OUT AMONG THE PEOPLE

JAMES HARE IS SPEAKER

James Hare, son of Mr. and Mrs. Butler B. Hare of Saluda, will represent Newberry College in the State Oratorical contest to be held Friday evening, April 1, at the College of Charleston.

In 1935 William Buford, representing Newberry, won first place in the state intercollegiate contest. The next two years, Newberry was represented by Benard Wise who placed third both years.

WILL RUN IF HE CAN GET CASH

Lamar Dominick of the Chappells section here to attend court and subscribe to the Sunpaper said he would be in the race for the House this summer if he could raise the cash for the campaign. Mr. Dominick said he was anxious to tell the people "what ailed them." The proverbial pot will start boiling soon what with the county convention only about four or five weeks away. County politics will be tame this year however as only a few offices are to be filled.

BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

Herman Langford and Harry Vigodsky both report business better than last year. Since these firms face each other we are just wondering which is taking his cue from which and we are tempted to do some looting up that way and find out how it's done.

TOO CLOSE HOME

George Dominick by to tell us of some Negro spectators making haste to get out of the court house when Judge Thurmond began to hand out some stiff sentences. They remarked it was "getting too hot" in there.

CONDITION SERIOUS

The condition of Andrew Langford, aged resident of the city, is said to be very serious. He has lost partial use of his limbs and is unable to speak.

WARNS FASCISM MAY SWEEP ENTIRE WORLD

New York, March 22.—Dr. Stephen S. Wise said on returning from Europe today that "vacillating democratic nations" may soon find themselves helpless before the tide of fascism.

"If democracies continue to muddle as they have since 1933, fascism will win the world over," said Rabbi Wise, who is president of the Zionist organization in America.

He said he could not describe "the shock that decent public opinion in Europe suffered over the rape of Austria."

JOLLY STREET GETS SET FOR THE GREAT AMERICAN GAME

The chairman of the board of directors announces that there will be a practice game of baseball on the Jolly Street diamond Saturday, the 26th at 2:30 o'clock. All candidates that are interested, please be present for a big work-out.

Jolly Street has entered the "Saluda Valley League" this season. The fans are expecting some fast ball in this league.

The Jolly Street, Newberry and Saluda teams withdrew from the Dutch Fork league at a recent meeting on account of a difficult proposition. At a meeting in Saluda Saturday night these teams entered the "Saluda Valley League" composed of the following teams, Saluda, Jolly Street, Newberry, Mollohon, Camp Bradley and Matthews Mill, Greenwood. Officers are: W. F. Herlong, Saluda, president; Ben McCartha, Newberry, vice-president; Clarence Metts, Jolly Street, secretary and treasurer.

The O'Shanghnessy plan was adopted and the four winning teams will play off the final series. Indications pointed to this league being faster than the Dutch Fork league. The league season will officially open April 23 and end August 20.

Smith Amendment Provides 3 Cents Last Year's Crop

Washington, March 21.—The senate agriculture committee has unanimously approved Senator Smith's bill amending the recently enacted farm law and authorized Senator Smith, the chairman, to report the measure to the senate on Monday.

Among the important provisions of the bill, is the amendment authorizing the immediate payment of the $130,000,000 cotton subsidy which was authorized by congress last summer. As originally enacted, the cotton producers were required to show compliance with the 1938 program before they could get their check. Under the new Smith amendment, this condition is totally eliminated and the farmer only has to agree to cooperate in the program for this year. Secretary Wallace, in a recent letter to Senator Smith, said the adoption of this proposal would speed up the payment of these price adjustment payments by at least two or three months.

Another outstanding provision in the bill is the one relating to the freezing, or the holding off the market of certain cotton which is now held as collateral by the government for the loans made on last year's crop.

This amendment provides that the government will pay 1-4 cent per pound to any person who has obtained loan on cotton produced in 1937, if such produce will transfer to the government his title to the cotton.

The purpose of giving this $1.25 bonus to persons having loan cotton is to remove from the channels of trade a part of the enormous surplus that now so seriously menaces the entire cotton world.

In commenting on this amendment Smith said: "Unless the government owns and controls the production of cotton, it cannot control the price of cotton. It cannot control the price of cotton until it has sufficient to liquidate the government's investment, we may not hope for any substantial increase in the price of cotton for the 1938 crop and possibly the 1939.

"The objective of my amendment is to make certain that the market will not be flooded with this surplus crop. As a proof of this the market went up at least five dollars a bale between the passage of my previous amendment on the 2 cent basis and promptly lost it on the ruling of the comptroller general, invalidating this provision."

Three-Cent Subsidy Smith said further, "It must be clearly understood that this present amendment in no way affects the early payment of the 3 cent subsidy. This quarter of a cent, taking care of interest, insurance and storage, is an additional bonus for the farmer to relinquish his ownership of cotton which is under a 1937 loan."

Another amendment in the bill provides for the more equitable allotments of cotton acreage to farms in counties where the requirement for allotments to small farms is exceptionally large. Since the enactment of the farm law it has developed that certain medium sized farmers will be given allotments which are obviously unfair. In order to remedy this situation the committee agreed to increase the states' allotments by 2 percent. This additional acreage will be apportioned among farmers which the local committees determine to have inadequate allotments in view of past production of cotton.

This provision will materially assist such counties in South Carolina as Horry, Georgetown, Jasper, Berkeley, Charleston and Beaufort. Senator Smith said he would confer with Majority Leader Barkley in an effort to arrange for the consideration of this bill at the earliest possible moment.

Ensrud Musicians Head

Professor Paul Ensrud, head of the Newberry College Music Department, was named president of the State Music Teachers association at the annual meeting of the association last Friday at the Greenville Woman's College in Greenville. Miss Rose Hamm, also of this city, who teaches music in the city schools, was elected secretary of the group.

Music teachers and leaders from all over the state were present for the meeting which is held just before the State Teacher's Convention each year.

Professor Ensrud had charge of the organ study of the program. He was assisted by William Fugh, College student.

Professors Milton Moore and John Erickson, also of the College music staff, appeared on the program.

Mr. Ensrud will serve as president of the Association one year.

Many Pretty Girls Will Compete For Free Trip To Charleston Azalea Festival

At Opera House, Night of Friday, April 1st

Everyone knows that Newberry has a host of pretty girls and The Sun, co-operating with The Opera House is going to select one of them to carry off honors at the Azalea Festival at Charleston.

The Fashion and Beauty Show will be staged at The Opera House Friday night, April 1st. Manager Wells is making elaborate preparations for the big event. A new feature this year will be a revolving stage upon which the girls will pose, thus showing off their gowns and their beauty to best advantage.

Selection by Ballot One of the girls to represent Newberry at the Festival which begins April 22 and runs through the 27th, will be chosen by means of ballot, thus insuring complete fairness. Each merchant will have two or more models and will be given an advertising "plug" at the appearance of each of his models as they appear on the revolving stage.

Royal Entertainment The young lady fortunate enough to be chosen will spend a glorious week in historic Charleston. She will be entertained at one of Charleston's finest tourist hotels; dance to the rhythm of Glenn Gray's Casa Loma orchestra, and have an all-round fine time. Age limitations are 18 to 25 years.

Night of Friday, April 1 In addition to the Beauty and Fashion show The Opera House offers a fine entertainment for the price of the regular admission. Those interested in the young ladies who have been nominated or others who may appear, are asked to keep this date in mind so that they may be present and vote for their favorite young lady.

Some Nominations A solicitation of friends has resulted in the following nominations who will model for the various firms represented. This is only a partial list and any young lady between the ages of 18-25 is welcomed to participate, and may do so by phoning The Sun, at No. 1, or contacting the management of the Opera House:

DR. A. L. GUNTER TO CONDUCT SERVICES HERE

Dr. A. L. Gunter, presiding elder of the Columbia district of the Methodist church, has been secured by the Central Methodist congregation for special evangelistic services following the Easter season.

Dr. Gunter is a graduate of Newberry college and was active in church work while he was a student in the city.

He is one of the outstanding ministers in the state and has held most acceptably many of the leading pastorates in the Upper South Carolina conference. His coming to Newberry will be eagerly anticipated by many of all faiths.

BIG PRIZES OFFERED

The local Nehi Bottling company is cooperating in a $50,000 contest to further popularize their fast-selling R-C Cola. Details of the contest will be found on an inside page of this issue. No particular skill is needed it is pointed out, to win a prize in this contest and the only condition is that a crown from a bottle of R-C Cola be enclosed with each solution. Horace Swittenberg, manager of the local plant says much interest has been shown in the contest, with the result that sales of this popular drink is sharply on the increase.

BEN S. HARMAN DIES AT A COLUMBIA HOSPITAL

The Rev. Julian B. Harman of this city was called to Saluda Saturday to attend the funeral of his brother, B. S. Harman, 60, farmer and stock dealer of Saluda county. ASKS CONGRESS TO VISIT CHARLESTON

Washington, March 21.—Representative McMillan (D-S. C.) today invited 125 members of the house to attend the fifth annual Azalea festival in Charleston, S. C., April 22 to 24.

The invitations were extended on behalf of Mayor Burnet Maybank and the city of Charleston. A special train has been chartered by the city to accommodate the Congressional party.

McMillan said Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead had tentatively agreed to recess Congress over the week-end of April 21.

SUFFERS HEAD INJURY IN SUNDAY WRECK

The condition of Amos Shealy, son of Mrs. J. B. Shealy of 717 Wright street, was reported today to be fair. Mr. Shealy, who is in the local hospital, sustained serious head injuries Sunday night when the car in which he and four other young men were riding collided with a truck driven by Grady Graham, at the intersection of Nance and Harrington streets, at the fire house corner.

An automobile consumes five times as much oil when it travels 52 miles an hour as when it travels 33 miles an hour, according to a recent study.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

20 YEARS AGO

Paris.—Cheered by the vast throngs and hailed by the French as the "organizer of victory," Newton D. Baker, secretary of war of the United States, arrived in Paris today. He was met by the "executor of victory," General Pershing. His first visits were to President Poincaré and Premier Clemenceau, the American commander-in-chief introducing him. After a brief stay in the capital, the secretary will proceed to the front. He will make a thorough inspection of the American sectors and training camps, but will also see every other vital segment of the Western battle line.

The Newberry Y. P. C. U. has for its president, Mr. James C. Kinard, who was sent last year as South Carolina's representative to the Y. P. C. U. convention in North Carolina. Under his leadership, the Newberry Union is doing good work.

Eight hundred thousand men are to be called to the colors gradually during the present year under the second army draft, which begins on March 29. An announcement today by Provost Marshal General Crowder of the number to be called was followed closely by an order for the mobilization of 95,000 men during the five-day period beginning March 29.

Washington, March 20.—Today's international developments as revealed at the White House and the state department were officially declared to show that the only hope of World Peace now rests with the determination of the United States and the entente powers to wipe out Kaiserism.

Vitagraph's stupendous melodrama serial of adventure, "Vengeance and the Woman," is getting a gripper hold on the public. The sea of people at the Opera House overflowed throughout the presentations.

The ninth episode will be shown Saturday. If you don't want to be bothered by the jam crowd, go early and get a front seat.

Little Charles Bowers, only six years old, but 100 per cent true blue in his loyalty, ran into the house one day last week with a paper in his hand exclaiming that he had good news—the Kaiser was dead, had been killed. He said the headlines in the paper stated that the Kaiser had been run over by a street car. In addition to his brightness, Charles has a keen imagination and much humor.

Miss Sara Davis, a charming young lady of the city, joined the Coke contingent at Abbeville yesterday, and after a few hours' pleasant visiting, returned to the exacting duties of college life.

RECENT ARRIVALS
