A Beautiful Marriage Near Richburg S. C.

A beautiful wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Jordan near Richburg, S. C., Tuesday Nov. 23, at 6 o'clock p. m.

The contracting parties were Mr. J. H. Crenshaw, an industrious young farmer of Van Wyck, S. C., and Miss Nannie J. Culp, the beautiful daughter of Mr. W. S. Culp, near Richburg, S. C.

Rev. R. A. Younge officiated. The following invited guests accompanied Mr. Crenshaw over to his wedding:

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Tillman, Miss Birdie Stephenson and brother, Messrs. J. D., G. H. and M. Griffin, Mr. W. D. McGuirt and sister, Misses Hattie and Maggie Crenshaw and Mr. W. J. Crenshaw.

They found a large crowd awaiting them.

At the appointed hour, the contracting parties entered the parlor with their attendants. Miss Mattie Westbrook of Edgemoor, was maid of honor and Rev. J. Barr Harris of Rock Hill, was "best man."

The bride was beautifully attired in cream cashmere, trimmed in cream lace, chiffon, ribbon and passementerie with a bunch of orange blossoms in her hair.

Her maid of honor's dress was of cream cashmere, trimmed in cream lace and ribbon.

The marriage service was short but impressive.

After the ceremony and congratulations of many friends, a bountiful wedding supper was served, of which the turkey and ham played a most prominent part among other good things too numerous to mention.

The bride and groom received many nice and useful presents.

The next morning the bridal party and a number of guests returned to the home of the groom, where an excellent dinner was served and the evening spent pleasantly.

The young couple will make Van Wyck their future home. Their many friends wish him and his lovely, young bride a long, happy and useful life. D. G.

A Close Call.

Mr. W. B. Culp's ginhouse, which he discovered to be on fire about bed time one night recently, contained about 65 bales of cotton. Although the fire was burning for several minutes before Mr. Culp and hands could get water on it, he thinks his loss is not much over a bale. He had no insurance, and while he is not certain as to the origin of the fire, he thinks it might have been rats and matches—that there was no scarcity of rats there.

In Luck.

Henry Ingram, colored, who lives in the Primus section, and who, during the war, was carried off by the Union Army and forced into the services of the North is in big luck. On Monday last he received a voucher from the pension department at Washington, D. C., for a back pension of $446.97. The Clerk of Court, Mr. W. S. L. Porter, filled up his papers for him, had them properly signed and forwarded them to the U. S. Pension Agent at Knoxville, Tenn., and in a few days Henry Ingram will be the proud possessor of a check on Uncle Sam for more money than he ever had at one time in his life. Besides, he will get a monthly pension of $8 per month the remainder of his life.

—Dr. J. D. Funderburk is moving his family here this week. He will occupy one of the Adams houses on Dunlap street.

The marriage of Mr. D. F. Hilton, a son of the late James P. and Mrs. Gilly Hilton, and Miss Allie Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker, which was solemnized on the 21st and which was noted, calls for more than a passing notice. The attendants on this occasion were:

Gardner; Miss Julia Hilton, sister of the groom, with Mr. Robert Hinson; Miss Elon Crumminger, daughter of Mr. Columbus Crumminger of Pleasant Hill, with Mr. James Baker, a brother of the bride; Miss Almetta Estridge, another daughter of Hon. J. N. Estridge, with Mr. Lee A. Baker, brother of the bride; Miss Etta Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Horton, with Mr. Lemuel Baker, brother of the bride; Miss Docia Estridge, with Mr. John Heglar; Miss Alice Hinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hinson, with Mr. P. M. A Pretty Marriage.

The marriage of Mr. T. R. Mackey and Miss Sallie Stover, of Heath Spring, came off last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, as announced in last week's ENTERPRISE.

The bride entered the church, down one aisle leaning upon the arm of her sister, Miss Dora Stover, and the groom entered down the other aisle, leaning upon the arm of his "best man," Dr. E. F. Horton, while Mrs. Dr. E. S. McDow rendered the wedding march with good effect.

After the ceremony was over, a reception was given at the home of Miss Mattie Stover, sister of the bride, and an excellent menu was greatly enjoyed by all the happy throng. The bride was the recipient of a number of beautiful presents.

Double Marriage.

The double marriage of Rev. Henry Stokes and Miss Florence E. Heath and Charles S. Massey and Miss Maud Heath at Waxhaw was a grand affair. The Methodist church, was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers. The bridal party made a very attractive appearance and Bishop Key used a beautiful and impressive ceremony, in the presence of a very large and eager audience. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party and a large number of invited guests, were royally entertained in a grand reception at the superb home of the brides' father, Mr. A. W. Heath. These popular couples received many handsome, valuable and useful presents. They received hearty congratulations from those present, and some by wire from absent friends.
