SPELLING IT

The popular film star was always trying out her French on table companions, so it happened that when a certain gallant asked her if she'd have sugar, she said, "Oui."

"What do you mean by 'we'?" asked the gallant.

"O, u and I," said the actress.

DORIS DENE'S COLUMN

No Such Thing as Good Husband for Any Girl; Must Be Suited.

DEAR MISS DENE: I should like to know what you consider is a good husband for any girl. My daughter has a chance to marry a fine young man, and so far as her father and I can see, he is about as good a type for marriage as any she is likely to meet. But she says that he would not make her a good husband, and she treats him so badly, I wonder that he stays around. I want to help her but I need an outsider's opinion to help me first.

—W. Va.

ANSWER—There is no such thing as a good husband for ANY girl. There are plenty of good husbands in the world but their efficiency is founded on the fact that they found the women best suited to them and that their wives' love and adoration help to make them good husbands.

But a man can be honorable and fine and a good provider and a tender loving companion—yet bore his wife to death and make her restless and dissatisfied for the remainder of her life. It's not just that he does anything wrong. It's just that he can't possibly do anything right for the woman who doesn't love him. If he is generous and sweet and kind, she despises him for being an easy mark—and longs for the primitive caveman type.

A man may be thrillingly romantic, passionate and possessive enough to satisfy any maiden's dream but if he doesn't find the right woman, he will be a loss on the matrimonial market. For the wife who doesn't love him will yawn in the face of his most dramatic outbursts and will yearn for a quiet, placid existence with a nice, calm life-partner. Mothers and fathers of course look over their possible son-in-law with a practical eye. If he's a good provider and an honest, steady worker, they are at least relieved of any worry about their daughter's future and it is quite natural that they should OK the courtship.

But they must not forget that Mary will manage to make herself desperately unhappy even in a ten-room house with a garage and a smart car and two new frocks a week—if the man she marries isn't her idea of a good husband. True she will not know the suffering and despair of utter poverty but if she has an imagination and the will to use it in the wrong direction she will arrange to have a special sort of suffering which will cast a blight on her marriage.

Very often we see a young man pointed out as a splendid candidate for marriage because he neither smokes nor drinks nor fools around with women. Yet letters come to me from girls who have married these exemplary characters—letters which complain bitterly: "He doesn't seem to be human. I wish he had a few faults so that he'd be more like other people. He never wants to go out and frowns at the slightest suggestion of frivolity. I feel that I am getting to be an old woman, without ever having had any fun."

And that other perfect candidate for marriage, "The good steady worker," can be just as unsuccessful as his shiftless brother if he chooses the wrong mate. For his industry and his untiring energy and his preoccupation with his job will get on the nerves of the woman who has no ambition for him, and who would rather live simply on very little money than be a business widow.

DEAR MISS DENE: I have been going with a boy for a year now while he says he likes me, he has never shown any signs of love. I however have fallen very much in love and want to do anything I can to win him. You have helped others—will you help me?—Bobbie.

ANSWER—I'm afraid I can't work any magic, Bobbie, which will make your lukewarm suitor a helpless victim of love. And unfortunately there are no active steps you can take, without upsetting the romance entirely.

It is certainly tough to be a mere woman under circumstances of this sort, since it has always been woman's lot to wait patiently and meekly until some great brute has made up his mind that she will do. No use kicking against the facts. Better to face them.

However, woman is a more complex creature than man and for that reason the tricks she plays on him are apt to work. Whereas few men are quick and clever enough to fool any woman with their artful dodges.

Therefore, Bobbie, you might give your hero something to think about by investing another bean. Stop being the steady, steady girl friend and begin to show signs of being elusive. Don't be so almighty easy to date. Talk vaguely about other plans. Keep a memo book around in which to jot down dates—instead of being eagerly ready to say "yes," whenever your true love suggests an evening.

It's just possible that this year's friendship has been too easy and matter-of-fact to strike a romantic note with the man in the case. Throw a little glamor around yourself and build up a few illusions to convince the boy friend that his dear old pal is after all an extremely attractive and rather mysterious feminine being.

A very little judicious feminine deception can work wonders with the tempo of a man's heart-beat.

Protected Gold

The main part of the gold depository built at Fort Knox, Ky., is below the level of the ground and the vaults are guarded by every known scientific method of protection, including a torch-proof wall and a photoelectric eye which detects any intruder.

Four gun turrets of steel and stone flank the structure which is set within a steel fenced inclosure. Armed guards are on duty at all times. The depository is manned with machine guns and other modern methods of defense.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Muscular Rheumatic Pains

It takes more than "just a salve" to draw them out. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole—soothing, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the local congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots.

Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly.

Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster, Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

HAVE GAS, HEARTBURN?

Columbus, Ga. — Mrs. Clara Lutz, 410 8th St., says: "My stomach seemed so upset because of excess acidity. I never felt like eating and was weak. I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and my appetite improved. I was ever so much stronger and was able to eat without being distressed by gas." Ask your druggist today for it in liquid or tablets.

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
