MARRIED 65 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Livingood, of Elverson, Pa., who have been married 65 years, say Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has prolonged their happy union many years beyond their golden wedding.

MR. ADAM LIVINGOOD, 91 years old.

Mr. Livingood is 91 years old and his wife is 84. They are both hale and hearty and feel vigorous as a couple 50 years of age.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 15, 1902.
DUFFY MALT WHISKEY CO.,
Rochester, N. Y.

Gentlemen—I take great pleasure in writing to you telling the benefit I am deriving from the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I have been taking it in small quantities every morning and evening for a number of years. I am 91 years old and in excellent health, good appetite, and am doing all my own farm work. I know your Whiskey is giving me renewed strength and prolonging my life. I feel as well today as ten years ago and I feel as if I will yet pass the century mark. I would earnestly recommend it to all old people. It was recommended to me, and has proven a blessing. My wife is 84 years old and is also in perfect health.

ADAM LIVINGOOD,
Elverson, Chester County, Pa.

MRS. ADAM LIVINGOOD, 84 years old.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY IS THE TRUE ELIXIR OF LIFE.

It has prolonged many thousand lives as it has Mr. and Mrs. Livingood, and there is no other medicine in the world which will keep the system in normal condition, prevent the decay of the tissues, strengthen the heart action and enrich the blood like Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It is an absolutely pure stimulant and tonic, free from fusel oil and other dangerous ingredients so common in most whiskies. It cures grip, consumption, bronchitis, asthma, diphtheria, malaria and all low fevers, dyspepsia, and invigorates the brain. It makes the old young, keeps the young strong. Do not let your body fall of drugs and medicines which poison the system.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine. This is a guarantee. It is absolutely pure and contains no fusel oil. It is prescribed by over 7,000 doctors and used exclusively in over 2,000 hospitals. It is the only reliable and absolutely pure stimulant and tonic. It has saved the lives of millions of people in the last fifty years who have used it as their only medicine.

Caution.—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations, and so-called Malt Whiskey substitutes, which are put on the market for profit only, and which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey which contains medicinal, health-giving qualities. Look for the trade-mark, "The Old Chemist," on the label.

The genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is

or direct at $1.50 a bottle. Refuse imitations and substitutes, there is none just as good as "Duffy's." It is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as a medicine. Valuable medical booklet sent free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, N. Y.

CRUM GETS HELD UP.

Treasury Notifies Him That Salary Won't be Paid.

Collector of Port W. D. Crum received a communication today from the Treasury Department, officially informing him that his personal account has been held up on the ground that his appointment was not made "with the advice and consent of the Senate."

A dispatch to The Evening Post yesterday brought the first news that the collector was not to get his salary, under the ruling of the Treasury Department, and it excited much comment, especially in the circles of the federal office holders. Collector Crum and others were disposed to discredit the report, but the later dispatches from Washington and the collector's own letter this morning confirmed the truth of the story, and now Dr. Crum will have to go without his salary, unless the decision of the controller of the treasury is overruled.

Dr. Crum was seen today by an Evening Post reporter, and asked for a statement about the matter. He showed no concern over the decision and in fact stated that he felt certain that he would get his salary. He says that he intends to await the decision of the Secretary of the Treasury and he added that probably the cabinet might take a hand and come to his relief. At all events, he was certain that Congress would provide the necessary relief if it could not be had in any other way.

In the official notice of the decision of the department the attention of Collector Crum was called to section 1761 of the United States revised statutes, on which the decision was based, reading as follows:

"No money shall be paid from the treasury as salary to any person appointed during the recess of the Senate to fill a vacancy in any existing office if the vacancy existed while the Senate was in session, and as by law required to be filled by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, until such appointment has been confirmed by the Senate."

Collector Crum said that he had been aware of the provision in question, but he did not think that this section could be applied to him. He thought that he should receive his salary, since Postmaster Harris gets his, both nominations having been sent to the Senate and failed of action at the same time. He said that he thought another similar case had been decided in favor of the incumbent official, contrary to the opinion, just rendered in his case, but he was content to have the matter stand as it is, knowing that it will all be finally arranged satisfactorily. He did not seem to be so well pleased with having to pay monthly a premium of about $45 on his bond of $50,000 and having nothing coming in to reimburse him.

There is no substitute.

As a matter of fact the case of Postmaster Harris is different from that of Collector Crum. Postmaster Harris was first appointed during the recess of the Senate, while Crum was appointed during a session of the Senate. Then, also, the two departments are run differently. Postmaster Harris deducts his own salary and the salaries of other officials and employees and expenses before remitting funds to Washington, whereas the rule in the customs department is that all money must be sent to Washington and there the checks are made out and sent to the officials. —Charleston Post.

MAN WHO SAW MARCUM'S ASSASSIN HIMSELF SLAIN.

Lexington, Ky., May 9—A report reached Winchester from Jackson tonight that J. B. Ewen was assassinated from ambush at sundown but the report cannot be confirmed tonight, as Jackson cannot be reached by telephone or telegraph. Ewen was standing in the court house door with J. B. Marcum when the latter was killed last Monday and, it has been said, recognized the assassin.

CHARGED WITH MARCUM'S MURDER.

Lexington, Ky., May 9.—Thomas Cockerill tonight swore out a warrant charging Curtis Jett with the murder of J. B. Marcum at Jackson, Ky., last Monday. Late tonight Cockerill left by buggy for Winchester with the warrant. Judge J. J. Black of Jackson is in the city en route to California, and says that he and four other men will swear that Jett killed Marcum. Cockerill, who is the sole survivor of the feud faction bearing his name, acted on this information and information secured from other sources in swearing out the warrant. Curtis Jett is a deputy sheriff in Breathitt county.

Later a special from Winchester says Sheriff Woodson McChord and a posse left Winchester at midnight to attempt to arrest Jett. Jett is at his mother's home in Madison county.

A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it, says C. P. Rayder, of Patten's Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" Town Ordinance.

The following is the new Sunday Ordinance passed by the Town Council 9th May, 1903, AND WHICH WENT INTO EFFECT IMMEDIATELY ON ITS PASSAGE.

That it shall be unlawful for any person, or persons, firm, or corporation, to keep open on the Sabbath day, any place of business, or amusement, or sell any thing, whatsoever, including soda-water and soft drinks, on said day, except medicines by drug stores and in case of necessity articles or merchandise necessary for the interment of the dead, and sales of ice and beef not later than 9 o'clock in the morning.

That no person or persons whomsoever shall labor or pursue their ordinary calling upon the Lord's day, works of necessity or charity excepted.

That the provisions of this section shall not apply to hotels, livery-stables and their employees, restaurants not connected with stores, hackmen and milk wagons.

The penalty for the violation of any of the provisions of the foregoing ordinance is a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than thirty dollars or by imprisonment for not less than five days nor more than thirty days. R. E. Wylie, Mayor.

Teachers' Examinations.

The next regular examination of applicants for teachers' certificates will be held at the courthouse on Friday, May 22d, 1903, during the usual hours.

WANTED—Agents, male and female, to sell our remedies. Good pay. Nature's Remedy Co., 119-02-1yr. Washington, D. C.

DR. BOLDRIDGE TO THE COLORED PEOPLE.

For The Enterprise.

Dr. J. H. Boldridge being one of the speakers during the annual commencement exercises of the Lancaster Normal and Industrial Institute, spoke on Tuesday evening, May 5, at 8.30 p. m. The speaker announced as his subject, "Some Neglected Points in the Education of Our Time." He discussed his subject in a very able and analytical way, beginning with "Good Manners" as the first phase. The speaker said that good manners was now, as always, an essential element in the education of any race or individual. He said that this part of the education of our time was being neglected by both races much to the detriment of society. The speaker said that he had seen many instances where good manners had completely disarmed malice, overcame wrath and turned away revenge.

Coming to the second phase of his speech, "Good Morals," he said that the colored people had the approval and assistance of every good white man and woman in this country in their struggle to maintain the virtue and chastity of the women of their race. He warned those whose business it was to care for the colored youth of the rocks and shoals that lie beneath the surface, that make for their destruction, and told them how to successfully avoid them.

Coming to his third and last phase, which he styled "Manhood," he spoke very forcibly on what it takes to make a real man. He said that it took good manners, good morals, and the power of will to decide to do what was right.

He warned his audience against the false notions and vain ideas of life, and exhorted them to be true to their trust, whether great or small; true to their race, and true to their God, and he would assure them that they would be men. He was roundly applauded, and received a grand ovation at the close of his speech. W. L. Lee, Secy. Trustee Ex. Bd.

GREATLY ALARMED.

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled four or five years with a continuous cough which he says "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr Burbage having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by J. F. Mackey & Co., Druggists.

Notice--Lancaster Graded School.

To all Whom it May Concern:

Take notice that pursuant to a petition signed by ten voters and freeholders resident in Lancaster School District, we, the undersigned trustees of said district, do hereby call a public meeting to be composed of all those voters who are resident in and return for taxation in said district real or personal property of the value of not less than one hundred dollars, to assemble in the Court House at Lancaster, S.
