Now Advertisements.

Gordon Light Infantry—R. M. Huey, Secretary.

There were several typographical mistakes in our local about the furniture recently purchased for Mount Zion Institute, and we therefore republish the article properly corrected.

RIFLE TEAM.—The Fairfield Light Dragoons will send to the Fair a team composed of the following named members: T. R. Robertson, R. J. McCarley, O. M. Dantzer, A. M. Wallace, W. M. Hardin and W. A. Neal. These members were selected after a competitive trial. They will make a good showing in Columbia.

The furniture ordered for Mount Zion School has arrived. It consists of a handsome Franklin school globe, with quadrant; a geared tellurian; a full set of large sized outline maps; eleven indestructible charts, containing diagrams illustrative of natural philosophy and kindred sciences; charts of penmanship and grammar; and a set of mathematical figures and bodies. The globe was presented by Mr. James B. McCants, and the other apparatus by the ladies of the Auxiliary Christian Association. The outfit is handsome and useful, and is a great acquisition to the School.

COLUMBIA ITEMS.—The trial of F. L. Cardozo began on Thursday morning. The State is represented by Attorney General Connor, Solicitor Abney, C. Richardson Miles, Esq., and Leroy F. Youmans, Esq. Samuel W. Melton, Esq., is counsel for the accused. The jury is composed of four white and eight colored persons. The trial will doubtless consume a week.

The Democrats of the city are holding ward meetings, in view of the approaching senatorial election.

It is rumored that several bills of indictment against Republican members of the present general assembly will be handed to the grand jury next Monday. These spotted legislators are at present in the city.

Col. F. J. Trenton has been appointed chief constable of the State, vice Col. Wm. Butler, resigned.

Charleston is at last waking up to the necessity of doing something for the State Fair. It would be a shame for her to hold aloof on that occasion.

TEN BABIES IN FIVE YEARS.—The news of Mrs. T. J. Suggs having given birth to four babies last week was brought to this city by a lady who lives near her in Gaston county and whose voracity is beyond question. The story was a good deal talked of in the city yesterday, and doubts were expressed as to its truthfulness. We will supplement it: Having stated it at the time of its occurrence, and having again, yesterday, referred to the fact that Mrs. Suggs gave birth to triplets less than two years ago, we now recall the fact that this lady gave birth, one at a time, to three children before the triplets were born.

She has been married now but five years, and is the mother of ten children—an average, if they had come singly, of one during every six months of her married life. We were informed, yesterday, by a citizen of Gaston, that when she presented her husband with the triplets, Governor Brogden, who then occupied the executive chair of the State, presented her with $300. We can believe anything but that, and we hope the Gastonians will not insist upon our swallowing the $300. His Excellency is an eloquent man, and we believe him to be a sympathetic man, but he is not the kind of a cat to throw his $300 bills around in any such style as that.—Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

Attention! Gordon Light Infantry.
