

LET'S GO... SHOPPING

I know it's almost here—Christmas! Any shopper in Newberry would know that and while nosing around to prepare to tell you what's what this week I saw gaily colored bulbs high above the noisy streets, a large tree surrounded by smaller trees in front of the old court house where lights will gaily twinkle at night, decorators with wreaths, sparkling tinsel, and bells balancing on a ladder or stool, poinsettias beginning to show their heads, and the holiday red and green going up everywhere.

I've always felt the biggest kind of thrill just looking at Yardley's products at Newberry Drug—but have gone little further than looking. The lovely things Yardley puts out that are so fragrant and dainty, I'm afraid my pocket book would shudder at the sound of the prices. But on my last trip to Newberry Drug I found a real surprise—an attractive Yardley package of English Lavender, Lavender Tale, Sachet Blossoms, and Lavender soap for only $1.85. This package will make a long-lasting gift—prepare to buy an extra because you will want to have one for yourself as well as your friends. Men like Yardley products, too. I noted a set for men including everything luxurious a man's heart could desire.

Pictures that are so lasting that it would be tragic to have one made hastily and poorly finished. Nichols Studio takes the most painstaking care with each picture made. You'll want plenty of time to study over and decide which proof is the best, so might I suggest that you make an appointment with Nichols for that Christmas picture now.

Again let me call your attention to the "gift that starts a home"—the Lane Cedar Chest. Should you happen to be that one poor man floundering helplessly in the rush of Christmas shoppers and not knowing which way to turn, it's G. B. Summer and Sons to the rescue. I can promise you that the bride or bride-to-be couldn't be more thrilled with anything for a Christmas gift than a cedar chest—and of course, a Lane.

Everytime the subject of moving pictures comes up, I immediately begin anew about Ronald Colman's superb acting in "Lost Horizon." If you saw that picture or not, you will want to see, "The Prisoner of Zenda" for again Colman comes to the front to play a dual role in a colorful tale. Madeline Carroll appears opposite Ronald Colman. This picture is the famous Anthony Hope romance of love and intrigue in the royal courts of Europe, and it's showing at the Opera House Monday and Tuesday of next week.

I was in a group only the other day that was talking about the vast difference in the drug stores of today and yesterday. A conclusion was reached that everything from soup to nuts may be obtained in the modern drug store. And it's not so surprising that Stokes Drug handles the famous line of Elgin watches. Elgin has obtained the name of "America's traditional fine Christmas gift". The newest models for men and women are now on display at Stokes, I find. Jot that fact down on your Xmas list right now.

CHARMING INFORMAL TEA HONORS MRS. SMITH

Mrs. Edgar Hart and Mrs. E. B. Purcell entertained at a charming informal tea Tuesday afternoon at the home of the former on Crenshaw street in compliment to Mrs. Gypsy Smith, wife of the noted evangelist who is now conducting services at Aveleigh Presbyterian church.

Mrs. C. A. Calcote met the guests at the front door and introduced them to the honoree. The receiving room and living room of the home was arranged with vases of pink roses.

Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. Fannie McCaughrin presided at the dining room table where a tea-course was served by Miss Anna Hart and Miss Mae Dold. Centering the lace-covered table was a low bowl of gypsophalia and fern.

About fifty guests called from 4 o'clock until 5 o'clock.

NEWS RECEIVED HERE OF PAUL SMITH'S MARRIAGE

News has been received here of the marriage of Miss Betty Pettie to Paul Smith in Montgomery, Ala. The couple are expected here Monday for a visit with the latter's relatives.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mrs. W. R. Smith of College street and the brother of Mrs. Richard Floyd and Mrs. R. Derril Smith. He is known by many Newberrians as he visits here frequently.

HAVE YOU HEARD? (By Rev. C. A. Calcote)

Have you heard this man of God, Gypsy Smith, yet? If you haven't I can hardly see how you can be gentlemanly loyal to your better-self. Even those who may not give a rap about hearing a simple gospel of Jesus Christ preached, owe it to themselves to realize that a great man of God is in Newberry, preaching the greatest theme in the whole world from the pulpit of Aveleigh church and you should hear him.

This man doesn't care who you are, or to what denomination you belong—he roclaims simple gospel truths with the dynamics of God, and the spellbound listener is left to be the judge, and then comes back to hear the next message.

Gypsy Smith has already hit us squarely between the eyes, and it has done us good, as God knows, and unless I greatly misjudge human nature, there are many in Newberry who need to wake up spiritually, but who will never wake up I'm afraid unless hit squarely between the eyes with the blow of the truth of God.

Newberry doesn't usually hear the kind of preaching she has the opportunity of hearing from the lips and heart of this man. I have no particular desire to say anything to help merely fill the pews of the church—I greatly covet for every Christian and unsaved persons in Newberry the privilege of hearing this man present the "Old, Old Story". Aveleigh church invites you to hear him, but come early enough to get your seat. The church is being filled to capacity, but I want every person in Newberry to hear God's man tell God's story of salvation.

KIWANIANS MEET

The Kiwanis club held its regular meeting Wednesday at the Newberry Hotel where a luncheon was served at one o'clock.
