OUT AMONG THE PEOPLE

TIP FOR F & G GROUP

They are eating crow up in Virginia according to the following taken from a paper published in the Old Dominion:

CHRIS WILL BROADCAST

Tune in on station WIS, Columbia, Monday afternoon at 4:30 and you will hear a half-hour program of dance music played by the Newberry College Orchestra under the direction of C. A. Kaufmann, College registrar.

HERE'S THE RULE

If you are troubled that way paste this in your hat:

I before E Except after C Or when sounded as A As in neighbor and weigh There are a few exceptions, but many apparent exceptions are not the dipthong, but the e and i are in separating syllables. As in "glacier." One common exception is "seize" and even that one was probably once pronounced in two syllables "Se-ize"-Ex.

G MEN ACTIVE

G MEN Quattlebaum and Neel of the NEI (Newberry Bureau of Identification) skipped Sunday school last Sabbath and rounded up a 50 gallon hooch mill in the tangled and verdant recesses of Broad river, near the home of Elmore Richardson. The raid netted 120 gallons of nash.

NEWBERRIAN MAKES GOOD

A boy who learned his trade in the old Herald office, dropped in on us Monday on his way back to Richmond after a tour of Florida in his big new Packard. He is Jesse Coates a brother of Miss Nellie Coates of Helena. Jesse is a very likeable fellow and a competent linotype operator. He writes well on his paper. Many Newberrians will remember him.

SUN GETS NATIONAL COPY

Next week's issue of The Sun will carry an advertisement of the Chevrolet Motor company. This is the first national or "foreign" copy The Sun has carried. All of which may be uninteresting to the reader but to the publisher it means that one of the world's largest advertising agencies thinks enough of The Sun to spend its client's money in it. Advertising agencies do not place business unless they are convinced they are getting value for the expenditure.

LAMOREUX TO SPEAK

Dr. F. O. Lamoreux, pastor of the First Baptist church, has accepted an invitation to deliver the literary address to the graduating class of the Pelzer high school, the night of May 23.

SHOULD LOOK AHEAD

There is only one thing that will keep the South from becoming the manufacturing center of the nation. If monied interests can be assured of decent treatment here; be assured that the South has had its fill of demagogic governors and reckless law-makers, a steady flow of factories from the North and East may be expected. Indications are now that we are turning to sanity in making laws to regulate industry.

It is not unreasonable to expect that such a movement could reach proportions that would completely strip other sections of industrial plants. Labor that once found employment on farms is available for hundreds of factories; living is more agreeable in the South in all seasons and a lot cheaper.

P. B. McCONVILLE MOVE HERE FROM ALABAMA

Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. McConville, and two daughters have moved to 2218 Mayer avenue in the house formerly occupied by the Edgar Payingers. The McConvilles came here from Montgomery, Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sligh and daughter and Mrs. Stephens have moved from the B. M. Scurry apartment on Mayer avenue into the Fair residence, 1827 College street which has been bought by the Slighs.

N. C. REPUBLICANS WHOOP FOR KNOX

Charlotte, N. C., March 15.—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher and Republican nominee for vice president in 1936, urged a cheering, whooping throng of Republicans to "keep your powers at home."

Colonel Knox, praising the constitution as "the greatest document for governing a people that ever sprang from a man's brain," said from it came two new concepts of government—that of a union of sovereign states; and that of division of authority into three parts, executive, judicial and legislative.

LITERARY DIGEST WOULD REORGANIZE

New York, March 16.—The Literary Digest, nationally-circulated weekly magazine, petitioned today for authority to reorganize under a section of the bankruptcy act, listing assets at $850,923 and liabilities at $1,492,056.

The petition was signed by George F. Havell, president. The magazine, printed by the Cuneo Press of Chicago, was described in the petition as having 425,000 subscribers when the publication was temporarily suspended last February 23.

Disclosure was made that a profitable business had resulted from the magazine's "renting its names and addresses for direct mailing advertising purposes and for direct mail sales campaigns" at prices ranging from $8 to $15 per 1,000 names.

PLACE THE BLAME WHERE IT BELONGS

In the early days of Roosevelt much was said about "the forgotten man." That evidently meant just what it said, at least so far as one woman is concerned. She works in a Newberry cotton mill and earns as a spare hand some $35 a month with which she supports a husband and several children. The husband has tried for several months to get a job with the WPA, even the most menial work, but has not succeeded. He cannot do cotton mill work but he can kill time as efficiently as any WPA worker but they turn a deaf ear to his pleas. This, we suppose, is the "more abundant life" that Mr. Roosevelt "planned that way."

After five years of injustice such as this and thousands of such cases, it is time to stop blaming the president's flunkies and blame him. If he can't stop such as this (and there is no arguing he doesn't know it) it is time to turn things over to someone who can. Only recently there has been two instances of suicide in Eastern cities because of the spectre of starvation—this in spite of the fact that hundreds of millions are being spent yearly for relief. The trouble with Mr. Roosevelt is that he turned the big job of relief over to non-compe-tents and has-beens. He no doubt now sees his mistake but is a bull-headed to correct it. He is a dictator at heart and should such a catastrophe as a third term for him come upon us we had just well get some brown shirts and start practicing "Heil Roosevelt."

Fair Suggests Old Court House Be Used

Mr. Editor: We note that Dr. Dominick favors the erection of a County Office building which is sorely needed to house the outside county offices—and states that we are now paying around $2,000 annually for office rent, therefore from a business standpoint we need an office building at an added expense to the county, when we now have one that could be remodeled and utilized for the same purpose, we refer to the OLD COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

If this building which is well built is to be retained, repairs will have to be made on it every now and then. So why not do a good modernizing job for all time—and make into County Offices the space now occupied by the American Legion—and the Chamber of Commerce.

We understand the American Legion is taking steps to build a "Hut" for their activities, and no doubt the Chamber of Commerce can find space for an office.

If this is carried out the Magistrate's office on the ground floor can be enlarged so as to give them more needed room.

Newberry County isn't a wealthy county. Taxes as they are now are high enough. Yet there is a possibility that they may go higher when all the lands acquired by the government and the Buzzard Roost projects are taken off of the tax books.

There is enough space in the old court house to take care of county office needs. The county owns the building and it certainly can be remodeled (not too expensively) to answer for all purposes, at a less cost than a new building. Then why not utilize the building we own instead of adding more taxes to the taxpayers. And we believe a majority of the taxpayers will agree with us.

Now let the County Delegation go into this matter before a decision is made.

WILL SPEAK AT CLEMSON SUNDAY

President James C. Kinard returns to the city today after a business trip to Birmingham, Alabama. The college head also visited the University of Alabama, which is located about 60 miles from Birmingham.

The Lions club met Tuesday evening at the Newberry hotel with approximately 40 members present.

The guest speaker for the evening was Hal Kohn, who spoke on the topic "Turn on The Steam." Musical numbers were furnished by Miss Katherine Seng, Miss Grace Morgan, and Miss Lena Hodge, all of the Newberry college student body.

President D. O. Carpenter presided over the business period. Mention was made of the State Lions convention which will be a boat trip from Charleston to Jacksonville, Florida, on June 2, 3, and 4. Several members of the local club are planning to make the trip. Plans were also discussed for celebration of the Ladies night. The tentative date for this affair is April 19.

MOTHERS GROUP TO MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The pre-school group of the Mothers' club will meet Friday afternoon at 3:45 at the home of Mrs. Bill Tedford with Mrs. Tom Sligh as associate hostess.

GOVERNOR'S CLAIMS 'UNTRUE', REPLY TO CHARGE DECLARES

Ben M. Sawyer, chief highway commissioner, today sent to the general assembly his answer to Governor Olin D. Johnston's charge that the state highway department had exceeded the legal limitations of its bonded indebtedness.

A total of $2,600,000 of the $4,000,000 issue in question, Sawyer reveals, was for refinancing bonds which already existed, and he says, since this portion of the new issue would replace old bonds, the limit has not been exceeded, the department is still within the law.

Attacks the Governor

In a detailed report of more than 6,000 words, the chief commissioner attacks the governor's charge without restraint and declares that the chief executive "does not have the right at law or in morals to misstate the facts or misinterpret the law. Such a course cannot be justified by political purpose or personal animosity."

Explaining that the $4,000,000 in bonds issued, the issue in which the governor based his charges, $2,600,000 were for refinancing purposes, Sawyer says:

"Please note that the state highway commission's request of May 20, 1937, plainly stated that the $4,000,000 were to be issued for the following purposes, viz: the sum of $2,600,000 for refinancing reimbursement obligations, and the sum of $1,400,000 for financing the construction of state highways in accordance with the provisions of act No. 881 of the act of 1936."

"The sale of the $2,500,000 bonds for refinancing purposes seems to have perplexed his excellency, the governor. Act 953, acts of 1934, is the original law restricting or limiting the indebtedness outstanding on January 1, 1934. Section 2 of the said act of 1934 specifically provides that it shall not serve to prevent refinancing of any outstanding highway obligation."

Secretary Frank A. Graham, Jr., announced that the committee, after an executive session, deferred consideration of the bill until Thursday to allow members to study the comparison of taxes paid by railroads and trucking companies.

RAILROAD MEN PROTEST MEASURE BEFORE HOUSE

Columbia, March 15.—Railroad employees and officials pleaded for an unfavorable report on the uniform truck bill by a house committee today as the biggest crowd to attend a hearing in the last decade jammed the house of representatives chamber to its capacity.

"Will you legislate a greater danger upon our highways?" he asked the committee concerning the bill to raise the present limitations of 20,000 pounds weight and 90-inch width to 40,000 pounds and 96 inches.

"This is a question of what is dearest to the citizens of our dear old Palmetto State. Do your duty as God tells you to do and we'll be satisfied."

LYNCHING PENALTY NOT TO BE KILLED

Columbia, March 15.—The house judiciary committee drafted an unfavorable report today on the bill by Representative Reynolds of Oconee calling for a referendum to eliminate the $2,000 liability of counties in which lynchings occur.

The senate judiciary committee agreed to sponsor a measure to limit the time in which an action could be brought against the state or any county for the recovery of any fees, salary, costs, commissions or other charges by an officer or employee of the state or county.

The measure agreed upon stipulated that "in all cases where such right of action shall have already accrued on or prior to the effective date of this act, and is not barred by the statute of limitations in effect prior to said date, and action may be brought... within a period of six months from the date when this act shall become operative, and not thereafter."

Speaking to her as "that miserable woman," the Rev. Mr. Graham said she naturally would defend divorce because her own family is shot through with it.

The speaker cited free-and-easy divorce as an underlying cause of the nation's moral looseness and declared that there could be no other ground for divorce than that prescribed in the Bible, i. e., adultery.

"Incompatibility!" he jeered. "Who can't cook up a case of incompatibility! Why, I get incompatible with my wife every once in a while."

The Rev. Mr. Graham also scored the motion picture industry as a cause of the nation's moral decadence and described Hollywood as "the cesspool of the world."

Court Coming Monday With Judge Thurmond

The docket for the March term of criminal court which convenes here Monday morning with newly-elected Judge Strom Thurmond of Edgefield presiding, lists 42 cases. This is the largest docket in the memory of Clerk Court Hugh T. Boyd who has held the office since 1925.

The average for this term in numbers was that of last March when 39 cases were docketed. The average for a Newberry court is about 25 cases, according to Dr. Boyd.

Of the 42 cases to be tried next week, 13 are for violation of liquor laws. The large number of these cases is a result of a raid by state and federal officers working with local officers a few weeks ago when eight offenders were taken in.

Other cases are, housebreaking and petit larceny, five; assault and battery of high and aggravated nature, four; assault and battery with intent to kill, three; non-support, three; grand larceny, two; operation of liquor still, one; false pretense, one; highway robbery, one; and nine are for miscellaneous offenses.

The Rev. J. B. Harman was called to Senoia which is about 45 miles below Atlanta, to conduct funeral services today (Thursday) at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Harman was Mr. Bedenbaugh's pastor in Senoia about 24 years ago.

COUNTY-WIDE CONTESTS TO BE HELD IN APRIL

The annual county-wide high school declamation and expression contests will be held Friday evening, April 1. The boys will speak at the Junior high school building at 8 o'clock. The girls' expression contest will be held at the Senior high school building, also at 8 o'clock.

The Intermediate Reading contest for boys and girls of the county of the sixth and seventh grades will be held April 2, at 10 a. m. at the Senior high school building.

The Grammar grades reading contest, in which boys and girls from all over the county in the third, fourth, and fifth, grades are eligible will be held also on April 2 at 10 a. m. at the Junior high school building.

Prizes for all contest winners will be furnished by the Newberry County Education Association.

SMITH PUSHES CROP SUBSIDY

Washington, March 15.—Chakman Ellison D. Smith (Democrat) south Carolina, of the senate agriculture committee, introduced a bill today amending the new crop control act to permit immediate payment of a $130,000,000 subsidy to cotton farmers.

He said that the fund which was made available under the third deficiency act in 1937, would be used to pay farmers agreeing to comply with the 1938 agricultural adjustment program a two-cent per pound subsidy on their 1937 crop.

Introduction of the measure followed a request by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace for legislation to speed up the 1937 payments, which he said were being blocked by a ruling of the comptroller general.

Wallace explained that the comptroller general held that producers wishing to obtain the payments on loan cotton transferred to the commodity credit corporation must prove actual compliance with instead of agreement to obey, the new 1938 crop control program.

He emphasized that 92 per cent of the 1,200,000 cotton farmers in last Saturday's referendum voted to impose marketing restrictions on the commodity this year, indicating a widespread desire to co-operate in the new plan, and urged that steps be taken to grant the 1937 payments quickly.

He proposed that title to the cotton remain with the producer so that he might benefit from future price increases or premiums arising because his cotton reached a higher grading basis than established on the original loan basis.

"If congress wishes to authorize the making of cotton price adjustment payments in advance of compliance with the 1938 agricultural adjustment program, it is believed that this can be accomplished with a more equitable result to all cotton producers by authorizing the immediate payment, to all cotton producers upon the agreement to comply with the 1938 program," he said.

The payments could be made in late spring or early summer if the legislation is enacted, Wallace said.

DIXIE CUP PLANT IS NOW IN OPERATION

Production was begun last week at the new Dixie-Vortex plant at Darlington. Sixty-five per cent of the employees of the new plant will consist of women and it is estimated that within a few weeks 100 men and women will be at work in the new plant, earning a combined wage of something like $6,000 monthly.

So far as we know here the only reason for locating the plant at Darlington was that the owners were sold out of the city by its progressive commercial organization.

DR. GRADY CALLISON SPEAKS TO KIWANIANS

Dr. H. Grady Callison, member of the State Board of Health, spoke on "Progress of Public Health Work in South Carolina" Wednesday at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Newberry Hotel.

The speaker outlined how many contagious and infectious diseases having been controlled or greatly reduced by county health units along the lines of inoculation, sanitation, and education.

Dr. Callison was for eight years health doctor of Newberry county. He was also a former member of the local Kiwanis Club.

At the Wednesday meeting, 17 of the 20 members of the Club were present. Miss Rose Hamm, pianist, was also present and accompanied the group in singing a group of songs.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

20 YEARS AGO

The Charleston News and Courier published the following communication from I. B. Armfield, room-mate at the Citadel of Lieut. Oace Coleman, who according to all accounts thus far received, was decorated a week ago yesterday by the premier of France for bravery on the battlefield:

To the editor of the News and Courier. Particularly gratifying to his many friends and former associates was the news of the recent honor bestowed upon Lieut. W. O. Coleman, when he received the Croix de Guerre from the hands of Premier Clemenceau, of France. Few these he who attain to such instantaneous and universal renown and that being the case, it occurred to me, that your readers would no doubt appreciate a more personal view of this newly-made hero.

Lieut. Coleman, a member of my class, was my roommate during our freshman year at the Citadel and during this period of travail (those who were of us in those days will appreciate the allusion) ample opportunity was afforded me to learn Coleman as few were privileged to know him.

This friendship continued throughout his two years at the Citadel and when he retired from our ranks it was my conviction that our class had lost one of its most promising members. His recent decoration demonstrates that the conviction was well founded.

Kind, sincere and accommodating, Coleman readily became a favorite with those of his estate. Above all, he relished a good joke and was ever on the alert to "pull" one on some of the boys for the delectation of the others. His buoyant spirit and clean humor were a constant source of amusement and joy to all.

No one carried a grudge around Coleman for long. Then, when any of these lads needed a sympathetic hand or kindly adviser, he was ready to aid and advise as he had been to amuse and regale. No one ever asked anything within the range of possibility of Coleman and was refused. Nothing was too good for his friends, with whom he would divide his last dollar—and not ask for an order on the "Q. M." as security, either. Towards those whom he disliked he was courteous, magnanimous and just. I shall illustrate this statement by an actual occurrence, for concrete examples are more impressive than abstract statements:

It is, or was, written law at the Citadel that when cadets disagree and wish to visit summary corporal punishment upon each other that the nearest cadet shall intervene and (Continued on page five)

LUTHER LEAGUE MEETING

The regular Spring meeting of the Newberry district Luther League will be held at Colony Lutheran church on Sunday, March 20. At the morning session, Rev. M. L.
