zest into which they entered into the sports. There were no disturbances to mar the festivities, and the police had very little work to do.

Building and Loan Association.

THE 29th regular monthly meeting of the Winnsboro Building and Loan Association will be held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, the 9th instant, at 8 o'clock. Members will bring their books and pay their monthly instalments at or before that time, otherwise the penalty of twenty cents per share will be charged after the meeting. There will be from seven hundred to nine hundred dollars for loan.
