We again urge our subscribers to come forward and settle without delay.

The following are the prices of cotton for the past three days Tuesday, 10 $\frac{3}{4}$; Wednesday, 10 $\frac{1}{2}$.

The taxes are coming in but slowly. The books will close on the 31st inst., and there is therefore but a short time in which taxpayers may pay without incurring the penalty of fifteen per cent.

The people of Winnsboro have not forgotten the speech made here by Superintendent Parmele in the campaign of 1874, when he came along with Wallace and Patterson, and those mulatto carpet-baggers, Minton and Richardson.

The county treasurer requests us to say that he will visit Peasterville, for the collection of taxes, on Monday, the 22nd inst. He will be there but one day.

An error was made in the advertisement of Messrs. Ladd Bros., published in Tuesday's News and Herald. The advertisement, as published, read: "We could not find no other appropriate heading, etc. The word not should have been omitted. The mistake was the fault of the proof-reader.

THE BALL AT THE FAIR.—Judging from an account in the Columbia Register, the ball of the South Carolina Club, to take place in that city during Fair week, is to be quite a grand affair. Here is what the Register says about it:

The South Carolina Club, once an immense institution in itself, but which, after lying dormant for a long while, was reorganized just before the inauguration of Governor Hampton, and so successfully managed the inauguration ball given in honor of the Governor, have in charge the management of the grand ball which is to be given during the State Fair. We have assurances from the gentlemen of the committee who have the matter in charge that the inaugural ball wasn't a circumstance to the affair they propose to successfully pilot through at the State Fair. The invitations are being printed, and will be sent to many hundreds of people who were not present on the last occasion, but who, it is thought, will attend the contemplated ball, which is to be upon a much larger and grander scale. Get out your spike-tail coats and lavender kids, old boys, and young ones, too; its to be a big thing.

BALL AND BAT.—The base ball season is over, and the Boston club claims the league championship. The professional contests began in 1871, and the Athletics received the pennant that year. The Bostons then stepped to the front, and successively won the pennant in 1872, 1873, 1874, and 1875. In 1876, owing to the secession of Barnes, Spalding, McVey and White to the ranks of the Chicago, the latter won. This year fortune has smiled again on the Reds, though at one time the Louisville Greys were ahead, and were confident of victory. They swept everything before them out West, but two or three defeats, East, demoralized them, and they fell to second place. The last report of the games, with two or three yet to near from, gives Boston, games won, 31, lost, 17; Louisville, won, 27, lost, 19; Hartford, won, 24, lost, 24; St. Louis, won, 19, lost 29; Chicago, won, 17, lost, 29. The Cincinnati club disbanded early in the season, and, though reorganized, was ruled out of the race. It would have taken best place. In the international contest, composed of clubs not in the league, the Teutons thus far take the lead, the Alleghenies being second.

The base ball season has also closed in Winnsboro.
