Joe Keitt Appointed

Columbia, Dec. 28.—Appointment of four supervisors to be in charge of different branches of activities under the state employment service of the South Carolina Unemployment Compensation commission was announced today by R. Brice Waters, administrator for the commission.

The appointments were by the commission on recommendation of C. M. Wilson, director of the employment service division of the commission.

Those named were: W. B. Klugh of Abbeville, supervisor in charge of statistics and personnel; J. L. Keitt, Newberry, supervisor in charge of farm placement and training programs; Felix W. Gouldelock of Columbia, former department commander of the American Legion, supervisor in charge of veteran placements; and I. Edward Blatt, Charleston, fiscal and report supervisor.

The appointees were selected from a merit list, made up of names of those persons who passed merit examinations administered in accordance with provisions of the state unemployment compensation act. The newly named supervisors, as did the director of the service, stood at the top of the merit lists.

The commission, which is composed of A. Malcolm Scarborough, chairman, A. J. Hatfield, vice-chairman, and Dr. E. C. Lewis, said in joint statement following the appointments, that it felt that it was fortunate in securing the four men for the important posts with the employment service in that they were well trained and especially fitted for their respective duties. The employment service is one of the two main divisions of the unemployment compensation commission. Its purpose is to establish and maintain free public employment offices at strategic points in the state. These offices will attempt to find employment for the jobless and receive claims for weekly wage benefits from insured employees.

One Solitary Life

By Phillips Brooks

Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in an obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty, and then for three years he was an itinerant teacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where he was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but himself. He had nothing to do with this world except the power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against him. His friends ran away. One of them denied him. He was turned over to his enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed upon a cross between two thieves. His executioners gambled for the only piece of property he had on earth while he was dying—His coat. When he was dead he was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone. Today he is the centerpiece of the human race and the Leader of the column of progress.

I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that were ever built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned put together have not affected the life of man upon this earth as powerfully as has that one solitary life.

Outline of History

(New York Herald Tribune)

A man named Earnest Simpson married a Miss Dorothea Parsons. They were divorced. Simpson then married the divorced wife of Earl Winfield Spencer, a naval officer, the former Miss Wallis Warfield, of Baltimore. They were divorced. Mrs. Simpson then married the Duke of Windsor. Spencer married again and was divorced by his second wife, Mrs. Mariam J. Spencer. He then married Mrs. Norma Reese Johnson, a Detroit widow. Mr. Simpson married Mary Kirk Raffray, who had been divorced from Jacques Achille Louis Raffray. Now news comes that Mr. Raffray is going to marry Mrs. Connie de Bower, who is divorcing Herbert de Bower, who up to this time has taken no part in the conversation. Well, what is Mr. de Bower going to do?

WAITES-PEIPER CEREMONY HERE CHRISTMAS DAY

In a setting of lovely Christmas holly, cedar, and burning white tapers with only the immediate members of the families present, Miss Jeroline Frances Waites became the bride of Dr. Richard J. Peiper. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. E. B. Keisler, of the Lutheran church of the Redeemer, on Christmas day at noon, in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. Edwin Stokes and Dr. Stokes.

Jasper Waites, youngest brother of the bride, entered and lighted the tapers with which Dr. Keisler entered. The bride and groom entered together, attended by Dr. and Mrs. Stokes.

The bride was dressed in a most becoming fashion, suited to her blond beauty. Her suit was of black transparent velvet with white lame blouse, white hat with tiny black veil and white gloves. Her corsage was of gardenias showered with valley lilies. About her neck she wore a tiny gold cross, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Stokes was dressed in black velvet and net frock, with black accessories.

After the ceremony a two course luncheon was served buffet style at the Stokes' home.
