

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

WHAT THEY ARE DOING AND WHAT THEY ARE NOT DOING.

Synopsis of the Proceedings of the Senate and the House, in the Fourth Week of the Session.

The Senate passed the bill to repeal the Act prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors in Oconee county. The bill to revise the usury law was killed.

The House bill to require the board of agriculture and the directors of the penitentiary to pay into the State Treasury all moneys collected by them from any source...

The House bill to repeal the Lien Law came up in the Senate on the 14th inst. Senators Earle, Moody and Howell...

On the following day the discussion was resumed. On the motion to pass the repealing bill, the vote stood: Yeas—Bismuth, Black, Lobo, Buist, Clyburn, Leno, Moore, of Anson, Patterson, Munro, Patterson, Redfern, Sligh, Smythe, Todd and Woodward...

The Senate bill to fix the priority of liens—giving the landlord the first lien, the laborer the second. The matter came up again on the 17th inst., when the bill to fix the priority of liens was reconsidered, and passed.

SECTION 1. That from and after the passage of this act the landlord shall have a lien upon the crops of his tenant for his rent, in preference to all other liens. That laborers who assist in making any crop shall have a lien thereon to the extent of the amount due them for such labor, next in priority to the landlord, and as between such laborers there shall be no preference.

SECTION 2. That no writing or recording shall be necessary to create the liens of the landlord, and of the laborer, but such lien shall exist from the date of the contract, whether the same be in writing or verbal.

SECTION 3. That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with or supplied by this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

This bill does not affect liens for supplies, but places such liens subordinate to landlords' and laborers' liens.

was estimated that only one-third of the whiskey sellers had United States licenses. This was the condition of the county. He referred to the failure of the efforts to punish illicit liquor selling.

The bill was further discussed by Senators Moody of Marion, and Howell of Colleton, who spoke against it. The motion to strike out the enacting clause of the bill was yeas 18, and nays 16. So the bill was killed.

The census bill passed by the House came up on the 16th inst. After some discussion the Senate rejected the bill by a vote of 19 to 14.

When the concurrent resolution relative to Federal aid to education was reached on the Calendar Senator Youmans moved to strike out the resolving words. After brief debate between himself and Senator Buist, the Senate voted on the question. There were 14 yeas and 19 nays. A motion to make the resolution a special order for Friday was lost by a vote of 13 to 19.

The bill to provide for the completion of the State House was passed to its third reading. It appropriates $33,611.38, and provides for the completion of the contemplated work of the next session of the General Assembly.

The bill to provide for the infliction of corporal punishment was killed. The bill to authorize the sinking fund commissioners to invest such portion of the fund in their possession as they may deem advisable in the purchase and improvement of lands for the use of the State Penitentiary, and to amend the act in that behalf, was killed.

The bill fixes the license at $500, and makes it a misdemeanor for any one to buy seed cotton without having taken out a license.

The question of adjournment was incidentally discussed in the House during Thursday morning on a resolution from the Senate to adjourn sine die on the 24th. A motion was made to postpone the consideration of the resolution until Monday, and in support of this it was urged that it would be unwise for the General Assembly to commit itself to adjournment at this time, as it might be possible that a new census bill would have to be considered. The motion was adopted.

The bill to provide a liquor license for Beaufort county was reached on Friday. The Prohibitionists were alert and at once moved to strike out the enacting words. Mr. Stinson called the previous question, and gave the Beaufort delegation all the time they desired to discuss it. The bill was killed by a vote of 70 to 45.

The conference committee have agreed upon a compromise in reference to the bill to utilize convict labor in counties, cities and towns. As the bill originated in the House it provided for the utilizing of convicts sentenced to one year. The Senate made it six months. The compromise agreed upon is ninety days, and the bill goes to the Governor in this shape.

A bill passed to amend Section 1,074 of the General Statutes, which provides fine and imprisonment for any person willfully destroying or damaging or obstructing any of the public highways. Fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment not exceeding six months.

The bill introduced by Mr. Douglas of Fairfield, relating to the appointment, powers and duties of the board of equalization, was killed. The appropriation bill contains a feature important to the military. It provides that no company shall receive its proportion of the $14,000 appropriation unless it has drilled at least once a month during the year, with not less than twenty men in ranks.

THE END OF GEN. TOOMBS.

The recent fatal Debility of the Famous Georgian.

(Special to the News and Courier.) ATLANTA, December 15.—At six o'clock this evening Gen. Toombs closed his mortal career by death, which occurred at his home in Washington, Ga. Early in October while in Atlanta he had had a severe attack of illness and bidding farewell to his friends he left for his home in Georgia. A couple of days later his mind was entirely deranged, and he has ever since imagined that he was fighting over the battles which led to his death. His family gathered around him and waited upon his slightest wish. Last week a marked improvement was noticed in him, so much so that he hoped was entertained of his recovery. On Sunday night, however, he suddenly relapsed. Dr. W. G. Mulligan, his physician, declared that this evening was at hand. For several days he has been in a comatose condition, unable to lift his head. His entire family of grandchildren were called around his bedside at five this evening and tearfully awaited the end, which Dr. Mulligan declared to be near. At six o'clock the doctor placed his ear to the General's heart. It was still "beating," said the doctor.

A letter to the Constitution from Washington, Ga., advised the following account of the death of the late Gen. Toombs: "The last time that any attempt was made to give him any thing this morning, when Mr. H. O. Colley attempted to moisten his throat with a wet towel, but the General was too weak to stand it. The last distinct words spoken were on Sunday night, when Mr. H. O. Colley, his grandson-in-law, for so called, and me the hundred dollars." On Monday morning he attempted to speak to his colored servant, Libby, but his voice was so weak his words could not be caught. All today his room has been filled with his relatives and near friends waiting by his side expecting every moment to see him breathe his life away. Four after hour passed by and he lay in a feeble weaker state than he had been for some time. At 11 o'clock in the afternoon he was taken to the court-house tower, which he had not reached until after dark. There were gathered around him Mr. Gabriel Toombs, his brother, Mr. Henry Colley and wife, Mr. Toombs DuBois, Dudley DuBois, Miss Lullie DuBois, Mrs. Dautler, Dr. Mulligan and Mr. S. J. Palmer. One or two of the relatives in a few moments before he died, went across the street to get their supper, thinking the General would probably hold out till nine or ten o'clock, but before they had returned he was dead. His physicians say his death was perfectly painless. His body was laid in a casket in the west room of the main building of his dwelling.

WASHINGTON, Ga., December 17.—The funeral of General Robert Toombs took place today in the M. E. Church, S. W. corner of Peach and Adams streets. The church was crowded to overflowing. The casket was a beautiful pillow of flowers, which bore the letters "R. T." in gold letters. On one side of the pillow was another bearing the word "REST," and opposite this an exquisite floral arrangement. The casket was borne by wreaths of flowers and many prominent citizens of the State were present. Sermons were read by the Rev. W. H. Lupton and by the Rev. W. H. Lupton and Bishop Beckwith. They were frank and straightforward, acknowledging the trials of General Toombs, and regretting the late date at which he connected himself with the church, and his failure to use his magnificent powers throughout his life on the side of religion.

General Toombs joined the M. E. Church three years ago. His integrity has never been questioned. His love for his wife was beautiful in its unalloyed purity and fervor, and his home life was irreproachable. In the place where he has always lived, his death like a great family, and old and young, white and black, in one common bereavement followed to its last resting place all that was mortal of Georgia's greatest orator and most majestic intellect.

Mrs. Hendricks, the widow of the Vice President, has filed bonds as executrix of his will. She estimates the estate at $85,000.

"TICKET, SIR." A POPULAR CONDUCTOR SAYS: I consider it my duty to impart some very valuable information to my friends and acquaintances as to the condition under which I have labored in performing my duties as conductor of the Georgia Central Railroad. Some months ago I became afflicted with a severe attack of Rheumatism, which rendered me unable to stand. My wife was so afflicted with Rheumatism, that she was unable to do any of her usual duties. I had heard of a medicine called "TICKET, SIR," and I purchased a bottle of it. I had heard that it was a good medicine, and I had heard that it was a good medicine, and I had heard that it was a good medicine. RHEUMATISM. Although a practitioner of nearly twenty years, my mother influenced me to procure B. B. Pills for her. She had been confined to her bed several months with Rheumatism, which had steadily increased until she was unable to get up. Her usual remedies, within twenty-four hours after commencing B. B. Pills, she experienced marked relief. She has just completed her eighth month of pregnancy, and is now active, and has been in the front yard with "rake in hand," cleaning up. Her improvement is truly wonderful, and immensely gratifying.
