Camp 7 To Observe Anniversary of CCC

Five birthday candles will gleam at CCC Camp S. C. 7 on April 3rd and 5th when the camp will pause in its program of demonstrating soil conservation methods to observe the fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Plans for an "open house" to which everyone is invited include a tour of representative farms in the area. The camp will be open to inspection on Sunday April 3rd from 2 to 5 P. M., and on Monday April 4th from 1:30 to 3:30 P. M.

Erosion control work on cooperating farms in the camp area has now reached a stage where the coordinated program is readily apparent, Superintendent T. B. Amis said. The work shows up particularly well at this season of the year, he pointed out.

Visitors during the anniversary observance will have an opportunity to see such farming practices as strip cropping, terracing, pasture improvement work, reforestation, woodland and wildlife management, and other methods of erosion control which have been established on cooperating farms in the area.

The importance of conserving human resources through employment of enrollees in healthful, outdoor work, should not be overlooked as an important phase of the CCC program, Superintendent Amis commented.

Enrollees are not only doing valuable work in demonstrating soil conservation methods, but they are also preparing themselves through job training courses for other work when their period is over, he pointed out. They are acquiring the viewpoint of conservationists which will stay with them throughout life, he added.

ST. PHILIPS NOTES

Church Notes

On Sunday afternoon we had the enjoyment of hearing a sermon by Rev. J. B. Harman. His text was from Ephesians, 5th chapter, 1st verse. One important fact that I want to call to your attention is that you hear it said of a person "once a man twice a child." If you are faithful you are always the child of God. It makes no difference whether you are an aged person or young child, you are the child of God. The more you are increasing in knowledge the more you are increasing in eternal life.

How sad it seems to me when fathers and mothers do not take interest in taking their children to church. Do you not remember the solemn promise when you stood before the altar.

Rev. Emmett Ruff has accepted work at this charge. He was called a few weeks ago. I understand that he has been preaching at Fairfax for six years and that this was his first charge since he finished his course at the seminary.

I understand the people regret very much his leaving. He will move about the 14th or 15th of April. His first sermon will be preached at St. Paul's; an Easter service on the 16th and 17th; at St. Philips on the 4th Sunday at 11 o'clock; Bachman Chapel on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. I feel sure we will be pleased with his work.

Rev. J. B. Harman will preach his last sermon for us the 2nd Sunday in April at 3:30 o'clock. We regret very much to give him up but we realize that we need a pastor.

You will notice that the Ruffs in Lexington spell their names different from the ones in Newberry. When they came from the old country they all spelled their names "Ruff" and some of those who settled in Lexington decided to spell it like it sounds, thus "Roof." But the ones that settled in Newberry kept the same name, so you see that is the difference.

Local Firm Sponsors Safe Driving Campaign

The most widespread "Drive Safely Crusade" in North and South Carolina history gets under way on Friday, April 1, it was revealed today by Wiley L. Moore, President of the Pure Oil company of the Carolinas.

Mr. Moore, stating the purpose of the plan, said that the Crusade is being undertaken in an effort to reduce the accident toll on our highways and streets. "Our aim is to get every motorist thinking about safety," he said, "safe-driving, observing road, and highway rules. In 1937, in the United States, 39,700 people were killed on the highways and 1,360,000 people injured.

Details of the Crusade, will be announced in newspapers throughout the state this week, Mr. Moore said. The first step for participation in the Crusade, which will be open to everyone without cost or obligation, will come in the signing of a pledge to drive safely and to observe the Golden Rule of the road. Pledge signers will then be given license plate emblems signifying that the car driver has "pledged to drive safely."

We will make this Crusade a sustained, concerted attack on careless driving," Mr. Moore said. "As a further incentive, we want suggestion from motorists on what should be done to make people more safety conscious. The newspaper announcements will cover this point in detail, for then will be announced the rules of the contest which will run during the month of April. Seventy-five cash prizes are being offered, with a first prize of $250.00, a second prize of $100.00, and 73 other awards for the best safety slogans of ten words or less. The cash awards for the April contest in North and South Carolina total $1,000.00."

Mr. Moore, long prominent in civic educational, charitable and industrial circles, is devoting his time and energy to leading the Crusade. Many organizations and prominent public officials from all parts of the state have promised enthusiastic support as co-sponsors for the Crusade, he said. Drive Safely pledge cards will be obtainable from Woco-Pep (Purrol-Pep) dealers, and contest entry blanks will also be obtainable at the same sources.

"It is not our thought or intention to permit this 'Drive Safely' crusade to be commercialized in any way" Mr. Moore announced, "and I have instructed all of our distributors, dealers, and service station operators not to ask any motorist to make purchases of any kind when people come to our stations to secure pledge cards and prize contest entry blanks."

In Newberry county, Mr. C. D. (Pete) Coleman, local representative of the Pure Oil company is directing the "Drive Safely" crusade activities.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

20 YEARS AGO

New York.—A message from David Lloyd George, prime minister of Great Britain, calling upon the United States to send "American reinforcements across the Atlantic in the shortest possible space of time," was read tonight by Lord Reading, British high commissioner to the United States, at a dinner given here in his honor. "We are at the crisis of the war and time is vital. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of getting reinforcements across the Atlantic in the shortest space of time."

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the College will be preached Sunday, June 2, by the Rev. Charles S. Bauslin, D. D. of Harrisburg, Pa. Dr. Bauslin is general secretary for the Board of education of the Lutheran General Synod, and an experienced and popular preacher. His father is the Rev. David H. Bauslin, who preached the baccalaureate sermon at the college several years ago. The governor, Hon. Richard I. Manning, has accepted the invitation to speak on Tuesday night of Commencement week.

Mr. Henry Wells has lost his watch fob and will thank the finder to return it to him. Gold with Masonic emblem on one side and an Old English W on the other.

One thing the Spartanburg Journal would like to know and that we don't know is what has become of the old-fashioned editor who was afraid to eat cornbread because it might give him pellagra.

About the first of this year the high schools of South Carolina organized the South Carolina Debating League. Friday evening, March 25, was the date selected for the first debate. Newberry's affirmative met Winsboro's negative at Little Mountain. The judges decided in favor of the Newberry teams in each contest. Clark Floyd and Edwin Setzler as debaters and Mary Frances Jones as captain composed the affirmative team for Newberry.

Harold Hipp and William McSwain as debaters and Mary Alice Suber as captain upheld the negative side of the question for Newberry.

Washington, March 29.—Rumors which were current here today that Representative Lever would tomorrow issue a statement to the Democratic voters of South Carolina to the effect that he would not become a candidate for the United States Senate this year were emphatically denied today by him.

When the fine and beautiful Exchange Bank Building is completed and the old telephone poles are removed to make way for the underground system, Newberry will seem more like "blossoming as the rose" this summer.
