

Your Cough,

like a dog's bark, is a sign that there is something foreign around which shouldn't be there. You can quiet the noise, but the danger may be there just the same. SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil is not a cough specific; it does not merely allay the symptoms but it does give such strength to the body that it is able to throw off the disease.

You know the old proverb of "the ounce of prevention?" Don't neglect your cough. A book which will tell you more on the subject sent free on request.

Your druggist keeps Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil. Put up in 50 cts. and $1.00 sizes.

BRYAN'S BRAVE WORDS.

The Silver Champion Makes a Labor Day Address.

STATESMANLIKE VIEWS.

How Labor Organizations Improve the Condition of the Wage-Earner. Arbitration Advocated—Main Purpose of the Writ of Injunction to Avoid Trial by Jury.

St. Louis, Sept. 6.—The feature of Labor Day celebration in this city to-day was an address by Hon. W. J. Bryan at Concordia Park. The biggest crowd ever seen in the park greeted the speaker. His speech throughout was enthusiastically applauded. Previous to the meeting Mr. Bryan reviewed a parade of 15,000 laboring men. Mr. Bryan spoke as follows:

"While I find pleasure in participating in the exercises of this day, I am also actuated by a sense of duty, because the observance of Labor Day affords me an opportunity for the discussion of those questions which especially concern the producers of wealth. In a pamphlet written by a distinguished New York banker, I find the assertion that prosperity of farming and laborers depends upon the prosperity of the business men. So long as one entertains such an idea he is certain to entertain erroneous views upon social and political questions. All of the literary, professional and commercial classes will find upon investigation that they rest upon those whose brain and muscle convert the natural resources of the country into material wealth. Not only must any real prosperity begin with those who toil, but the nation's progress toward higher civilization must be measured by the progress made by the producing classes. Under every form of government it has been possible to point to a few persons possessed of means and refinement, but it is the average progress, not the progress of the few, that must be considered. The improvement to be hoped for must come from efforts outside of politics.

INFLUENCE OF LEGISLATION.

Mental discipline, moral training, habits of industry and economy, all have their part in improving the general condition of our people, and yet the influence of legislation must not be overlooked. A form of government like ours makes it possible for the people to have such legislation as they desire; but even then it is possible for a few persons to overreach the people as a whole. The welfare of the people must be sought not in the securing of special privileges to themselves, but in the denying of special privileges to any one. The labor organizations have been one of the most potent influences in improving the condition of the wage-earners. Labor organizations are almost entirely responsible for the fact that skilled labor wages have not fallen as much as prices, although they have not always succeeded in keeping employment up to full time. While giving to these organizations credit for what they have done, it is only fair to suggest that neither labor organizations nor any other form of protection can secure to labor permanent immunity if the general level of prices continues to fall. The idle man is the menace to the man who has employment, and the number of idle men must necessarily increase if we have a money system which constantly raises the value of the dollar and constantly lowers the market value of the products of labor.

ARBITRATION ADVOCATED.

Arbitration of differences between large corporation employers and their employees is one of the political reforms most needed by wage earners. Until arbitration is secured the strike is the only weapon within the reach of labor. Society at large is interested in the application of the principle of arbitration to the differences which arise from time to time between corporations and the employees.

"Laboring people have a special interest just now in securing relief from what is appropriately described as government by injunction. The extent to which the writ of injunction has been abused within recent years has aroused a hostility which is almost universal. It is only a question of time when government by injunction will be cured by legislation. The main purpose of the writ of injunction is to avoid trial by jury. Trial by jury is more important to the American people to-day than it ever was before in our nation's history. It was originally intended as a protection against royalty, and is to-day the main protection the people have against plutocracy, which is to this country what royalty is under a monarchial form of government."

"My boy came home from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros.' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by J. F. Mackey & Co. and B. C. Hough & Co., Lancaster, S. C.

MEXICO AND SILVER.

he realizes $222.22. Thus has the silver value of his product, the gold value remaining the same, been increased, and as the silver cost of production has not increased the fall in silver, or the rise in the premium on the gold for which he sells his produce, bids fair to increase his profits and encourages him to extend production. Thus it is that the effect of the fall in silver is to discourage imports into Mexico from gold-using countries and to encourage exports to gold using.

On the other hand, the Shanghai manufacturer must find an hitherto unmet incentive to export his products to Japan. He must find that 93 Japanese yen are worth as much to him as 100 used to be, that there is a virtual bounty held out to him on exports to Japan of over eight per cent.

So the effect of the fall in silver must be to encourage manufacturing in China and to handicap the Japanese producers; it must discourage imports into silver using from gold using countries, and encourage exports from silver using to gold using. From such fall in the gold price of silver producers in silver-using countries will profit, while producers in gold-using countries, finding it more difficult than ever to sell to silver-using peoples, must suffer, not only because of this, but because the silver-using people will find it easier to sell in the markets of gold-using countries. In short, the silver-using peoples will find it not only easier to keep their own markets, but easier to compete in ours, while our producers must find it harder to keep their own markets, and harder to find new. Such are some of the probable effects of the fall in silver—effects that must ever be inseparable from a fall in silver so long as such fall is accompanied by a commensurate fall in the purchasing power of silver using countries.
