Rev. Irl R. Hicks 1902 Almanac.

To say that this splendid work of science and art is finer and better than ever, is stating it mildly. The demand for it is far beyond all previous years. To say that such results, reaching through thirty years, are not based upon sound sense and usefulness, is an insult to the intelligence of the millions. Prof. Hicks, through this great Almanac, and his famous family and scientific journal, Word and Works, is doing a work for the whole people not approached by any other man or publication. A fair test will prove this to any reasonable person. Added to the most luminous course in astronomy for 1903, forecasts of storms and weather are given, as never before, for every day in the year, all charmingly illustrated with nearly two hundred engravings. The price of single Almanac, including postage and mailing, is thirty cents. Word and Works with the Almanac is $1.00 a year. Write to Word and Works Publishing Co., 2201 Locust Street, and prove to yourself their great value.

A Little Loss.

Of flesh and strength, little barking obstinate cough and a little pain in the chest may not mean galloping consumption, but they are signs that prudence will not neglect. A few doses of Allen's Lung Balsam cause a free discharge of mucus and so loosens the cough. It heals the inflamed air passages and all its beneficent work is accomplished without a grain of opium.

Victim of Sharpers.

Messrs. W. A. Reckling & Son, have been the victim of sharpers who have made a little money upon the reputation of this well known firm of photographers. Mr. Reckling has made quite a name for himself in this state as a photographer, and some traveler caught onto the fact while in the upper part of the state. He thereupon proceeded to work the people to the queen's taste. His manner was simple and direct. He introduced himself to the people as an agent of Messrs. Reckling & Son, and stated that he was taking orders for enlarged pictures. He only desired a small sum in advance, and in the majority of cases he received the amount demanded. By and by Mr. Reckling began to receive letters from people requesting that the enlarged picture be sent "at once please." There was nothing for Mr. Reckling to do but notify the expectant people that he had never received any picture to enlarge. He has notified the police of the various towns, and hopes to catch the sharper and make an example of him—Columbia Record.

In Case Of Accident.

Accident will happen. Mother stairs her back lifting a sofa. Father in hurt in the shop. Children are forever falling and bruising themselves. There is no preventing these things, but their worst consequences are averted with Perry Davis' Painkiller. No other remedy approaches it for the relief of sore strained muscles. There is but one Painkiller. Perry Davis.

Wadesboro Man Gets Damages.

Dallas, Tex., Dispatch. J. W. Lowder, of Wadesboro, N. C., attended the national reunion of Confederate veterans, held in Dallas during last April. By the overcrowding of an excursion train on the St. Louis Southwestern Railroad, he was crowded off the train at Garland, Tex., and his skull fractured and his right arm broken. He sued the railroad company for $19,000 damages. A jury in Judge Nash's court has awarded him $3,250.

Startling, But True.

"If every one knew what a grand medicine Dr. King's New Life Pills is," writes D. H. Turner, Dempsie, Pa., "you'd sell all you have in a day. Two weeks' use has made a new man of me." Infallible for constipation, stomach and liver troubles. 25c at Crawford Bros and J. F. Mackey & Co's drugstore.

Director of Charities Harrison R. Cooley has been looking into the condition of the workingwomen of Cleveland, Ohio. He found that the average cost of living for a woman of this class was $5.24, while the average wage is but $4.83. He stated that out of 28 women he questioned 12 were earning but $3 and 6 receiving but $2 a week. This, he declares, is a fair representation of the general conditions.

Dr. Kilgo Again in Trouble.

Dr. John C. Kilgo, the brilliant South Carolinian who is now president of Trinity college, N. C., is in trouble again. The attacks upon Dr. Kilgo a few years ago and his trials are fresh in the minds of the reading public, especially the Methodists. It will be recalled that his chief accuser at that time was Judge Walter Clark, who has just been elected chief justice of the North Carolina supreme court as the Democratic nominee but against the protests of a considerable number of Democrats. Immediately after the election Dr. Kilgo had an article in the North Carolina Christian Advocate, the Methodist paper of that State, which has aroused the old ill-feeling. The portion to which exception is taken is this:

"Of all the horrible influences that are making for ruin among the American people, politics is the most gigantic. It has inspired hatreds, nursed jealousies, fostered sectionalism, petted intolerance, fired racial antagonism, mocked the pulpit, belittled the church, paralyzed industries, wrecked business, excused lying, engaged in thefts, defended murder, joined fortunes with gamblers and liquor venders, and set God at naught with contemptuous freedom. * * *

"Out of such a situation must come bad government and finally a ruined country. * * * Men persuade themselves that morality goes down before a crowd. He who aids in getting a majority by election frauds and thefts as truly steals as he who robs a bank. But in these crimes some Methodist stewards, some Baptist deacons, some Presbyterian elders and some Sunday school teachers of all churches have joined, while they hold their reputable standings as Christians and applaud their pastors in their pulpit denunciation of the dance and card tables. Will God always tolerate this shameful crime? * * *

"To be sure, those who have profited by this shame will wage the warfare of satan on those who rise to stop it, but the prophet of God is no coward, and he who shows willingness to join for times with sinners no commissioner from the Lord? * * *

Already one clutch of his denunciation was called on Dr. Kilgo to specify. At his fourth quarterly conference on Tuesday night, the Spring Garden Street church of Greensboro, the Rev. J. R. Seruzes, presiding elder in the chair, adopted a resolution which after the preambles, declares that "the Rev. John C. Kilgo has done great wrong to official laymen, and has seriously damaged the church of Christ by making these charges, and we demand that he give the names of these offenders, with proof to make good his assertions, or publicly in writing, retract what he has said." As Dr. Kilgo is something of a fighter, more is likely to be heard of the matter.

A President Nominated.

In this week's issue of the Baptist Courier, the Rev. Dr. C. C. Brown of Sumter nominated for president of Furman university Dr. Lee Davis Lodge, who at present is president of Limestone college, the Baptist school for women located at Gaffney. In the course of his article, which is a characteristic C. C. Brown production, the Baptist bishop of Sumter says:

"I am inclined to believe the committee appointed by the trustees to nominate a man are making a mistake in deferring the matter. Time heals some troubles, but it does not elect college presidents. We need a man at the head of the university as president, and we need him there all the time—a man who can go abroad to represent the school, a man who can make fine speeches, a man with business sense and religion, a man whom the boys will come to admire and respect, a man who will run the school, and keep his hands off the board of trustees, it being understood that they are to control him, and he is not to do with their nomination and appointment. The man known to me who comes nearest to filling the bill is President Lee Davis Lodge, now at the head of Limestone college, and I nominate him for the position without being asked to do so by any one. This, too, is religious liberty, and if the trustees or others do not see things as I do then I hereby promise to stand by and sustain the man who is elected."

Dr. Lodge has been at Limestone only a few years, but made a fine record there for science and progress. He was formerly a professor in Columbia university, and had had a D. C. and is a cultured and able educator, with plenty of tact and energy.

WANTED—Every person that is suffering with actual rheumatism for a large dollar bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Name of remedy on label—2-try Washington, D. C.

Announcement in the British Medical Journal that the average incomes of physicians is $2,500 a year has caused much controversy, says the New York Press. It is maintained that only a small number earn so much, even after years of arduous work. In this country some average incomes are estimated thus: Surgeons, $2,000; physicians, $1,750; clergymen, $900; artists, $750; authors, $500; nurses, $300.

You Know What You Are Taking
When you take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay. 50c.
