A HOLOCAUST.

Fire Brakes Out in a Crowded Parisian Bazaar, and Many Lives Lost and Others Injured.

While a charitable Bazaar, or fair was going on in Paris, France, last Tuesday, fire broke out from the illuminating department, and more than a hundred people perished, and in the panic which ensued among the 1,500 people present, a number of persons were injured.

STORY OF A SURVIVOR.

One of the survivors tells to the correspondent of the Associated Press his experience :

"The place was crammed full of people, and the heat was stifling. Being very uncomfortable, my friends and I determined to leave, but somehow we could not make much headway through the throng toward the door. I lagged a little behind, when on a sudden the shout of fire was raised, and instantly all was commotion.

"We tried to keep cool, but the rush from behind forced us forward, and we were separated. Then I tried to work my way back, but I was carried off my feet, and carried backwards and scene. It seems as I look back upon it like a hideous nightmare. The whole thing was over in mained but the charred and blackened ruins of the bazaar."

THE DEAD PILED IN HEAPS.

The dead were piled in heaps, and especially near the exit, railway cases," said Cornelius where the charred remains were five feet deep, arms, legs and skulls mingled in inextricable confusion. In some cases only the trunks remained with no vestige of clothing on any of the bodies.

The fireman arrived at 6 o'clock. and a company of infantry followed, to clear ruins and search for corpses. The news spread like wild fire. All the Cabinet ministers now in Paris went immediately to the scene. Hundreds of equipages streamed along the Champs D'Elysees their occupants with anxious and tear-stained faces inquiriug for relatives. There were many heartrending scenes of griet and despair. Cab inet ministers, ambassadors, nobleman and members of the high est social and financial circles were side by side with the lowliest and the poorest anxiously in miring for their missing relatives. About thirty were saved by Pere case?" Ambroise and Pere Bailley, who

SHOCKING SCENES.

Policemen, their hands covered with gloves, have been deputed by the perfect of police to pick out the portions of remains and to wrap them in pieces of cloth to be transferred in ambulances to the Palais D'Industrie. The remains present a horrible spectable of limbs burned and twisted. On all sides can be seen heap of corpses lies alone the body of a woman. The face is downward, the head burned, the brain exposed, and from the empty socket of the right eye the brains are slowly oozing. The arms and legs were burned off.

Philanthropy.

Mr. George M. Pullman was in twelve minutes and nothing re- a very agitated frame of mind. "Labor has sustained a terrible blow," said he.

He wrung his hands.

"You are alluding to the decision of the Supreme Court in Vanderbilt.

"I am," replied Mr. Pullman. "You are right," proceeded Mr. Vanderbilt. "It is a terrible blow to the labor unions."

Tears ran down the cheeks of both philanthropists.

"Do not despair" said Collis P. Huntington.

He, too, was in great distress over the sad plight of the labor unions.

"We cannot help it !" cried Messrs. Pullman and Vanderbilt. All three sobbed aloud.

"Let us urge the labor leaders, remarked Mr. Huntington at last, "to join in a petition to the Suprenie Court to reverenits decision."

"But" said Mr. Vanderbilt, how can we consistently do that when we have denounced those who blamed the court for changing its mind on the income tax

Francisco.

The Southern Railway and its connections (the A. & W. P., L. & N. and Southern Pacific) have inaugurated a Tourist Sleeping Car Line between Washington and San Francisco, via Atlanta, New Orleans, and Los Angeles. This sleeping car goes through without change, leaving Washington every Saturday morning at 11:15, and is accompanied by a Personal Conductor and Pullman porter, who go through. The Pullman fare for double berth is $7.00 from Washington to San Francisco.

This service is especially for the onvenience of the parties holding second-class tickets, though firstclass tickets are good in the car.
