SOUTHERN CHIVALRY.

Rivalling the deeds of Sir Philip Sidney --Anecdotes of the late War.

The Rev. W. T. Capers, in an anniversary address to the Georgetown Rifle Guards, delivered recently, narrated the following anecdotes illustrative of Southern chivalry:

A desperate charge upon our works had been repulsed. Many wounded and dying lay between the Confederate and Northern lines. Their groans and cries for water were distinctly heard. The enemy were firing upon us. A soldier begged his General to permit him to carry water to the suffering. His request was denied. A good brave man's life ought not to be sacrificed. He would be killed before he could reach the objects of his pity. Again he begged permission to go. He could not stand the appeal to his heart. Live or die, he felt that he must go to their relief. Kershaw consented. He hung around his neck as many canteens as he could carry, sprang over the breastworks, and advanced through shot and shell towards the wounded. He reached a sufferer. The enemy saw him supporting the head of his foe, and giving him drink.—"They ceased firing!"—On both sides the men looked on in admiration, until tremendous cheering rose from the Northern lines. The South responded. The "touch of nature that makes the whole world kin," the sentiment of human brotherhood triumphed over all other feelings, and for a time a real union prevailed. The sudden ceasing of firing so surprised General Lee, that he sent a courier to ask the cause of it. After that, when the pickets approached each other the Northern riflemen would not pull trigger until assured, that the gray-jacketed "good Samaritan" was not before them. A similar deed of noble daring was performed by a private of Colonel Gary's regiment. William Thomas, private and Christian minister, seeing a wounded man suffering alone in a very exposed position, obtained permission to go to him, passed through a galling fire, reached the dying man, lifted his head, gave him water, and kneeling by his side, assisted his departing soul to ascend to heaven on the wing of fervent prayer, and then returned in safety to his post. The next day Gary promoted him to the chaplaincy for "gallantry on the field of battle."

A Masonic MESS.—The Grand Lodge of Free Masons in Ireland has passed the following resolution:

"Whereas the Grand Lodge of Ireland has received official notification that the Grand Orient of France has altered the first article of its constitution from its previous form, and omitted therefrom, as one of its fundamental principles, belief in the existence of God and the immortality of the soul, the Grand Lodge of Ireland hereby resolves that the Grand Orient of France having, by such alteration, rendered admissible as members of lodges within its jurisdiction persons who do not believe in the existence of a personal Deity, has thereby caused a breach in the foundations of ancient Masonry, and acted in violation of the first great principle of the order, and therefore the Grand Lodge of Ireland hereby declares that it can not continue to recognize the Grand Orient of France as a Masonic body, and it hereby directs all lodges working under the Irish constitution to decline receiving as Masons any person hailing from the Grand Orient of France or from any subordinate lodge under its jurisdiction."

A dwarf, said to be fifty-one years old and only one foot and a quarter tall, named Sato Yukichi, is about to be exhibited in Tokio. The irregularity of proportion for which Mr. Sato is conspicuous is not less remarkable than his condensed compactness. His head is seven and a half inches long, while all the rest of his body measures only seven inches.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

It is simpler, better and cheaper than any similar preparation ever offered.

Simmons' Hepatic Compound, OR LIVER CURE, should be preferred as a corrective and alternative to every other medicine in use. Firstly, it allays fever; secondly, it cleanses the bowels without violence or pain; thirdly, it tones the stomach; fourthly, it regulates the flow of bile; fifthly, it promotes healthy perspiration; sixthly, it relieves the system from unwholesome humors; seventhly, it tranquilizes the nerves; eighthly, it acts upon the blood as a purgative; and lastly, it forms one of the most certain Liver Regulators known.
