G. A. LEADERS ENTERTAIN AT PARTY

Mrs. C. E. Fouché and Mrs. A. W. Murray entertained 14 members of the Junior Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at the former's home on Boundary street. Throughout the party, a motif, symbolic of Washington's birthday, was used.

The group played a series of games and entered merry contests. Later in the afternoon, punch and cookies were served.

LITTLE BOB HUFFMAN HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. John L. Huffman entertained at a party at her home on Main street Wednesday in honor of her son, Bob, who was celebrating his fifth birthday.

A Valentine motif was carried out. Many games were played and numerous stories were read.

The children were then invited into the dining room where the table was centered with a beautiful white cake bearing five tiny candles. After the guests sang "Happy Birthday" the cake was cut and served with cream to about thirty-five. Valentine cups of candy hearts and cherries were passed and Valentine horns were distributed as favors of the occasion.

The little host received many gifts from his friends present. Mrs. Huffman was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Troy Rogers, Mrs. Herman Half-acre, and Mrs. Foster Spotts.

MISS MOWER ENTERTAINS FOR MISS BLACKWELL

Miss Elizabeth Mower entertained Wednesday afternoon at her home on McCaughrin avenue, complimenting Miss Elizabeth Blackwell, whose marriage to Duncan Johnson takes place next month.

The room where the guests gathered to play hearts was decorated in pink carnations, a pink and white color note being used throughout the party. Three tables were placed for the games. The honoree won the top score prize with her sister, Miss Mary Blackwell, winning second high score prize at hearts. When bingo was played, Miss Cynthia Martin was winner and was presented an award.

Miss Blackwell's place at the table was marked with a shoulder corsage of roses and valley lilies. Late in the afternoon the hostess served a sweet course and a miniature corsage for each guest was placed on the serving plate. After refreshments, the young bride-elect was honored with a miscellaneous shower and received many beautiful gifts from her friends present.

Miss Betty Horton, Union, was an out-of-town guest. Calling after the games were Mrs. G. D. Blackwell, Mrs. P. D. Johnson, and Mrs. Hattie Blackwell, Clinton.

For the first of her series of pre-nuptial parties, Miss Blackwell looked charming in a black ensemble with a small black off-the-face hat.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY GIVES LOVELY TEA

One of the most enjoyable social gatherings of the season was the tea given by the Hospital Auxiliary Thursday afternoon at Mrs. W. H. Hunt's home on Calhoun street. About 75 were present.

For the occasion the spacious home was beautifully decorated with a profusion of yellow flowers. Yellow-bells, jonquils, and daffodils were arranged in the hall, drawing room, and music room.

The guests were received at the door by Mrs. Hunt, Auxiliary president, and other members of the organization. Several games and contests were played and when the cake walk was held, Mrs. G. D. Blackwell and Mrs. M. O. Summer were winners.

At five o'clock the guests were invited into the dining room which presented a lovely scene in its color motif of red and white. The white covered table was centered with a huge silver bowl of red pyrus japonica and about the table burned tall red tapers in silver holders. On the mantle and buffet were flowers in red bowls and burning red tapers. Miss Fannie McCaughrin poured tea at the end of the table.

Serving the tea with sandwiches and marguerites were Miss Theresa Leightsey, Mrs. Lambert Jones, Mrs. Hugh B. Senn, Mrs. T. H. Pope, Miss Fannie Mae Carwile, Mrs. Hunt, and Mrs. W. H. Carwile.

MISS BLACKWELL HONORED AT SHOWER SATURDAY

Among the lovely pre-nuptial courtesies being shown Miss Elizabeth Blackwell, March bride-elect, was the towel shower given Saturday afternoon by Miss Julia McAlhoney and Miss Frances Baxter at the home of the former on Boundary street. The home was decorated in lovely spring flowers and a green and white color note was executed.

Three tables were set for the guests and interesting contests were enjoyed throughout the afternoon. Miss Blackwell's place at the tables was designated by a miniature bride and groom.

Refreshments consisting of jello, whipped cream, and bridal cakes, also carrying the green and white motif, were served.

Danny Paysinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Paysinger, presented a large box filled with towels to the honoree.

Miss Margaret Goza, Columbia, was an out-of-town guest at the party. Calling after the contests were Mrs. Duncan Johnson, Mrs. Forrest Summer, and Mrs. G. D. Blackwell.

MRS. H. B. WILSON ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Mrs. H. B. Wilson entertained her bridge club and a number of extra guests Saturday afternoon at her apartment on Johnstone street. A profusion of spring flowers created the setting for the players and a motif symbolic of Washington's birthday was used.

Mrs. R. W. Kirkland won the club score prize and Mrs. R. H. Driscoll was awarded the guest prize for holding high score. Mrs. C. H. Albrecht won the bingo prize and Mrs. Fred Gilbert drew the marked tally and was presenter and award.

A sweet course was served after cards.

Chit-Chat

By CONSTANCE ARMFIELD

One looking into the Country Club of Newberry Tuesday evening would have wondered how one managed to get into Farmer Brown's barn instead of the modernistic club room. But no such mistake would have been made for the club did look just like a barn when decorated for the barn dance Tuesday. The floor was covered with hay. Bales of hay surrounded the walls for the dancers to sit on. Curtains were made of burlap and cobwebs covered the lights. On the mantle was a chicken coop with a few very much alive hens doing their part toward making the scene more effective. About the room lay harnesses, plows, and other things suggestive of farm life. Even the College 'N' Orchestra of Newberry College directed by Chris Kaufmann did its bit, other than furnishing music, by playing in a rather tumbled-down wagon and all the orchestra members were dressed as farmers. I understand that Dave Blackwell, Kitty Anderson, and Perry Kessler deserve all credit for the unique decorations for the occasion, while farm effects were generously furnished by Johnson-McCrackin. The dance began at 9:30 and upon arrival most of the guests lost all dignity by having to make a dramatic entrance into the club room by going down a slide and landing on a pile of hay. But as for some of the more colorful costumes and there were so many. Since a prize was to be awarded to each man and woman wearing the most original costume, two had to be chosen. Judges were Mrs. J. G. Barwell, of Whitmire, Mrs. J. D. French, and Chris Kaufmann. For the ladies, Mrs. C. N. Beard, Hutto was winner. She was a farm lassie, dressed in a red checked dress with her blond hair done up in braids, and wore comical glasses. Eleanor Adams won the men's prize. He was an aged farmer with white hair—something like an uncle Ezra I imagine. Before these two prize winners were named, they had to be selected from eight of the best on the floor. And of the remaining six, some grand costumes were noted. Miss Julia Kathryn Ruff was attractive in a peasant dress with red predominating. Mrs. Richard Baker was another country maid with a full skirt, white jacket, and a very floppy hat. Mrs. Aubrey Harley looked unusually striking in a Norwegian peasant dress. As for the gentlemen, James Evans was dressed as a young man of the gay nineties with a high stiff collar, straw hat, and a carnation in his coat lapel. Major J. T. Crawford, from Whitmire, was another farmer, who fitted perfectly into the surroundings. And last, but not least, I must mention Dave Blackwell, one of the "mountain boys". Dave wore some nice fitting trousers, a big straw hat, moccasins and red socks. His face was well-covered with red freckles and he carried a straw in his mouth and over his shoulder was swinging a jug. Other costumes that I just can't find room to mention were three prisoners, milk maids, and farmers and peasants, galore. The event will be remembered as the most outstanding affairs since the re-organization of the club.

The latest report is that the benefit for Chris Kaufmann is coming along nicely. Few thought that the seemingly capable College Registrar would ever be put into such an embarrassing position. But it was all because of the old faithful typewriter that pounds out this column weekly. In writing of the D. A. E. tea which was held Tuesday at Washington's birthday, the typewriter, getting completely out of control rushed on ahead saying that the tea would be on the 22nd and in parenthesis stated "for the benefit of Chris Kaufmann." I know the worn keys didn't intend to issue such a statement, but being a little tired, just got things confused.

It was like this—everyone knows Washington's birthday is on the 22nd—that is, everybody except Chris Kaufmann. Chris at his best, cannot keep prominent men's birthdays straight, so by putting "for the benefit of Chris Kaufmann" in parenthesis after the 22nd, we thought it would help Chris remember that his popular orchestra was to play at the Country Club of Newberry dance on Washington's birthday and not Lincoln's birthday, as he had formerly stated. However with such a capable Registrar, orchestra leader, and general handy man at the College as Chris, I think we will not have to worry anymore about the benefit. But I'm convinced that the Daughters of the Revolution would do their part if called upon.

An annual affair of great interest is the meeting of the Mothers' Club when the members of the Woman's Club are invited guests. This gathering will be held Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. J. N. Beard, Mothers' Club president, and Dr. R. C. Grier, president of Erskine College, will be the principal speaker.

Weekend visitors in the city included the following: Miss Elizabeth Coppock, Spartanburg, arrived Friday and stayed until Sunday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Carwile and Miss Fannie Mae Carwile on Calhoun street. Miss Coppock, a former Newberrian, is now supervisor of primary work in the Spartanburg City schools. Mrs. T. A. Scarborough of Columbia visited her sister, Miss Ethel Jones, over the weekend. Miss Elizabeth Blackwell's guest last week was Miss Margaret Goza, Columbia. Miss Goza attended the McAlhoney-Baxter party given Miss Blackwell Saturday afternoon. Also visiting the Blackwells was Mrs. Hattie Blackwell, of Clinton, mother of Mr. Blackwell.

Two arrivals, both boys, were made into this world and into Newberry over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kirkland are indeed proud parents of a son born Saturday night at the local hospital. This first tot of the Kirklands has been named Robert Edward. Mrs. Kirkland is the former Miss Frances Cummings of Union

Elizabeth at a party on the College campus. Saturday, the honoree goes to Columbia for the weekend—a party being given for her Saturday afternoon by Miss Margaret Goza, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. E. C. Goza. I understand this will be a linen shower. Imagine the bride-elect having so many showers all at once. At any rate, Elizabeth should have a supply of most everything when she and Duncan get ready to furnish the apartment they will take in the city.

City, Tennessee. Mr. Kirkland is employed at Rose's store. The couple have been making their home in the city only a short time with Mrs. C. J. Purcell, Main street. And for the other important arrival—it's a boy in the Joseph C. Hiett family, also born on Saturday at the hospital here—and the name, J. C. Jr. The Hietts have one other child—a small daughter.

CHURCH GROUP HONORS MISS ELIZABETH BLACKWELL

The Youn'w Womens Association of the First Baptist church honored one of its members, Miss Elizabeth Blackwell, bride-elect, at the regular meeting of the Association Monday evening at Mrs. Claude Sanders' home on Boundary street. After the session, a social hour was enjoyed when bridal games and contests were held.

The home on this occasion was decorated in carnations, jonquils, and other spring flowers. The honoree was invited to go into an adjoining room where she was delightfully surprised with a shower of miscellaneous gifts.

A salad course was served late in the evening and favors distributed were dainty cups of candies.

SANDERS-BOZZARD MARRIAGE IN COLUMBIA

News has been received here of the marriage of Miss Nellie Elene Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sanders of the Oakland community, to John Clifford Bozzard of Columbia, Tuesday night in Columbia.

Mrs. Bozzard is a graduate of the '32 class of Newberry high school and a graduate of a Columbia hospital. At present she is employed as a nurse in the State hospital of Columbia.

SILVERSTREET LEAGUE GIVES ENJOYABLE SOCIAL

Saturday evening, February 19th the Silverstreet Luther league entertained at a delightful party with Miss Rose Hamm and Miss Pearle Hamm as hostesses in their home at Silverstreet. The home was very attractive on the occasion with a profusion of lovely jonquils, narcissi, and daffodils furnishing floral decorations.

Much fun and excitement was created by the measuring of the waist of each guest, the guest paying a penny for each inch of measurement.

By way of introduction each one present was asked to give his or her name, address, occupation and hobby. Many amusing games were enjoyed during the evening, directed by Miss Julia Thomas, Winthrop student.

The hostesses served sandwiches, fruit punch, and fruit at the conclusion of the party. Out-of-town guests were Miss Julia Thomas, Miss Anne Thomas, Miss Mildred Havird, and Miss Marian Fellers, all of Winthrop college; Cadet Charles Aull, of Clemson; Mr. and Mrs. James Hamm and Richard Hamm, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Everette Fellers, Naval Air Base, Pensacola, Fla.; H. M. Long, Newberry.

Proceeds from the occasion will be donated to the Konnorack Medical Center at Konnorack, Va.

The league of the Silverstreet Lutheran church is wide awake, having met in advance all its national dues, half of the state dues, and its missionary quota. The League sponsors church bulletins for the Sunday services, and makes needed repairs to the church building. This group meets on Sunday evenings in the homes of various members.
