A TRUE FISH STORY

We have told so many fish lies that it is necessary to say here that this one is true. John Oxner came by the office Monday afternoon to relate that he had caught a three pound bass near Black's bridge and upon cleaning the fish found a hard shell turtle in its stomach. Mr. Oxner brought the stomach, the turtle inside of it, for proof. The turtle was about two inches wide and three inches long. We have told so many fish lies mule. We hope this isn't true. We don't mind about Bill for he's rich, but to take a mule from a poor man like Jim right now when he is try-ing to make a crop and bread for his babies just doesn't seem right.

Mr. Senn championed the removal of the 5 mill levy and was one of a group which went to the governor and urged him to veto the 2 mills left on by the Senate. Mr. Senn stated to this writer that he wished to remain in the house to continue his work on a number of important bills, one of which is the diversion of an additional 1 c of the gasoline tax. He also favors exemption of homesteads in a reasonable amount from taxation and would take care of the loss of this revenue by broadening the scope of the luxury tax, and perhaps a few

ST. PHILIP'S NOTES

Oakland Baptist Have

The official opening of the new building of Hunt Memorial Baptist church at Oakland mill village, of which Rev. C. M. Johnson is pastor, will be held Sunday, June 5.

Hunt Memorial was organized in 1913 with only a few members and was known at that time as the Oakland Baptist church. The members at first had no church building, but along with the Methodists of the along with the Methodists of the community, shared a room over a store building, but only for a short time. The mill company which was at that time headed by the late Col. Walter H. Hunt, built a church building and allowed the two congregations to share the structure. A union Sunday school was organized and continued through the years until the present occupancy of the new building by the Baptists.

Took Jim's MULE, TOO

We were slightly in error last week when we stated that Gene Spearman had taken Bill Waters' cow, it was his mule. And it is said Gene has also taken Jim Johnson's mule. We hope this isn't true. We

For several years, members of both the Baptist and Methodist congregations have thought it would be to the benefit of all concerned if one congregation could build and allow congregation could build and allow the other to occupy the old building. This was felt to be almost necessary because, even though an addition had been made meanwhile to the original structure, it was entirely too small to meet the needs of the two con-gregations. In the summer of 1937, gregations. In the summer of 1937, a joint meeting of the stewards of the Methodist and deacons of the Baptist congregations, along with the pastors of both, was held, and this group worked out an agreement whereby the Baptist would erect a new building and the Methodist continue in the old. Mill officials were also present at the meeting H P

Since the Baptist group had not been setting money aside for such a project, it was no little undertaking. However, friends came forward and assisted and the Methodist eagerly rallied to the cause. Help also came from Mrs. Walter H. Hunt, widow of Colonel Hunt, for whom the new shurch has been named.
