

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mr. ED. SMITH and wife, of Tip Top, are visiting in town. The Centerville neighborhood had a good rain on Sunday last. Misses MAY and NITA HARRISON, of Greenville, are visiting here.

WILLIAM W. BALL has returned from a trip to the mountains. Gen. Y. J. POPE, of Newberry, paid out town a business visit last week. Mr. McHUGH, a carpenter at this place, has returned to Pickens.

There will be a dance at the Richardson House this (Tuesday) evening. Mrs. ANNIE E. O'BRES, of Spartanburg, is visiting Laurens. Mr. T. H. W. BARRETT, of Mississippi, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Miss LILLIAN CALDWELL is spending some time with relatives in Laurens. The Maud S. Rein Holder is the latest invention of Mr. L. A. McCORM, of our town. Mrs. WILSON, of Cheraw, is visiting her mother, Mrs. HENRIETTA IRBY, at this place.

Laurens is still booming; the sound of the saw and hammer can be heard on all sides. Despite the hard times, the Flying-Trapeze seems to be attracting quite a crowd. Mr. WILLIAM ANDERSON, of Ninety-Six, is visiting the family of Dr. B. E. MARTIN.

Mr. PITTS, a section master on the G. L. & S. Railroad, has moved his family to this place. Misses SALLIE and CARRIE CATHCART of Columbia, are visiting relatives and friends here.

Important Arrest. Chief-of-Police Greer, of Greenville, has arrested J. M. Benson, alias Vinson, in Sevier County, Tenn. This colored citizen is wanted in this State for the murder of Tom Bird, which occurred on Mr. P. H. Tomp's place in the upper part of this County, April 25, 1881. He is now in jail at Greenville and will be sent to this place to await trial.

What We Need. Laurens is greatly in need of a Cotton Seed Oil Mill. Now that we have fine prospects for a large cotton crop and cotton seed can be easily obtained, let some of our enterprising men take hold of the matter and inaugurate the manufacturing boom in our town. There is no risk in such an enterprise. It has always paid a handsome dividend in Greenville and other places, and there is no reason in the world why it would not do equally as well here. It would be an advantage to the town and County and could be operated at a small cost. The only thing that can materially benefit our country is to turn all surplus money into factories.

Death of Dr. L. O. Taylor. Our townsman Mr. S. K. TAYLOR has just received the sad intelligence of the death of his son, Dr. L. G. TAYLOR, which occurred on the 19th inst., at Chandler, Texas, after an illness of about only ten days. Dr. Taylor was a native of this town and moved to Texas only a few years ago, where he has been engaged in the practice of medicine. Though a young man, he had made a name for himself and was rapidly gaining the topmost rank in his profession. As a citizen and as a physician, he had the confidence and esteem of all who knew him, both in this community and his adopted State. The family of the deceased have our heartfelt sympathy, in this, their great bereavement.

The Greenville and Laurens. The contract for completing the Greenville and Laurens railroad has been awarded to Rice & Cobden, contractors, of Union, under sealed bids. They will begin work this week and push it through vigorously. Their first work will be the building of trestles. After that is done the laying of the cross ties and steel rails will begin. Greenville News.

Correspondence. SIMPSON MILLS. PARE. Rev. Jns. A. Martin has been carrying on a protracted meeting at Union Church during the past week. During the entire meeting there has been a great deal of interest manifested. Up to this writing twenty-one have joined. Brother Martin is a good and faithful minister of God.

Two runaways occurred in our community within the past ten days; one on the 14th inst. Mr. J. B. Box and Mrs. Sallie Culbertson, aged 35, were on their way to church, when the horse became frightened and ran away, throwing both from the buggy and landing up the former and breaking the jaw-bone of the latter. She being an old lady, doubts were expressed as to her recovery, but we are glad to state that she is doing well. Another occurred on the 13th, in which Miss Elizabeth Madden was thrown from a buggy and her clothes becoming entangled in the wheel, she was dragged some distance. Her right thigh was broken and she was very considerably bruised. She was carried to Capt. E. B. Boland's, of Culbertson, where she was summoned. Her leg was set and her wounds dressed, and she is doing well at this time.

CLINTON. The Annual Catalogue of the Clinton College has just been issued from the Clinton Publishing House, at the Thornwell Orphanage, and reflects great credit on the little boy who prepared it. It is, however, a few errors, one of which may work harm if not corrected. In summing up the expenses of the Institution it is made to appear that the monthly expense account is $2 per month, when it should be $2 per school year. The exercises of the College will resume on the first Monday in September, under most flattering prospects, although the new College building will not be occupied until about the first of January.

The Ladies' Aid Society, working in the interest of the Clinton Presbyterian Church, will give this (Tuesday) evening, the 25th inst., one of their most excellent entertainments. The church park and Sunday School rooms will be occupied for the occasion. Rev. Mr. Chroitzburg, an ardent prohibitionist, gave us one of his inimitable lectures on last Monday night, which he set forth most forcibly the evils of the present State License Law.

HIGHLAND HOME. WILHELM. Good rain last Friday but needing more to ripen the grain, peas ripening, fodder ripe, and hence a busy time with the farmer. Some sickness in our vicinity, chills, malaria, fever, &c. Seventeen converts were immersed at Worrior Greek Church on last Sabbath. Quite a large crowd in attendance. Among the converts were three "young boys." We are glad to see them joining the church of their fathers.

Messrs. M. A. Knight and J. W. Shoekly have much improved the convenience of their lots by erecting commodious barns in which to store their nice lot of fodder. We were pleased to have a visit from our old friend and college-mate Mrs. Caroline Stewart, from Fairview, Greenville County. Mrs. Rosa Fleming, of Florida, is visiting in our county. We wish her a pleasant stay.

One of our young men was driving out with his girl on last Sabbath, from Worrior, with both traces down and so nearly abstracted he did not notice it until he got to Cowley's, where he surely must have had him transported to regions of immediate bliss. Cousins Sam, be more careful.

WATERLOO. KRAP. Mr. Homer Fuller was attacked by a dog while on his way home a few nights ago, and is now suffering from a bruised and swollen hand. We hope he may not suffer seriously from it. Misses Richardson and Harris, of Laurens, are visiting Mrs. Carrie Boyd. The Baptists have selected a church lot and will begin soon on their church building.

Nearly one hundred dollars was subscribed in half an hour, the other day, towards building a bridge over Cane Creek. We are not going to wait on the County Commissioners, we want and need the bridge and are going to have it. Rev. R. W. Seymour bought the "Walker" place this week and will move to town as soon as he can get possession. We are glad to welcome him. W. W. Campbell offers to let that he can eat a peck of Mr. John Harris' peaches. He knows whereof he speaks as he was one day last week turned out in the orchard, and Mr. H. will offer any man a premium who will keep him out in future.

Dr. L. M. Henderson has been at work on his house this week. A meeting will be held at Cane Creek on Friday morning, 25th inst., to settle the bridge matter. Three bales of cotton in Waterloo last week. We need rain. More Lawlessness in Waterloo. Mrs. Estell Fuller left home one day last week and left the Hotel in charge of Messrs. Cobb, Quarles & Parks. Cobb was turned loose in the garden to get a bait of cabbage, Quarles turned loose on the grapes, and while Quarles was trying to hatter Cobb to bring him in to dinner, Cobb ate a whole chicken. Next time Mrs. F. leaves she will leave a guard in her garden.

The Cotton Wrm. The Register says the cotton worm is largely distributed in this State and its presence is more general and at an earlier date than it can recall. The planter need not delude himself with a trifling loss from its ravages. The Register estimates the cotton crop for seven years varying from 6,328,000 to 8,800,000 bales, the latter being the estimated number for this year. The loss from the worm is placed at 5 per cent, the lowest, to 20 per cent, the highest. If the worms are poisoned the loss will be reduced, and the cost of poisoning them is estimated at $10,000,000. This would be a loss of 125,000 bales, at $40 a bale, even if only $5,000,000 be expended in poisoning them. We are virtually exempt from the ravages of the cotton worm, as we do not recollect their appearance to any extent in this county but one time since the war.

AN APPLE TREE OVER A CENTURY OLD.—On Enoree River, near Trinity Church, Spartanburg, stands an apple tree over a hundred years old. It was planted by Benjamin Rhodes, grandfather of C. P. Rhodes, of Sterling Grove. The top of the tree is dead, but one limb still bears fruit—a specimen was brought to the News office by Mr. Rhodes on yesterday. The history of the tree is known, and the instance of longevity is a rare one. It is unlikely that there is another bearing fruit tree in this county which can be proved to be as old as this one.

The first known painting of Niagara Falls is said to be at the South Kensington. It was painted by a Massachusetts man named Wickers, from whom it was stolen, sold to an Englishman, and lost sight of. It is said to have some merit as a painting, and a good deal as a historical record of the appearance of the Falls before houses were built near them.

Florida will vote on the adoption of her new constitution in November. There is little or no opposition to the instrument, and its adoption is conceded by a well-nigh unanimous vote. It is claimed by its authors to be a great improvement on the present one. "Our children cry for bread" was the motto displayed at a recent Socialist picnic in Chicago, at which 300 kegs of beer were consumed.

Postmaster-General Vilas is quite unwell at Madison, Wis. He is suffering with nervous affection, brought on by overwork. J. D. Pope, Jr., of Columbia, has been appointed postal clerk, between Florence and Augusta. Nine monuments to Grant will be erected in this county unless some of the present projects fail.

Belle Boyd, a Confederate spy, is teaching elocution in Little Rock, Arkansas. BUSINESS LOCALS. Try a bottle of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy! A Specific for all Blood Diseases and unequalled as a Tonic. For sale at E. E. WILKES' Book and Drug Store. Dry Goods at Cost at GRAHAM & SPARKS.

The Advertiser Office is now prepared to do all kinds of Job Printing, on short notice, in the latest styles and at the lowest prices. Give us a trial. Bill Heads, Letter Heads, Cards, Envelopes, Cotton Tickets, Posters, &c., always in Stock. Messrs. GRAHAM & SPARKS will have in a full line of Ladies' Fine Shoes, in a few days. It will pay to wait for them. LEAKE & PATTON. The ladies always said McCord kept the nicest line of Hosiery in Laurens; but his price was too high. Now those same hose can be bought at 5, 10, and 15 cts. that were worth 15, 25, and 40 cents per pair. They went last long at those figures.

What the Press Has to Say of Us. (Anderson Intelligencer) The first number of the Laurens Advertiser has been received at Anderson, published by J. C. Garlington & Co., is ably edited and presents a neat appearance. Success to it. (Herald and News) We have received the first number of the Laurens Advertiser, published by J. C. Garlington & Co., and edited by J. C. Garlington. It is sound and solid in looks and tone. (Abbeville Medium) The Laurens Advertiser is a new paper published in our adjoining county. It is a leading journal and bids fair to be handsomely printed, with clear type, and its editorials are brief and pointed. We wish it abundant and continued success. (Union Times) We see notice in it of our exchanges of a new paper in the good old burg of Laurens, but have not been favored with a peep into the pages of our friend for longly looking, and why should an old friend be thus snubbed?

(Essex Messenger) We note the fact that a new weekly paper has been started at Laurens, C. H., S. C., by J. C. Garlington & Co., and we extend to it the right hand of fellowship. (Anderson Journal) We have received the first number of the Laurens Advertiser, a bright, newsy seven-column paper just started by Messrs. J. C. Garlington & Co. We welcome the new paper to the field of literature and wish for it full share of prosperity. (Fairfield News and Herald) The Laurens Advertiser, a new contemporary published weekly at Laurens, S. C., by J. C. Garlington & Co., is a neatly gotten up sheet, and starts off with a bang, publishing the South Carolina College, and we feel sure it will commend itself to the people of Laurens and the public generally. (Union Path Pleasantry) We have received the first and second numbers of the new paper at Laurens, published by J. C. Garlington & Co., and we extend to it the right hand of fellowship. It is a 7-column sheet, bright, newsy and neatly printed, and we feel sure it will commend itself to the people of Laurens and the public generally. (Spartanburg Herald) The first number of the Laurens Advertiser has reached us, it is a neat seven-column paper edited by J. C. Garlington, and was owned by J. C. Garlington & Co.

To wish this gentleman happiness in the turmoil of Journalism, would, we fear, raise a grin and ghastly smile on the face of one of our older editors, and that Brother Williams and I gave us credit for sincerity, would hold us up to scorn as a dreaming visionary. As long as postmasters misplace papers, and subscribers curse, and waiters that they want "either their papers regular or money back" as long as advertisers won't pay, and the papermen must have cash on hand, and the printer must file into the sanctum every Saturday night for "money" and the "Bank can't lend us more," and as long as the "devil" yells copy when we have no copy, we dare not wish our new companions in misery happiness. But we wish them success—a glowing success—a success commensurate with their merits. (Spartanburg Herald) The first number of the Laurens Advertiser has reached us, it is a neat seven-column paper edited by J. C. Garlington, and was owned by J. C. Garlington & Co.

The Columbia Seminary. The Directors of the Columbia Theological Seminary held a meeting in Augusta on Wednesday. The principal business was the filling of the vacant professional chairs. Rev. C. C. Hersman, D. D., President of Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., was elected to the chair of Biblical Literature, formerly occupied by Dr. Hemphill. Dr. H. had previously been elected to the Perkins Professorship, but declined; he has, however, signified his willingness to accept this one. Rev. C. R. Vaughan, D. D., Vaughan, D. D., of Brownsburg, Va., was elected to fill the Faculty for the present, which includes Rev. J. L. Girardeau, D. D., Professor of Didactic Theology, and Rev. Dr. Tadlock, Professor of Church History. This is believed to be the strongest Faculty the Seminary ever had. The Rev. Dr. S. B. Mack says that the duties of the Perkins Professorship, which at present consists of two recitations a week, were considered too light to demand the services of a separate Professor now but as the chair is to be enlarged so as to include the whole field of Christian Apologetics by the Synod this fall, a Professor will then be elected. The duties will be divided among the other Professors until then. The session of the Seminary opens on 21st of September, and the next meeting of the Board of Directors will be held in Columbia on the 7th of October.

—Patt's spare moments are being devoted to the writing of her memoirs. —Three of the original seven appointed, with one commissioned officer, to guard Garfield's grave have gone crazy. Mr. G. Warner, of Seneca, has already cleared $600 this year from one and one eighth acres in grapes.

Mr. J. C. Garlington has commenced the publication of a new paper at Laurens, called the Advertiser. It contains twenty-eight columns and presents a very creditable appearance. The Advertiser will be devoted to the current news of politics, agriculture, literature, science and art. It will be purely Democratic in politics, and will be published in an intelligent and thorough manner, and we feel sure it will commend itself to the people of Laurens and the public generally. We hope at any rate.

The Laurens Advertiser is a new weekly contemporary, issued at Laurens, S. C., by Messrs. J. C. Garlington & Co., the senior and principal editor. The paper is neatly gotten up and the contents well chosen. The Advertiser ranges itself in line for the support of the South Carolina College. The former under that veteran and true man Tom Crews has always deserved well of the people, and the new paper starts out in a way to produce a good impression. We hope there's "big money" for both you and friends.
