

A Modern Lazarus.

Inherited blood diseases are much more difficult to cure than those which are acquired. One of the most common hereditary diseases is Scrofula, which the medical profession admit is most obstinate and deep-seated, and their efforts to cure it meet with little success. A child afflicted with Scrofula is always puny and sickly, and can never grow into healthy manhood until the disease is eliminated. Scrofula leads into consumption nine times out of ten, so that it is important for this reason that immediate attention be given to all children who inherit the slightest taint.

Mrs. S. S. Mabry, 360 Elm St., Macon, Ga., writes:

"My boy, Charlie, inherited a scrofulous blood taint, and from infancy was covered with terrible sores, his sufferings being such that it was impossible to dress him for three years.

CHARLIE MABRY

His head and body were a mass of sores, and his nose was swollen to several times its natural size; to add to his misery he had catarrh, which made him almost deaf, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. A dozen remedies were given him by the wholesale, but they did not do the slightest good. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S.S.S. (Swift's Specific), and at first the inflammation seemed to increase, but as this is the way the remedy gets rid of the poison, by forcing it out of the system, we were encouraged and continued the medicine. A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health."

Mr. A. T. Morgan, one of the prominent druggists of Macon, and a member of the board of aldermen of that city, says: "I am familiar with the terrible condition of little Charlie Mabry, and the cure which S.S.S. effected in his case was remarkable, and proves it to be a wonderful blood remedy."

S.S.S. is the only cure for deep-seated blood diseases, such as Scrofula, Rheumatism, Cancer, Eczema, Catarrh, etc. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed

ARKANSAS PEARL DEPOSITS.

The Lakes, Creeks and Rivers Rich in Precious Gems.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 24.—New discoveries of valuable deposits of pearls in lakes and rivers in Arkansas have added greatly to the excitement already existing over similar discoveries and today thousands of people are wading the water in different parts of the state searching for the precious gems.

The latest and most sensational discoveries were made in the Arkansas river and the creeks, lakes and bayous near Little Rock, where pearls have been picked up ranging in value from eight to ten hundred dollars each. Hundreds of people are working the Saline, White and other rivers and many valuable finds have been reported.

Additional discoveries were made on the Fourche river yesterday, and hundreds of people are swarming to that stream. A reporter of the Gazette, who spent much time investigating the matter, says there are fifty-seven streams in the state that are rich in pearls of large size. It has now developed that in course of a survey of White river in 1895, $5,000 worth of pearls were collected by members of the survey in the course of their duties.

Pearls of from thirty to fifty grains in weight are no uncommon things to find in the possession of country lads who fish for pearls for pastime. The color of the pearls found is that of a salmon rose and the texture is first class.

A Word to the Farmers.

As the cotton crop begins to mature The Constitution takes this opportunity to give some timely advice to our farmers. Instead of waiting for the season to advance, in the hope that prices may advance with it, our farmers should seize time by the forelock and market their cotton as soon as they can get it ready. Nothing is to be gained by waiting for prices to rise without any definite assurance that the market is going to improve. Instead of rising prices might take a downward tendency; and, in that event, the farmer who has not disposed of his cotton at the commencement of the season, is sure to regret his procrastination, to say the least.

From present indications the cotton crop this year is apt to be much larger than its predecessor. This does not by any means increase the likelihood of better prices later on. Our farmers should also bear in mind that cotton loses in weight while stored away in close warehouses. Taking this into account, together with the likelihood that prices, instead of rising, will decline as the season advances, it behooves our farmers to ignore the siren counsels which would beguile them into waiting for better prices, and to market their cotton without delay.

If this policy is adopted it will do much to bring on prosperity in the south.—Atlanta Constitution.

Wanted—An Idea

Who can think of some simple thing to patent? Write JOHN WEDDERBURN & Co., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $50 price offer and new list of one thousand inventions wanted.

Why Is It.

Why do the gold powers of the world combine to cut off the market for silver for coinage purposes and depress its prices? Because they think that the people are fools enough to believe that silver is not fit for money if it is not worth just as much when there is no demand for it for coinage purposes as it was when there was a universal demand. In other words, they act upon that theory that the people are too ignorant to know that it is the coinage demand for both gold and silver which fixes their price, because that demand is hundreds of times greater than all other demands.

Why do the gold men call gold "sound money" and "safe currency?" For the same reason that the gambler who deals marked cards declares that he is playing an honest game. In neither case would the rascals succeed if they did not deceive the public.

Why do the Republicans call abundant crops in this country, and famine in all other countries, Republican principles? Because it enables them to tell plausible lies, and claim that their policy produced whatever favorable conditions there are in this country.

Why does the gold press claim Gorman as one of the faithful allies of the English gold standard? Because they have great faith in Gorman's shrewdness, and assume that claiming him is the easiest way to get him on their side.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best.
